Facilities Back Plea for Arms Plants.

The Problem

Priority difficulties threaten shutdowns for 3,500 Chicagoland plants employing 70,000 men. Huge armament contracts are being let in Washington, D. C., but the Chicago area is getting only $320 per industrial worker, compared with thousands of dollars per worker in many other cities. To use its tremendous production capacity, and to prosper now and in the postwar emergency, Chicagoland must have more government contracts and more plants.

BY HAL FOUST.

A transportation system that is the best in the land complements THE TRIBUNE'S campaign to get more industry for Chicagoland in the government's expanding armament production program. Unsurpassed rail, water, highway and air facilities write an "I CAN" supplement to the motto "I WILL," in Chicago's bid for new plants and for war contracts that will keep open its 3,500 small plants threatened by governmental priorities.

Chicago's Motto.

This six county manufacturing district is the world's greatest railroad center. In Cook, Will, Lake, Du Page, and Kane counties, in Illinois, and Lake county, Indiana, there are 7,850 miles of tracks. This is more than the total trackage of 39 of the 48 states.

22 Big Railroads Serve City.

To receive materials and to distribute products, the area is served by 22 railroads operating passenger and freight trains thruout the United States. Cross country rail systems have termini here.

For terminal facilities there are 15 belt line railroads. Extensive cartage and loading equipment serve the Chicago shipper.

Daily, at this center of America's railroad system, there are movements of 369 thru trains, 925 suburban trains, and 15,000 freight cars.

Thirty major highways converge at this industrial capital of America, as do 95 other pavements important to trade.

Water Transport Heavy.

For low cost water transportation, Chicago with its industrial suburbs is the only city with direct access to both the Great Lakes and the Mississippi-Missouri-Ohio waterway system. In normal times, 26 million tons of raw and finished goods are handled annually in Chicago's regional ports and inland waterways. Twenty-six steamship lines call at its five harbors.

Eight principal air lines connect Chicago with every major city in the United States.

Pipe lines transport oil, gas, and gasoline to Chicagoland. Nine refineries in the Chicago area have a capacity to run 206,000 barrels of crude and to crack 190,000 barrels of gasoline daily.

Well Placed for Distribution.

For national distribution—America's army is scattered in cantonments thruout the country—the armament plant in Chicago has less distance to ship than do plants in other sections of the United States.

For the first essential of production, fuel, ample supplies are conveniently located. Illinois is third among all coal producing states.

Illinois also produces a gallonage of oil exceeded by only two other states.

The basic raw material for war production, iron, arrives by ship from Lake Superior, from the same mines that also supply Pittsburgh. The steel ingot mills in the Chicago area have a capacity of 14 million tons annually.

Chicago can say "I CAN" as well as "I WILL." And it might add "I MUST," because it needs new industries and more contracts—not only to curb "priority unemployment" but also to be strong in the economic crisis that is expected to follow the war emergency.

PENNSYLVANIAN LEAVES TRACK IN OHIO; 44 HURT

Several Chicagoans Among Injured.

The train, known as the Pennsylvanian, a 17-hour Chicago to New York express, left Chicago at 5:30 p. m. with 77 passengers, 49 in Pullman cars and 28 in coaches. Many of the passengers were Chicagoans, several of whom were injured.

Four Bodies Identified.

Several hours after the wreck, which occurred at 10:19 p. m., only four of the bodies had been identified. Among them were J. L. Gephart, Fort Wayne, Ind., the fireman, who was decapitated. R. E. Schuler, Fort Wayne, the engineer, lost a finger. The train was in charge of Conductor T. A. Short, also of Fort Wayne.

After leaving the rails several hundred yards west of the intersection of the Pennsylvania and New York Central lines, which cross at right angles on the outskirts of Dunkirk, the locomotive plowed into a switch tower. The tower collapsed on top of the locomotive.

Cliff Schwartzcupp, second trick operator in the tower, who had come down to the track level when his relief operator, Bucky Davis, reported for the third trick, said he noticed the locomotive swaying from side to side when it was several hundred yards west of the intersection. Then the locomotive left the rails and plunged toward the tower. The operators fled and escaped injury.

Car Tips Over on Its Side.

Oliver Goodwin of Lima, O., a Pennsylvania railroad fireman, was riding in the combination baggage and passenger car immediately behind the locomotive. He said he heard a screeching sound and knew something was wrong.

"I jumped to a window," he said, "and saw sparks flying from the wheels. Then the car started to shake and just tipped over on its side."

Guy Davis, an advertising executive, of Arlington Heights, Ill., and Harold Wood of Altoona, Pa., who were riding in the lounge car, third from the locomotive, told similar stories.

Rushes Into Corridor.

"I was playing bridge in the lounge car," said Davis, "when I heard a crash in the front of the train. I ran into the corridor thinking to avoid flying furniture, but when the car began to jolt over the ties, I grabbed a window and hung on.

"When the car stopped moving most of the passengers were on the floor and the car was tilted at an angle of 70 degrees. I climbed up the slope and out of a window. Several persons in the car were cut. One of them was an elderly woman.

"I heard the wheels whine and got out into the aisle," said Wood. "When the car rolled over, another fellow (Davis) and I kicked

CHICAGO POLICE HUNT KIDNAPER

Trail Red-Headed Suspect to Maywood.

Search for the redhaired gunman in an army uniform who kidnaped and attacked a country school teacher Friday centered in the Chicago area last night after he was traced as far as the bus station at 6th avenue and Lake street in Maywood.

Chicago and Maywood police were coöperating in the search for the kidnaper.

Two bus drivers gave the leads that narrowed the search. The fugitive was last reported seen at 4 a. m. Saturday, about 10 hours after Miss Marian Noel, 26 years old, a teacher at Shirland in Winnebago county, escaped from him.

Invades Her Car.

Miss Noel reported that her attacker, about 18 years of age, 6 feet tall, and weighing about 190 pounds, stepped into her car at Rockford, Friday. He forced her at revolver point to drive to about four miles west of Dixon. There he took money from her purse, bound her hands and legs with straps, and beat her.

The bandit drove to near Morrison in Whiteside county. The car mired in the mud and when he got out to push it free, Miss Noel worked free of her bonds and drove away.

About 9:30 p. m. Friday the suspect walked to the Whiteside county poor farm thru a snowstorm. C. B. Carney, superintendent, not knowing of the crime, fed him and arranged for a Chicago bound bus to stop for him.

Goes to Maywood.

Paul Phillips, 902 North Austin boulevard, Oak Park, the bus driver, told police he picked up the redhaired passenger and carried him to De Kalb. There Paul Haak, of Broadview, another bus driver, picked him up at 1:30 a. m. Saturday and drove him to the Maywood station.

Haak said the passenger's uniform was torn and muddy and that he had no baggage.

Rockford police said a traveling bag found in Miss Noel's car after the kidnaping contained a diary bearing the name "Robert S. Jackson," which was shown by other notations to be an alias for William Lomar McKinney.

Stalin's Letter Bares Plan for Meeting with President

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 9 (AP).—Joseph Stalin has promised to try to arrange a personal meeting with President Roosevelt, it was disclosed here today with publication of the soviet premier's message accepting the United States loan of one billion dollars to Russia.

Such a meeting obviously could not be arranged for any date in the near future because of Stalin's preoccupation with the conflict against Germany.

[A paraphrase of Stalin's message, released in Washington last Thursday when the loan was announced, made no reference to a possible meeting between the American and soviet leaders.]

Cabinet Members' Messages.

The press published messages received on last Friday's anniversary of the Red revolution from American notables including Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, and Lend-Lease Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, who attended the three-power Moscow aid conference.

Hopkins said: "We are unanimous in our firm intention to afford you all the resources we have. We are unanimous in the realization of the fact that we are forever indebted to the Russian people for their almost superhuman steadfastness in the fight."

"Have Taken Fighting Post."

The radio carried an article by N. Sergeyeva, American affairs expert for Pravda, organ of the communist party, who said:

"Americans have taken their fighting post. American production will throw the balance decisively in favor of the anti-Hitler nations."

KARELIAN ANSWERS HULL

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 9.—The Finnish press today published another reply to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, of the United States, written by the Karelian author, Ontoni Mishkal, whose books have been best sellers here for years.

"The government of the United States has demanded that Finland withdraw her troops from my native country, East Karelia," he wrote. "Do the people of the United States understand that the Finnish army has not conquered the country but liberated it? That we Karelians speak the same tongue as the Finns, that we are flesh of their flesh and blood of their blood?

Want Self-Determination.

"Do the American people understand that we are basing ourselves on the principle of self-determination for all nations as laid down in assemblies held by our popular representatives who announced our will to separate from the bolshevik state? That we in the years from 1918 to 1932 endeavored to acquire our liberty at the cost of our blood and our lives fighting many bitter battles with our oppressors and enslavers?

"Is it the intention now that we should be handed back to the horrible vengeance of the bolshevik GPU [secret police]? Is it the intention that we should be wiped out as a community? Is it indeed desired that our churches, only recently reopened should again be defiled and converted into centers of evil? That would be the consequence if Finland should follow the suggestion that the United States has presented to her.

"The great nation of America values its own liberty highly. My small nation loves it above all. The people of America are rich and mighty. My Karelian people are the poorest of the poor and the weakest of the weak, but they still want to live."

ROOSEVELT'S DENUNCIATION OF RUSSIA

President Roosevelt in an address to the American Youth Congress in Washington on Feb. 10, 1940, said:

"The soviet union, as a matter of practical fact, known to you and known to all the world, is a dictatorship as absolute as any other dictatorship in the world. It has allied itself with another dictatorship and it has invaded a neighbor (Finland) so infinitesimally small that it could do no injury to the soviet union, and seeks only to live in peace as a democracy, and a liberal and forward looking democracy at that."

YANKS' SMOKES POUR IN; DRIVE GATHERS SPEED

"Smokes for Yanks!"

Corner newspaper dealers and bankers, bus drivers and merchants, waitresses and women of wealth joined in the movement yesterday. They sent dimes and they sent checks, they sent packages of cigarets and cigarets by the carton to help Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in the campaign for cigarets and tobacco for the men of the American armed forces on duty in the Atlantic from Iceland to the Caribbean sea.

American Legion leaders attending their Cook County council's Armistice commemoration in Medinah temple gave hearty approval to the plan. Representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, recalling the life of service men in wartime, pledged their support.

Establish Receiving Stations.

Business and professional organizations promised their coöperation. Employés followed the example of corporation executives by arranging to establish their own receiving stations for gifts of cigarets and tobacco.

Checks and money to buy cigarets and offers to establish receiving stations poured in from all Chicago and Illinois, and from Indiana, Wisconsin, and Iowa. The funds substantially increased the $1,000 which THE TRIBUNE originally gave to begin the campaign.

George A. Trapp, president, said he Kiwanis club of Chicago will make plans for coöperation at a board meeting tomorrow. Donald T. Forsythe of Carthage, Ill., Kiwanis governor of the Illinois and eastern Iowa Kiwanis district, said he would ask his district's 134 clubs to enlist in the movement.

Victor C. P. Dreiske of Barrington, president of the Chicago Rotary club, said he would present the plan at his club's luncheon tomorrow.

Recalls Dark Days of Last War.

Walter Hautop, chairman of the Chicago Motor Coach Employés' fraternity, prepared to install "Smokes for Yanks!" boxes in the motor coach company's garages. The company's drivers and other patrons already had voluntarily begun contributing cigarets at Jack Rubin's restaurant, 5127 Cottage Grove avenue, near one of the garages.

The dark days of the last war were recalled when Jack Sabetay, veteran TRIBUNE circulation truck driver, became the first contributor among the newspaper's employés with a gift of $10.

Checks for "Smokes for Yanks!" should be sent to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower, Chicago. Cash and gifts of cigarets and tobacco may be brought to THE TRIBUNE'S public service bureaus in Tribune Tower, 435 North Michigan avenue, or at 1 South Dearborn street.

BAG DESTROYER AND TEN SUPPLY SHIPS OFF ITALY

4 Outgunned Boats Raid Convoy.

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP).—Under the guns of a heavier Italian naval force, a British warship patrol early today "annihilated" two convoys, sinking 10 transport vessels and one destroyer and seriously damaging at least one other, according to an admiralty announcement.

Despite the presence of two 10,000 ton Italian cruisers and Italian destroyers at least double their number the British force of two small cruisers and two destroyers came off without a scratch, the admiralty said.

The battle was fought south of Taranto, off the instep of the Italian boot. The British likewise escaped unscathed from a subsequent torpedoplane attack.

[The German radio in a broadcast heard in New York said official circles in Rome denied "British reports about allegedly heavy Italian shipping losses in the Mediterranean."]

13th Italian Destroyer loss.

Capt. W. G. Agnew, known as one of the British navy's outstanding gunnery experts, commanded the British flotilla which appeared on the scene as the two convoys—one of eight supply ships and the other of two—were making a rendezvous, presumably enroute to Libya.

By British count, the destroyer sunk was the 13th lost by Italy.

The fact that the 10 axis ships were given such a strong escort was said to show the Germans and Italians were taking desperate measures to maintain the Libyan armies.

The admiralty called it a "brilliant and determined action" and Prime Minister Churchill sent his congratulations "upon this most important and timely action which gravely interrupts the enemy's supply lines to Africa and impedes his long boasted offensive against the Nile valley."

Guided by Planes.

The prime minister asked the admiralty to "convey my congratulations to all concerned."

The British warships were guided to the scene of action, off Taranto, by the reconnaissance of British planes which sighted one convoy of eight supply ships on its way out of the Italian port, the admiralty account stated. Italian destroyers coursed alongside them.

The scout planes notified their command and the cruisers Aurora and Penelope, 5,000 tons each, and the destroyers Lance and Lively, 1,920 tons each, were ordered to intercept. That was Saturday afternoon.

British Are Outgunned.

"It then found that the large convoy of eight ships escorted by destroyers was being joined by another convoy of two supply ships escorted by two destroyers. The operation was being covered by two powerful 10,000 ton, eight inch gun cruisers of the Trento class.

"Despite the disparity of the force, Capt. Agnew immediately engaged."

The powerful Trento and Trieste are equipped with eight 8 inch guns described as "remarkably powerful weapons with exceptional range," twelve 3.9 inch guns and eight torpedo tubes.

Against this the British cruisers were relatively small craft, with only six 6 inch guns and six torpedo tubes.

"One of the enemy supply ships was an ammunition ship which blew up," the communique said.

While the British were withdrawing from the scene of attack torpedoplanes swooped down on them but, as the admiralty said, "the attack was ineffective and Capt. Agnew's force reached harbor unscathed."

British Bomb Italian Cities.

British planes also pounded Italian cities for the second successive night, hitting Naples, Brindisi, and other points in southern Italy and Sicily. Thirty persons were killed at Brindisi, the Italian high command said. The RAF also intensified its day and night offensive against North Africa.

The bombing of Naples, attacked frequently before, was reported to have the double purpose of striking

SENATOR WARNS 'UNITY' USED AS WAR CATCHWORD

Charges 20 Pct. Seek to Silence Balance.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—Sen. Worth Clark [D., Idaho] asserted in a radio broadcast tonight that the term "national unity" is used as a propaganda catchword by those who want war and want everybody else to agree with them. The term is used by the prowar 20 per cent in their attempts to silence the anti-war 80 per cent, said Sen. Clark.

The Idaho senator spoke over the Mutual Broadcasting system on the American Forum of the Air. Others who discussed the question of national unity were Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], another noninterventionist, and Senators A. B. Chandler [D., Ky.] and Carl A. Hatch [D., N. M.], both interventionists.

All speakers agreed that there is complete national unity for a national defense so strong that no nation or group of nations would dare to attack us.

Charges Issue Confused.

"The difficulty arises, however, when those who would drive us into this war confuse—in some cases deliberately confuse—national defense here at home with trying to lick Hitler on the continent of Europe for the benefit of the mighty British empire," said Sen. Clark.

"On this latter question the people are not united. Far from it. I am quite convinced that fully four-fifths of our people do not wish to engage in Europe's war, and yet one-fifth blatantly do, altho this one-fifth never will face a bullet.

"This, of course, is not unity, and unless the one-fifth can, thru the medium of heavily subsidized propaganda and a lavish expenditure of money, drag the other four-fifths into war, you never will have unity. Of course if the loud and arrogant one-fifth can succeed in obtaining a constitutional declaration of war from the congress, America would unite in a war effort."

Hatch Sees United Country.

Sen. Hatch conceded that "on many fronts that unity does not exist which should exist. There is discord in some places between capital and labor. There are various groups which seek perhaps to take advantage of the present situation."

Hatch insisted, however, that the country is united in support of President Roosevelt's foreign policies.

"The steps which have been taken since this world chaos developed have been taken in the honest conviction and belief that they were the best means to avoid actual shooting war for America," he said. "In that thought we continue to stand united tonight. What the future may hold, no man knows."

Sen. Chandler demanded that opponents of the President's war policy by silenced.

"The critics of the administration's foreign policy, led by Sen. Wheeler, Lindbergh, Sen. Nye, and others, must join immediately in the interest of the welfare of all the people and back the policy of the President," Chandler said. "I admit their right to criticize their government, but that is a right that they ought to be willing to forgo in the interest of national security.

Denies Unity on Shooting.

"Every patriotic man and woman is working for the good of the country, and no unpatriotic man should be permitted to hinder or delay the achievement of an ultimate victory over this ruthless German dictator."

Sen. Nye said:

"There is no unity in the effort to shoot our way into foreign war, as we will do if the house next Thursday accepts the senate proposal to permit our own armed ships to go into war zones and belligerent ports. This constitutes on our part an asking for war.

"There is no unity in approval of the policy which finds us, at peace, wasting and disrupting our own economy in a way that invites that day of reckoning certain to make seem insignificant the crash of 10 years ago; no unity on the thought of tying to the politics of Europe until we can't know who are friends from day to day; no unity in the game of praising Finland one day for courageously fighting Russia to save her sovereignty, and condemning her the next day for trying to regain her lost sovereignty from Russia; no unity where vicious effort prevails to smear and discredit those who seek honestly to save our country from involvement in war.

Cites Destroyer Incidents.

"There can be no unity when leadership surrenders its command of confidence by hiding real purposes with deception. The incident of the Greer is an example of what I have in mind. The President misled the people in his pronouncement of the causes of this incident. The Kearny sinking, to this late day, has not been explained. Is it because the people might disapprove if they knew the truth?"

BADGER DEMOCRAT DENOUNCES NEW DEAL AS A 'LYING' REGIME

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9 [Special].—A Democratic leader tonight called upon Rep. Thaddeus Wasielewski [D., Wis.] from the fourth district to vote against repealing the neutrality act and against President Roosevelt's war policy.

H. William Ihrig, who was one of Wasielewski's strongest supporters in the campaign last year, in a telegram to the congressman, condemned the Roosevelt administration as "lying and irresponsible."

Wasielewski is the only Democratic congressman from Wisconsin and the only one of the state's 10 who has supported the war party. Ihrig declared that if the congressman understood the present feeling in his district, which is predominantly Polish, he would swing from his position to make the entire Wisconsin delegation unanimous against war.

EX-GOV. MURRAY SAYS NEUTRALITY CAN YET BE SAVED

A barrage of letters and telegrams sent to congressmen within the next few days urging them to vote against repeal of the neutrality act would bring a halt to present administration war moves, William H. [Alfalfa Bill] Murray, former governor of Oklahoma, said here yesterday.

Murray, who is en route to Newark, N. J., to address an America First committee anti-war rally on Armistice day, said congress wouldn't dare vote against revision of the neutrality act unless members were convinced an overwhelming majority in the nation favored such a step.

"All congressmen are close followers of public opinion," Murray added. "If enough people write to Washington, D. C., we can stop those administration mad men right now. It all depends upon the amount of mail received before repeal goes to a vote."

YOUNG HUNTER DIES OF WOUNDS.

HOOSIERS FORM STATE UNIT OF AMERICA FIRST

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9 (AP)—Hoosiers in the America First committee formed today what Merle H. Miller of Indianapolis, elected Indiana chairman, said was the first state organization of the committee and cheered a statement of Philip F. La Follette that if he were in congress he would move to impeach President Roosevelt.

La Follette, former Wisconsin governor, said the administration planned to "get deeper and deeper into undeclared war" so that "if congress is ever asked to declare war it will come only after the undeclared war has been raging for months."

In a resolution, the new state organization said, "Responsibility for the death of 100 odd American sailors . . . rests directly on the shoulders of the President" and opposed repeal of "any part of the neutrality act."

BRITISH ADVISE FLIGHT; U. S. AID IN CHINA SURPRISED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONGKONG, Nov. 9.—United States Consul General Addison E. Southard expressed surprise today at reports that the British consul general in Amoy, China, had advised Britons to evacuate Fukien province and Kulangsu before Nov. 15, saying he would refuse thereafter to accept responsibility for their safety. Kulangsu, an island near Amoy, is the site of an international settlement.

"I know nothing about the report," Southard said. "So far as I know American subjects have not been similarly advised."

Southard said most Americans in Fukien province are missionaries. He estimated that about 100 Britons live in Fukien and Kulangsu.

WARN ONE-OCEAN NAVY MAY FACE TWO-OCEAN WAR

Japanese Threat Is Issue in Neutrality Fight.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—With congressional approval of President Roosevelt's shooting war against the axis powers in the Atlantic apparently assured, the peril of war in two oceans with our one ocean navy is made imminent by Japan's forthcoming proffer of final terms for a settlement with the United States.

The prevailing opinion of both American and Japanese authorities is that the Japanese proposals which Saburo Kurusu, a special emissary, is rushing to this country by Clipper plane are foredoomed to rejection by the Roosevelt administration.

Far from considering any concessions to avert war with Japan, the administration is reported to be planning some kind of joint action with Great Britain in the Pacific about the time of Kurusu's arrival here next week-end. Such a display of force might consist of moving the fleet to the British base at Singapore, which would be the springboard of operations in any attempted blockade of Japan.

Plan Recall of Marines.

President Roosevelt's announcement on Friday that the United States is contemplating withdrawal of the marines now stationed in China was no olive branch gesture to Japan, but rather a warning that this country is prepared for the worst, according to interpretations in informed quarters.

The peril of imminent war in two oceans, some four years before the scheduled completion date of our two ocean navy, will be stressed by noninterventionists in the house of representatives this week as their only hope of persuading that body to reject senate amendments to the administration's neutrality repealer.

The house passed the original bill, authorizing only the arming of American merchant ships, by a majority of 121 votes, and administration leaders predict approval of the senate amendments by a majority of 75 or more votes. The senate amendments, approved by that body by a vote of 50 to 37 Friday night, authorize armed American merchant ships with American crews to carry war munitions thru combat zones and directly to the ports of Great Britain, soviet Russia, and other belligerents.

House anti-war leaders conceded today that the administration—as of today—has the votes to concur in the senate amendments, probably by a majority of between 60 and 70 votes. Their only hope of defeating the bill, they said, lies in the possibility of some development which would dramatize the peril of imminent war in Asia and, thru that back door, in Europe as well. The house is expected to vote on the senate amendments Thursday.

New Régime Is Determined.

Relations between Japan and the United States have steadily grown worse since the administration in July virtually suspended all commerce between the two countries. The administration had an opportunity a few weeks ago to achieve a settlement on terms whereby Japan would withdraw from China and renounce her adherence to the tripartite axis alliance. Japan, however, wished to retain two air bases in China and Mr. Roosevelt would not make such a concession. Neither would he recognize Japan's conquest of Manchukuo, completed in 1932.

The Japanese government of Prince Konoe fell as a result of the failure of his efforts to appease Mr. Roosevelt and was succeeded by a government headed by the pro-axis Gen. Tojo on Oct. 18. Now the Japanese apparently are offering their settlement proposals in the nature of an ultimatum, with the determination to go ahead with their expansion program at the risk of war with the United States unless their terms are accepted.

The Japanese attitude has become increasingly belligerent with the progress of German arms in Russia.

Administration officials and naval officers are divided on the question of going to war with Japan. One group insists that it would be playing Hitler's game, as it would interfere with our aid to Britain. The other group demands that Japan be disposed of now, so the United States will not have to worry about the Pacific when it becomes fully engaged in the European war.

Many readers who wish to protest to their congressmen against the scrapping of the neutrality act have requested THE TRIBUNE to publish the names of the representatives who this week will debate and then vote on senate amendments which permit American merchant ships to enter belligerent ports.

THE TRIBUNE herewith responds to these requests by listing the names of the downstate representatives along with the counties in their districts and the address to which letters or telegrams may be sent to them in Washington, D. C. The districts in Cook county are shown on the map printed on this page.

Senate Expands Changes.

The original house vote on Oct. 17 permitted only the arming of American merchant ships. The senate, however, last week expanded the scope of the change, voting to allow American vessels to enter the ports of warring nations.

The forthcoming house debate will not begin until Wednesday, and a vote is expected Thursday. Thus letters sent early this week will reach the representatives before the vote is taken. Telegrams may be sent as late as Wednesday unless plans for the voting are changed.

Mailing Address.

In the following table an asterisk [*] before the name indicates the congressman voted for the bill to permit arming of merchant ships on Oct. 17. A dagger [†] indicates he voted against the measure. Those not marked did not vote.

BIDDERS ON U. S. CONTRACTS FACE GRAND JURY QUIZ

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9 (AP).—A government investigation of bidding on contracts for army hats and caps was announced tonight by Assistant United States Attorney Edward A. Kallick. A federal grand jury will start the investigation Wednesday and it probably will take two or three weeks, he said.

Subpenas have been sent to 25 hat and cap manufacturers and also to national and local officers of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International union [AFL], Kallick declared.

The contracts to be investigated were with the quartermaster depot here. Kallick said many of the manufacturers involved are from Philadelphia, some from New York, and one from Kansas City. He did not disclose their names.

Shanghai Fixes Price of Rice to Stop Profiteering

SHANGHAI, Nov. 9.—With profiteering and hoarding forcing up the prices of commodities to a greater extent than at any time in history, the Shanghai municipal council today fixed the price of rice thruout the international settlement. It also prohibited the export of any rice from the settlement without permit. A proclamation directed that all rice merchants must sell at officially decreed prices.

BRITISH FREIGHT VESSEL AGROUND OFF NEW ENGLAND

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Nov. 9 (AP).—The British freighter Ungava, carrying asphalt from New York to Newfoundland, was aground tonight off Pasque Isle in Vineyard sound.

The spot where the 1,914 ton ship was in difficulty is known among seamen as "ships' graveyard." There have been more wrecks there than any other place north of Hatteras.

Several coast guard craft were alongside the freighter and reported the crew in no danger.

The seas were rough and skies cloudy. First attempts to float the ship failed. The vessel, aground on a "hard bottom," was not believed in any immediate danger. Her load was being lightened. Officials said, however, it might take several days.

RAF POUNDS RUHR CITIES AND LOSES 8 MORE BOMBERS

Essen, Duesseldorf and Channel Ports Hit.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, Nov. 10 (Monday) (AP). The RAF bombed northwestern Germany during the night, killing and wounding civilians "without any war industry damage," DNB reported early today. The news agency said several waves of German planes bombed an important supply harbor on the English southeast coast and that widespread fires and explosions were observed among harbor facilities.

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP).—Ignoring heavy plane losses averaging four and one-half to one, the RAF bombarded Germany heavily again last night in a stepped up air offensive regarded as Britain's answer for a second front.

Essen, home of the great Krupp munitions works, and other industrial centers of Germany's arms producing Ruhr valley felt the main weight of a strong British bomber force.

The British acknowledged loss of eight bombers over Germany last night, making a total of 91 planes listed by the air ministry as lost in all theaters of war during the week. Axis losses for the same period, exclusive of the Russian front, were put at only 19 by the ministry.

Heavy Explosions at Essen.

At Essen heavy explosions were followed by fires. The flyers told of a great concentration of searchlights with as many as 80 crowded into a group to form a single cone of light to protect Germany's war factories.

Successful attacks also were declared to have been made on Ostend, Dunkirk, and Duesseldorf.

The air offensive, made despite unfavorable weather, brings to the RAF one of its sternest tests of the war. The toll of 91 planes lost comprised 81 acknowledged lost over Europe and 10 in the middle east. The 19 German planes listed as lost in this period included only one bomber shot down over Britain.

German planes struck back at England tonight, twice attacking a southeast coast town where houses were damaged and some residents trapped in the wreckage. One German bomber was shot down last night.

Germans Sink Six Ships.

BERLIN, Nov. 9 (AP).—The high command said tonight Nazi bombers sank six British merchantmen last night, including a tanker, and that 25 RAF planes were downed yesterday and last night. The ships totaled 38,000 tons, the high command said.

A German tabulation showed that 85 RAF planes were destroyed last week, which included many costly bombers.

at civilian morale and smashing industrial plants and shipping facilities.

The Italian high command said that at Naples "there was damage to civilian dwellings and fires, swiftly controled." Two persons were said to have been killed and four injured, and one of the attackers shot down.

Bombers Attack a Convoy.

The Italians told also of British bombing of the Libyan port of Bengasi, where "there were some losses among the native population." Many other axis north and east African points were bombed.

From Cairo the RAF reported that British bombers attacked an axis convoy in the Mediterranean, sinking one merchant vessel.

"In a second attack our pilots observed that this ship had been abandoned by its crew, who were seen in lifeboats," said the communique. "An escorting destroyer and another merchantman were effectively machine gunned."

The Italians claimed to have shot down four British planes in the Mediterranean.

YALE TO GET LIT UP BY CANDLES IF THE CIO STRIKES

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 9 (AP).—Yale university made ready today to meet a strike threat by 450 workers of its maintenance forces that appeared likely to disrupt the routine of the institution.

John J. Clark, a representative of the United Construction Workers organizing committee of the CIO has served notice that at 9 a. m. tomorrow janitors, maids, campus police, and mechanical maintenance crews would walk out in a dispute over a union shop. The union local said pickets would circle the university.

Well informed sources said masters of the various colleges were passing out candles to be used in the absence of electric lights.

A university spokesman said that a representative of the state mediation and arbitration board would meet with interested parties tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

20 CZECHS EXECUTED BY NAZIS; CHARGED WITH SETTING FIRES

BERLIN, Nov. 9 (AP). — Twenty Czechs were executed in Vienna last Thursday charged with attempting to set fire to food stores in the former Austrian capital and its vicinity, the official news agency, DNB, stated today.

Quoting an announcement by Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German police, the news agency said:

"On the sixth of November 20 members of a Czech group discovered by the Gestapo [German secret police] to have connections with a condemned revolutionary band in the protectorate [of Bohemia-Moravia] were executed. The group attempted by setting fires in Vienna and the neighboring region to endanger the food supplies of the populace."

POPE ASKS FIGHT ON PAGANISM IN EUCHARIST TALK

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 9 (AP).—Pope Pius in a broadcast today to Chile's National Eucharistic congress at Santiago expressed hopes for world peace and preservation of Chile's religious faith against "false doctrines, immorality, disbelief, and reborn paganism."

The pontiff also hoped, he said, that "those social circles which are led by deceptive doctrines and fallacious promises and have deserted the fold of the church, will return to her maternal bosom."

The pope began his message by saying that Chile was born when the first mass was celebrated for the troops of Valdivia, encamped near the Mapocho river, on Feb. 12, 1541. [Pedro De Valdivia, a Spaniard, founded Santiago, the present Chilean capital, on this date.]

NEW NAZI SMASH LAUNCHED TO END LENINGRAD FIGHT

Other Fresh Troops Mass on Moscow Front.

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP).—The Germans have launched a new drive on Leningrad and are massing a host of fresh troops before Moscow for a final blow at the Russian capital, war reports said tonight.

Thousands of German troops are striking at Leningrad from the north in a drive to score a major success from Finnish positions before Finland answers the American demand that she quit the war, Russian quarters said.

The Moscow radio disclosed that the Germans also were bringing up new reserves to the Moscow front, and said "it is obvious that a new and furious offensive will be launched within the next few days at the approaches to the capital."

Report Gains in One Sector.

Moscow dispatches reported gains in the Volokolamsk sector 65 miles northwest of the capital, where charging Red cavalrymen were said to have recaptured the important village of "S."

[The soviet communique today reported fighting of "particularly fierce" proportions on the Crimean front. Kuibyshev dispatches said the Germans had captured the southern suburbs of Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow, also occupying the estate of the late Russian author, Leo Tolstoy. The estate had been converted into a museum by the Russians.]

German and Russian broadcasts told of the violent new fighting after weeks of quiet on the Karelian front. Russian sources said the Germans were aiming their main drive between Lakes Ladoga and Onega, 100 to 150 miles northeast of Leningrad, but also were attempting to press forward on a more direct line of attack down the Karelian isthmus north of Leningrad.

2,500 Dead on Battlefield.

The Russian radio said the Germans had been thrown back, leaving 2,500 dead on the field, at Kestenga, a small village in the 75 mile wide territory between the two lakes.

The Finns drove between the two lakes several weeks ago and claimed to have reached the Svir river and captured Petrozavodsk on the western shore of Onega.

The German drive apparently was launched with the hope of completing encirclement of Leningrad by cutting the remaining eastern railway outlets and gaining full possession of Lake Ladoga's shores. A direct attack on the city over the ice might then prove feasible during the winter.

Despite Adolf Hitler's speech last night declaring that Leningrad is completely cut off, informed sources said secondary railway lines running northeastward from the city and connecting with other lines to Moscow never had been in German control.

Tank Bases Forced Back.

Now unfavorable conditions have forced the air force to withdraw many of its planes, and Russian counterattacks eastward from Leningrad and in the Volokolamsk sector have forced advanced German tank bases back far enough that they no longer are a menace to these secondary lines, informed quarters said.

Russian sources said the troops now attacking Leningrad had been hurriedly assembled in Finland from Norway and other occupied territory after the disclosure on Nov. 3 by American Secretary of State Cordell Hull that the United States had transmitted Russian feelers for peace with Finland and had urged Finland to leave Germany's side in the war.

On other sectors of the front the Russians were reported counterattacking northwest, west, and south of Moscow, and in the Donetz basin, but were undergoing severe artillery fire and aerial bombing in the Crimea, where the situation is regarded as serious.

Pravda, communist party organ in Moscow, was quoted in dispatches as saying several villages had changed hands several times in one sector of the Moscow front.

GERMANS SEIZE RED RESORT CITY IN CRIMEA DRIVE

Flyers Hammer at Ships and Rail Transport.

BERLIN, Nov. 9 (AP).—Germany's air force was credited today with smashing new successes against Russian transport and communications.

On the eastern land front, the salient claim of the Hitler command was the capture of Yalta, on the Crimean shore of the Black sea. Yalta is an ancient port and onetime autumnal bathing resort of the Russian aristocracy.

The capture of Yalta raised a new threat to Sevastopol, big base of the Red fleet some 30 miles to the west, German commentators said. They held that Sevastopol now could be approached from the southeast, along the coast and that the city, except for its sea front had been encircled.

DNB, the official news agency, in an analysis of the Crimean situation said there were signs that entrapped Russian troops, particularly on the Kerch peninsula, were disintegrating.

Claim "Break-Thru" in Center.

The Berlin radio reported Nazi forces had destroyed 80 bunkers [field forts] and made a break-thru on the central front before Moscow. Without specifying the location, the radio said the Russians suffered heavy losses of men and materials.

German airmen on the Leningrad front reported big fires were started there yesterday during Nazi attacks in which 53 Red planes were declared destroyed, 15 of them in aerial fights.

On the northern Russian front one German battle squadron reported it had broken a strategic Russian rail line in 23 places, selected as being the most difficult for the soviet repair crews to handle.

Planes Help Out Artillery.

Admitting that the Russians work mightily to keep their trains moving over bombed stretches of track, the Nazis said the 23 breaks at one time, including several bridges and explosion of a munitions train, was a lasting blow.

In the Crimea and Black sea area the German air force was reported cooperating with artillery in the pounding of Sevastopol and Kerch.

The German air force was said to have sunk 17 soviet transports and damaged 30 others since last Thursday. Since Nov. 1, it was said, German planes also sank 20 Russian warships and damaged six others while sinking 34 Russian freighters totaling 147,000 tons.

Along the lower Donetz basin front, German dispatches said Nazi dive bombers attacked artillery positions and smashed a number of tanks and "many" truckloads of war materials. They also claimed destruction of four transport trains and the damaging of 33 more, some of which were set on fire.

While German and Rumanian troops were reported officially to be driving the Russians before them along the southern Crimean coast and in the Kerch area, informed sources said "pursuit operations" in the direction of Kerch "continued successfully."

John E. Warner Says, Avoid Aging 14 Years in 4

This young man has a fine head of hair and doesn't feel that he will ever be bald. Yet, his scalp is laden with dandruff, itches constantly, and he loses a great deal of hair each day. Right now a short period of the pleasant, low-cost, scientific treatment used by John E. Warner and Associates would rid him of his dandruff, check the hair fall and normalize his scalp. He could keep this fine head of hair.

A year later the hair has receded at the temples, and our young man is worrying about it. He douses his head with cure-all lotions, and his scalp condition is growing worse. A free private consultation with John E. Warner would tell him that he could save and improve the hair which he still has.

Three years later it is too late to have a good head of hair but not too late to save and improve the hair that remains, through prompt treatment, by John E. Warner and Associates. The Warner method of treatment is effective because of years of research study and experience.

Four years later, it is too late, his appearance is permanently marred, a serious handicap to anyone. A youthful appearance is necessary these days to success in the social and business worlds. Statistics show that 85% of all baldness can be prevented if properly treated in time; but once you are bald you can never hope to regrow hair (except in rare cases of alopecia areata).

There is no charge or obligation for a scalp examination and consultation. Examination and treatment are given in strictest privacy. FEES FOR TREATMENT ARE VERY MODERATE AND ARE PAYABLE AS THE TREATMENTS ARE TAKEN—NOT IN ADVANCE. Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily, Saturdays to 6 P. M.

There is a separate department for women. Other Warner offices located in Boston, Hartford, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Detroit.

WAR WEARY REDS BUSY PACKING AS FINNS SEIZE FORT

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ON THE LENINGRAD FRONT, Nov. 9.—In a Russian bunker [pillbox] 400 yards downhill from the captured soviet field fort which I was visiting the time had come for the war weary Russian soldiers to be relieved.

The Reds in that camouflaged bunker had been in the front line only two days [the Finns do 10 day tricks], but they were eager to get back to the rear. They were packing up their belongings so no time would be wasted in getting out.

But that very moment—striking from the trench in which I was a guest—the Finns stormed the Russian bunker, killed 20 soldiers and captured two without a single shot being fired in its defense. But let me tell the story from the start.

Go Up Under Brisk Fire.

Firing was brisk as a colonel escorted me to the captured pillbox headquarters of the lieutenant in command of a 100 yard front line sector. Overhead I could hear the distinctive noise of high velocity explosive bullets fired by Red snipers. American hunters use these bullets in shooting big game but they are supposed to be barred in "civilized warfare." The sharp detonation when they hit makes the eardrum tinkle. And the wounds they make are horrible.

When we got to the lieutenant's headquarters the colonel pointed to the nearby Russian bunker which was to be attacked. It was camouflaged a mottled green, black and grey like the one we were in. Its guns were silent. Then came the attack.

The Finnish fire intensified and we could see grenades and mines exploding along the soviet trenches supporting the Russian pillbox. From the Finnish trench eight soldiers crawled out and began to run toward the soviet bunker. They were armed with tommy guns and hand grenades and two carried bundles of explosives tied to a stick.

Storm Russian Trenches.

They reached the soviet trench and disappeared. We could hear the rattle of the tommy guns and then came the blast of a heavy explosion as one of the explosive charges was set off against the heavy steel door of the bunker whose guns had not fired a shot.

The Finns kept up their fire. It seemed chiefly directed against a slow firing, heavy Russian machine gun which sounded no faster than the old fashioned gatling gun Buffalo Bill's wild west show used a generation ago in its mock battles with the Indians.

Within a few moments all eight of the attackers returned to the Finnish trench, bringing two prisoners. One Finnish soldier was being carried. The others all had extra guns seized in the raid. The colonel, who had watched the attack thru field glasses, remarked that his soldiers especially liked Russian automatic rifles and that his command already had more of these weapons than it could use.

Turning to the lieutenant, he ordered that the prisoners be brought up to the bunker so I could talk with them. Both Russians were trembling with terror. Only when commanded to do so did they think to remove their hats. Their hands were black with dirt. They said later that the only time they saw soap was when they received their fortnightly bath.

Call Red Troops Demoralized.

They told a graphic story of how the raid had caught them by surprise while they were packing. They explained that front line shifts were relieved every two days because their battalion had become so demoralized the officers considered frequent relief advisable.

One prisoner was tall and emaciated, and had no front teeth. He said he had been a chauffeur at the Treugolnik rubber factory in Leningrad, largest plant of its kind in Russia. He said the factory was destroyed early in October, after which the workers were immediately mobilized and sent to various army units whose forces had been depleted by casualties.

In September, he continued, the German air force destroyed a number of grain elevators in Leningrad harbor. Until then, each worker had received a kilogram [about two pounds] of bread daily, and members of their families got 200 grams [less than half a pound] each. The day following the raid, the bread ration for workers was reduced to 600 grams [slightly more than one pound] and the next day it dropped to 400 grams [slightly less than a pound]. Bread rations for families of workers were abolished, he said. Government employés still receive 200 grams a day.

Since early September, the prisoner added, there have been no potatoes, cabbages, or dill pickles [the three staple vegetables in the diet of the soviet proletariat] and there has been no meat since the beginning of the war. He said he had heard many people were dying of famine in Leningrad, but he doubted the possibility of an uprising, because the people were enervated by exhaustion and starvation. They were, he added, dying quietly in masses.

The other soldier said he was a shoemaker who had had to take a job on a collectivized farm in White Russia. He was glad his family was not in Leningrad and was indignant about Stalin's scorched earth order.

CHURCHILL WILL GIVE FREE REIN TO WAR CRITICS

Parliament to Thresh Out Entire Situation.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Altho Prime Minister Churchill is understood to be dead set against any changes in his cabinet, he will cover every aspect of the war effort in a statement when the house of commons reassembles, THE TRIBUNE was informed today. Full opportunity will be given to critics and the government will allow them several days to air their views.

The Russian campaign, the situation in the middle and far east, relations with Finland, Hungary, and Rumania, the position of shipping and all phases of war production and use of man and woman power are among the topics scheduled for discussion.

Looming high over these subjects will be the significance of further stages of America's approach to full participation in the war. A vote by the senate for United States ships to enter combat zones was hailed by the Sunday Empire News as a "prelude to war," a conviction which was echoed by other newspapers, weeklies and periodicals.

Agitate for Second Front.

The explanation of present inability to establish a second front in continental Europe to relieve pressure on the bolsheviks has not stilled agitation that this be done. Stalin's appeal for such action is revived in criticisms of the government's failure to act.

The Sunday Chronicle, however, takes an opposite viewpoint, saying: "There is a second front in the west in the war against Hitler," adding that it is being fought relentlessly night and day by the navy, merchant fleet, and the air force.

Reynolds News announced a "second front war in the near east soon," and asserts that "fierce fighting may soon break out in Libya, with the British taking the offensive."

Others newspapers suggest a second front will be established in the Caucasus, where British troops have the opportunity to form a common line with their Russian allies. It is just as important for the British as for Russia to keep the Germans out of the Baku oil fields, military experts contend.

Puts Blame on Industry.

Leslie Hore-Belisha, former minister of war, writing in News of the World, places the onus on industry for failure of Britain to meet Russia's demand for a second front in the west. "There can be no second front on an adequate scale and there can be no effective response to Stalin's appeal until Britain and her empire have mobilized their resources and are waging war as Hitler does in the total sense," he states.

This view is shared by many members of parliament. On the question of production the government again probably will be severely criticized in the forthcoming debate. The demand for centralized direction in the form of a minister of production still is as strong as ever.

New plans are anticipated whereby the government will be able to interchange workers to and from the fighting services and key munitions factories. It is also contemplated to extend conscription of manpower so all men up to 60 will be available for employment in the war effort and women will be introduced into war factories on a much larger scale.

EXPECT FILIPINOS TO NAME QUEZON PRESIDENT AGAIN

MANILA, Nov. 10 [Monday] (AP).—The Philippines national election campaign ended today with general belief that President Manuel Quezon, the commonwealth's political strong man, would win reëlection in tomorrow's balloting.

Six other presidential candidates were conceded only the slimmest of chances against Quezon, nominee of the powerful Nacionalista party.

The 2,000,000 registered voters also will name 24 senators and 98 members of the house of representatives.

MASS JAP FORCES ON THAILAND AND MALAYA BORDERS

Survey Shows Few Facing Burma and China.

HANOI, French Indo-China, Nov. 8 (AP).—[Delayed.]—Japan appeared today to be concentrating her main Indo-Chinese forces in territory within reach of Thailand and British protected Malaya.

Her military arrangements coincided with arrival of Kenkichi Yoshizawa, one of Japan's South seas experts, who has been named ambassador to Indo-China. He heads a staff of officials which ultimately will total about 350, and his arrival was believed by many far eastern observers to presage major military developments in the southern Pacific.

Yoshizawa himself is invested with extraordinary powers, and a large staff of political, economic, and cultural experts gives Japan a greater representation here than in any other country in the world.

No Activity on China Border.

Indications that Japan is paying closest attention to Thailand and Malaya, the elongated peninsula leading to Singapore, were seen in the personal inspection by an Associated Press correspondent of the northern border areas.

No Japanese military activity whatever could be observed in the vicinity of Caobang, Dongdang, and Langson adjoining Kwangsi province of China.

Authoritative sources said the Japanese were constructing no fortifications at all along the Chinese frontier and that there were practically no troops near the borders of Tonkin and Laos, the Indo-China territories facing Yunnan province of China, Burma, and the eastern frontier of Thailand.

The Chinese were taking no chances of a sudden thrust thru Yunnan or Kwangsi provinces to cut the Burma road, however, and were reported on highest authority to have concentrated many of their best troops along the few potential approaches from Indo-China.

Thais Training All to Shoot.

BANGKOK, Thailand, Nov. 9 (AP).—A program of nation-wide training in the use of firearms has been instituted to face any possible emergency. Thailand newspapers said all men and women of Thailand were expected to take advantage of this opportunity to safeguard national independence. Provincial governors will direct the training program.

Japs Urge Burma Revolt.

TOKIO, Nov. 9 (AP).—The Japanese press devoted close attention to news dispatches from Burma today, and Nichi Nichi declared Britain was attempting to prevent the country from gaining its independence because of fear of Japan's ambitions.

"The people of Burma should struggle for their independence," said Nichi Nichi, in an apparent reference to London dispatches on the visit there of Premier U Saw.

[The premier has expressed dissatisfaction over talks with Prime Minister Churchill on gaining dominion status for Burma.]

Official quarters declined to comment on the possible withdrawal of United States marines from China, but well informed Japanese said Japan some time ago suggested to belligerents in the European war that they withdraw their armed forces from China, adding withdrawal of United States forces would be welcomed by the Japanese people in view of the United States' semibelligerency.

[President Roosevelt in announcing last week that withdrawal of the marines was being considered said no discussions had taken place with Japan on the question.]

Asahi said withdrawal of the marines was rather late, since they already had displayed disagreeable behavior on several occasions.

A part of the Japanese press took the view that withdrawal of the marines would be a further evidence of decline of British and United States influence in the far east.

CHICAGO TRAIN RAMS A TOWER; 12 DEAD, 44 HURT

Pennsylvanian Derailed at Dunkirk, Ohio.

out a window and climbed to the top. We jumped to the ground and found a little boy wandering along the track. People were screaming and the boy was scared so I took care of him and left him with some of the neighbors."

Calls for Ambulances.

After Schwartzcupp and Davis, C. P. De Long Sr., and his son, C. P. Jr., were the first townsmen on the scene. They were less than a block away when they heard the locomotive plow into the switch tower.

Schwartzcupp called nearby Kenton and Findlay at once for ambulances and physicians and the De Longs aroused townspeople. Within a few minutes several hundred persons were at the scene trying to reach the dead and injured.

Within a short time neighbors were bringing overcoats and hats for the Pullman passengers who had been thrown from their beds in night clothes, and were wandering about shivering in below freezing weather. A fine snow was falling.

Soon women were bringing hot coffee and sandwiches, others brought blankets and one woman brought an armload of clean sheets to be torn into bandages. The entire stock of M. E. Blue, the town druggist, was exhausted by the first physicians to arrive.

Homes for several blocks around the wreck scene were thrown open to the survivors, while the ambulances were rushing the injured to hospitals in Kenton and Findlay. The dead were taken to mortuaries in Dunkirk and Kenton.

The Pennsylvanian contained eight cars—the combination car, coach, diner, lounge, three Pullmans for New York and one Pullman for Washington, D. C. Only the Washington car remained on the rails.

After the locomotive and first four cars were derailed, the first New York Pullman was hurled ahead by momentum and crossed over the Big Four intersection. This car, in some unexplained manner, was split thru the middle.

Some Passengers Missing.

Some of the dead had been passengers in the split Pullman and others were in the coaches ahead. Some of the passengers from the Pullman were missing and rail officials believed at least three of them were buried beneath wreckage of the switch tower.

The wreck tied up traffic in both directions over the line and also stopped north and southbound Big Four trains for a time. Two wreck trains were sent here from Fort Wayne, Ind., and crews at once started to remove the dead who could be seen and search for the missing. It was necessary to cut away parts of the steel coaches with torches to get at the bodies.

A relief train also was sent here from Crestline, O., and those who were able to travel were taken aboard and continued their journey eastward.

Swedish Ship Wrecked Off Newfoundland; Crew Safe

ST. PIERRE, St. Pierre-Miquelon, Nov. 9 (AP).—The 1,239 ton Swedish freighter Gudmundra ran aground Saturday on Little Miquelon Island in a fog, and it was believed she would be a total loss. The crew was picked up by a tug and it was expected the men would be brought to this capital of the Vichy French islands off the south coast of Newfoundland.

Injuries in Fall Fatal to Pioneer Chicago Woman

Mrs. Caroline Bernard, 89 years old, of 1331 School street, who was a resident of Chicago for 73 years and who used to tell of watching the Chicago fire from the Wells street bridge, died yesterday in the county hospital. Physicians said death was apparently due to complications of injuries received July 24 when she fell in her home.

GERMAN PRESS PLAYS UP HITLER 'SHOOT 2D' ORDER

Emphasizes U.S. 'Threats' Don't Frighten Nazis.

BERLIN, Nov. 9 (AP).—References to the United States in Adolf Hitler's speech at Munich yesterday, particularly the assertion that German ships would not shoot first but would defend themselves with the greatest energy if attacked, were emphasized today in most Berlin newspapers.

"Sharp Dismissal of Threats."

German editors had not had time to compose their editorials but their headlines indicated the trend of authorized thought following the declaration by the Fuehrer that, in effect, Germany is not frightened by American threats, as the Nazis interpret President Roosevelt's actions.

Hitler's own newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, headlined the Fuehrer's speech: "Sharp dismissal of threats from the United States."

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said, "Silly threats from America did not take effect."

The Berlin radio, which at intervals turned out highspots of Hitler's talk all day, kept calling attention to direct references to Mr. Roosevelt and Hitler's statement that the German naval officer who does not fire back would expect court martial.

Cite Challenge to British.

There were also many references to Hitler's challenge to the English to open a new western front and to his statement that "world bolshevism" had been crushed and that years would be required to replace the weapons the Russians had lost.

CALL LA GUARDIA CANNED SERMON CLERGY INSULT

Chicago Pastors Scoff at OCD Handout.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Chicago pastors yesterday turned from shocked amazement to amused speculation on the authorship of Mayor Fiorello La Guardia's canned sermon for next Sunday's pulpits. The New York mayor, in his rôle of chief of civilian defense, offered to an apparently selected list of pastors the free use of a sermon for the last day of "Defense Week," but it appeared yesterday that he omitted the names of several of the ablest Chicago pastors from his mailing lists.

Dr. Charles Clayton Morrison, editor of the undenominational journal, Christian Century, on Saturday denounced La Guardia's proposal as "an unspeakable insult to the clergy of the United States." Many persons joined Dr. Morrison in his statement, and others recalled persistent rumors during the last few weeks of a new office which was to be set up in Washington, designed to keep the clergy in line with the administration's foreign policy.

Denies He Accepted Job.

The name most often associated with the leadership of this office in the rumors was the Rev. Dr. Henry Pitney Van Dusen, dean of the Union Theological seminary, New York. Dr. Van Dusen denied that he had accepted the post which, it was rumored, carried "a generous salary and an unlimited expense account." In the Christian Century of Oct. 15, the clergymen of the country were urged to "be on guard," and were told that the rumors "come from so many and such hitherto reliable sources that they cannot be disregarded."

One group of leading pastors who met informally after services yesterday, expressed amusement because the New York mayor had not included them in his mailing list. It was flattery, they agreed, because the mayor evidently thought them able to write their sermons without burdening the federal treasury with an additional penny of expense.

It was added, however, that they doubted the mayor's ability to use theological language in the right way, and that a search would be instituted for the federal sermon barrel. It was explained that in view of doubt of La Guardia's homiletical ability, the taxpayer should be told how much the federal theological bureau is going to cost and whether or not it might soon become a full-fledged department with a secretarial chair in the President's cabinet.

None Less Competent.

This view also was expressed by the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Venable, pastor of Wicker Park Lutheran church, who called the whole thing "preposterous and rather amusing," and that a ghost sermonizer must have been hired by the government.

"I cannot imagine any one less competent to dictate pulpit material than Mayor La Guardia," said Dr. Venable. "He has just come from a very blasphemous campaign, and the language of the campaign is hardly the language of the pulpit. I hardly think he is in any position even to suggest Protestant views.

"His idea is to destroy Hitler by war, and he certainly has not asked us to love our enemies as the New Testament directs."

The Rev. E. Ashley Gerhart, rector of Christ Episcopal church, Winnetka, called the La Guardia literature "an intrusion and utterly ridiculous.. I certainly am not willing" he said, "to have my pulpit statements dictated by a federal official."

"Nobody's Forcing Use."

New York, Nov. 9 [Special].—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, replying to criticism of a sermon outline mailed to clergymen, said today the Office of Civilian Defense is not ashamed of praying for the safety of the country or of asking the people of this country to give thanks to God Almighty for freedom. He added that "Nobody's forcing the ministers to use it."

BRADLEY ASSAILS OFFICER'S ORDER CURBING WORSHIP

Dr. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's church at 941 Lawrence avenue, last night branded as appropriate to Naziism or communism the announcement of Col. Early E. W. Duncan at Denver, Colo., that he would place out of army bounds any churches where sermons opposing the policy of President Roosevelt are delivered.

"It smacks too much of Hitler and Stalin," Dr. Bradley said in answering a question as to his opinion, submitted by a parishioner at last night's service. "Under them there is no free speech and no free press.

"I am opposed to any such order. It was ridiculous. The men in the army have, I suppose, at least high school education. If acceptable soldiers they certainly know what to believe and what not to believe when they hear arguments at meetings and in churches."

[ADVERTISMENT]
BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

THE QUESTION.
How do you amuse yourself on long auto trips?

WHERE ASKED.
The Palmolive building.

THE ANSWERS.

Jere Bernstein, advertising representative, 919 North Michigan avenue — I turn on the radio and focus all my attention on the programs so that I won't unconsciously be reading every billboard along the way. Driving is such a mechanical process with me that I can really enjoy the radio on a long trip.

E. J. Ryan, advertising salesman, 1463 Byron street—I don't know if you could call it amusing myself but I spend all my time settling disputes among the three children in the back seat. I do anything I can to distract their attention from the feud and focus it upon the beautiful, peaceful scenery.

Gwen Smith, teletype operator, 1033 Loyola avenue—If I'm not the driver I delight in those story telling signs continued from one sign to the next. Even when I decide I'd rather be napping I find it difficult unless I've read that final serial.

Louis Falco, truck driver, 2222 Polk street—I do a lot of driving all over the United States so it takes more than a change of scenery to amuse me. Whenever I see a trustworthy looking hitch-hiker I give him a lift. If he's the real vagabond type, I spend pleasant hours listening to his tales.

Mrs. Joyce Hultin, housewife, South Bend, Ind.—The last time our family went to California we spent most of our time playing what we call, "Horses." Half the family gets the horses on the right side of the road and half gets those on the left. White horses give the most points. The losers treat.

Eloise Dee, student, 666 Van Buren, Gary, Ind.—When the scenery isn't interesting and everyone's tired of the radio we sometimes talk in rhymes. One will say, "When a car attempts to pass—" then it's up to the next to answer with something like "Pull to the middle and step on the gas." That's fun.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each timely, interesting question submitted by a reader and used in this column. Today's question submitted by William Schnitz, 444 Washington street.]

BEGIN TO RESTORE CATHEDRALS OF 3 FRENCH CITIES

Famous Shrines in Rouen, Amiens and Beauvais.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Three of France's great cathedrals, at Amiens, Rouen, and Beauvais, are in process of being restored under Franco-German collaboration, according to information in art journals here.

The cathedral at Amiens—practically the only building left standing after German stukas [dive bombers] finished their work during the invasion of France—is to be freed from the ruins of houses reduced to rubbish heaps and "will now come into its full glory for the first time," it was said.

According to the restoration plans the cathedral will become the focal point for new city streets which will converge on a large square in front of the edifice.

Alter an Old Theory.

Such a plan represents a radical departure from hitherto current German conceptions of what the surroundings of a Gothic cathedral should look like. It was formerly held by leading art critics here that such edifices should not stand alone. In the case of Amiens, however, destruction of the city was so complete that no other solution of the problem was considered possible.

In Rouen the Franco-German plans envisage merely the destruction of all the more modern structures nearest the cathedral in an attempt to preserve the medieval character of the town.

The cathedral of Beauvais, usually considered the most grandiose effort of French medieval architecture, is having its bomb damaged roof repaired. Altho no restoration plan exists as yet for the city, which also was wrecked by bombs and shells during the German advance, it is believed the cathedral will also be freed from surrounding buildings.

"Bombing a Work of Art."

Two other artistic structures left standing in the city, the church of St. Stephen and the palace of justice, are to be "set free from encumbrances." It is understood that the authorities plan to preserve what remains of the picturesque Gothic streets.

Shortly after the conclusion of the campaign in France, THE TRIBUNE correspondent had an opportunity to observe the effects of concentrated stuka bombings on cathedral towns. The Germans still speak with pride of the nice aiming of their stuka pilots who frequently succeeded, as in Amiens and Beauvais, in virtually razing the city without destroying the cathedral or other artistic monuments.

Today marks the 166th anniversary of the United States marine corps. In observance of the day Lieut. Col. Chester L. Fordney, commanding officer of the marine corps of the central reserve area, will speak before the Junior Association of Commerce at its luncheon in the Hotel Sherman. Col. Fordney served in the naval air force in the World war. He is best remembered for his stratosphere balloon flight in 1933 with Comm. T. G. W. Settle. ILLINOIS' 33D DIVISION ROLLING HOME IN SNOW

Two Columns to Arrive in Chicago Today.

BY JACK THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Danville, Ill., En Route with the 33d Division, Nov. 9.—After eight months of federal service in the scrublands of Tennessee and the rigorous life of fall maneuvers, the young fighting men of Illinois' 33d division came home today.

Tonight they are bivouaced in Illinois towns, a day's travel from Chicago and Springfield, where they will parade on Armistice day to honor the dead of the last war, in which American youth died in battle on foreign fields.

There will be mixed emotions among the troops when these young men, who may do the dying and the fighting in today's wars, pass in review. Among them are some, in the ranks and holding commissions, who remember the bloody days of 1917 and 1918.

It's a Fighting Division.

The 33d is a wartime division. Organized at Camp Logan, Tex., from Illinois National Guard troops, the division reached France in May, 1918. It fought north of Verdun and west of the Meuse in the Meuse-Argonne operations, advancing 36 kilometers. The battle deaths were 989—the wounded, 6,266.

Tonight the soldiers, two days out from Camp Forrest, Tenn., are glad to be snug and warm under shelter. The 5,161 members of Chicago regiments, after traveling in one column to Evansville, Ind., continued northward today in two parallel lines. One group rests here tonight, the other a few miles west in Champaign. The 3,397 for Springfield are at Cairo where they too will split tomorrow, to approach Springfield in two columns.

In splitting the columns, Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commanding officer of the division, intended that the troops, in addition to convoy training, could thus be viewed by more residents of Illinois. But it was raw weather, both yesterday and today, for soldier and spectator alike.

Travel in Snow and Cold.

Snow was whipping across the Ohio river when the columns began leaving Evansville early this morning. Thruout most of the day snow flurries plagued the soldiers, who rode, bundled up in woolen uniforms and overcoats, in open trucks.

As the long columns, each of nearly 30 miles, lumbered thru towns, there were few crowds in evidence. The wind was bitter and Sunday custom kept many indoors.

Here in Danville the young fighting men were met by veterans of the last war, the Danville American Legion drum and bugle corps. Thus escorted thru the idle business district, the division reached the armory where they are spending the night. Dinners and entertainment were arranged for officers and men.

Arrive This Morning.

Early tomorrow Col. Robert Myhrman will lead off the Danville column, the first troops being scheduled to reach the Chicago city limits on state route 1 at 11:17 a. m. The advance units of the second column, led by Brig. Gen. Albert L. Culbertson, are due at 11:29 a. m. on route 5. Three hours later the last troops should be in the city and on the way to the armories and other public buildings where they will be quartered. Most of the boys will, however, be given passes to spend the nights at home, before returning to Camp Forrest early Thursday.

Travel on the two day convoy has been without incident. Lieut. Col. Ben Stafford of the staff of the 2d army, who has been inspecting the columns on this movement, declared the entire operations was executed excellently.

BRITAIN MARKS ARMISTICE DAY; WORKS TUESDAY

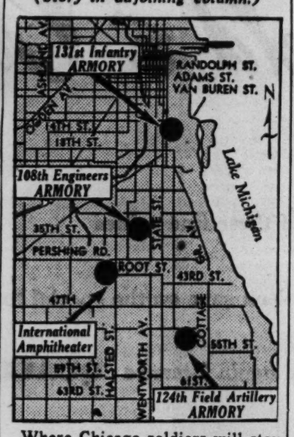
LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP).—Britain observed Armistice day on a wartime schedule today, holding brief church services in lieu of the peacetime ceremonies usually held on Nov. 11 to honor the dead of the World war.

This November will be just another work day in factories, offices, and in the services. At the request of King George the nation will let Tuesday pass almost unnoticed.

At Westminster abbey one of the first arrivals was an American airman who has been in Europe only a week. He was joined by girls of the land army who work on farms, and by nurses and home guard volunteers.

Soldiers' Quarters

(Story in adjoining column.)



Where Chicago soldiers will stay from tonight until Thursday morning, when they will return to Camp Forrest, Tenn.

Here's where the troops of the 33d division will be quartered during their stay in Chicago. The locations are given for the convenience of friends and relatives of the soldiers:

One Hundred and Thirty-first Infantry armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue. Headquarters company of the 66th infantry brigade and the 131st infantry.

The Engineers armory, 3401 Wentworth avenue: 58th field artillery brigade and headquarters battery and the 122d infantry.

International amphitheater, 43d and Halsted streets: 132d infantry, 108th engineers, 108th medical regiments, 33d division military police company, and a detail of the 108th quartermaster regiment.

A SOLDIER'S AIM: TO SEE ALL U. S. RIDING BY THUMB

Private Hilbert Fuerstman is the 1st army's prize cowbell ringer and is now out to set himself up as the United States soldier with the best hitch-hiker's thumb. His thumb has carried him 4,731 miles the last month to Jacksonville, Fla.; New Orleans, La.; Knoxville, Tenn., and to Chicago.

Private Hilbert Fuerstman.

The trips all start from Monroe, N. C., where the 20 year old soldier is attached to the 1st army artillery fire marking detachment during the 1st army's field maneuvers. By two way radio he learns where artillery is directing its fire, then he hurries to that spot and rings a cowbell to let soldiers in the vicinity know they are being shelled.

As a cowbell ringer, Fuerstman is usually busy only three days of the week—the length of a maneuver problem. On off days he rides around the country by his thumb. His fourth trip brought him to Chicago yesterday. After a day of sightseeing he left so as to be back in Camp Tuesday morning. His home is in East Orange, N. J. He hopes to visit every state before his enlistment is up.

DON'T LET RULE BY PEOPLE DIE, GREEN PLEADS

Speaks as Armistice Day Observance Begins.

Constitutional guarantees under which the United States has become the greatest and freest nation on earth have been challenged, Gov. Dwight Green told the North Shore Sunday Evening club last night. Government by the people has died before in history and is dying in other lands, but this never shall happen in America, he added.

Gov. Green's address in New Trier High school was his third in a day which opened Chicago's three day observance of the 23d anniversary of the signing of the World war armistice. His first address in Medinah temple was before the Cook County council of the American Legion at memorial services honoring the nation's war dead. The second address was at the Morgan Park Military academy services sponsored by Morgan Park civic organizations.

Militant Patriotic Faith.

"It is the challenge to constitutional guarantees," Gov. Green told the North Shore club, "which must be met with militant patriotic faith and the fullest powers of citizenship must be rallied in the fight to curb any concentration of power in the individual, or in a small group of individuals. That is the road to dictatorship down which no true American will ever march."

In his address before the Legion council, Green said that as a people, all Americans love peace and the happiness which comes in its security. "We do not seek conquest," he said, "nor do we desire anything that belongs to other nations."

"But," he added, "we are determined to hold that which is ours against any aggressor force which would seek to despoil the liberty our forefathers died to win for us."

While the men of the armed forces stand ready to turn back any attack on America from overseas, those at home must make impregnable the nation's inner defenses, Gov. Green continued.

"Let no doubt exist that you are united in the common purpose of protecting the nation from any evil forces which would attack it from within," he cautioned, "so that the men in uniform can return to their bases with your pledge that no alien 'isms' shall menace our liberties and our national solidarity.

Doubt Must Be Removed.

"From their minds, devoted to the single creed of patriotism, must be removed any doubt that any citizen in any city or on any farm in Illinois stands behind them, united in the all-out determination that invincible nationalism shall defeat any attempt to destroy our American way of life.

"Some events in history may become dim in memory, but every anniversary of the Armistice, which brought peace to a suffering world, deepens our gratitude to those who fought for liberty and strengthens our resolve that this liberty shall never perish."

At the Morgan Park observance, Gov. Green asked his audience to help elevate American citizenship from a made to order duty to the sanctity of a religion.

Most Stirring Word.

"Americanism," he said, "is the most stirring word ever written into history and spoken in the tongue of man. It is the faith and the wisdom and the deeds of you who are here today which can preserve it for this generation and for the generations to come."

Armistice day assemblies and ROTC demonstrations will be conducted at the city's public and parochial schools today. School children will recite the pledge of allegiance to the flag and the American's creed and sing patriotic anthems. The American Legion has assigned 375 speakers for the school assemblies.

Tonight, Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear, commander of the 2d army, will address the annual Armistice eve dinner of the Union League club. Army, navy, and marine officers will attend.

33D Division to March.

The climax of the three day celebration will come tomorrow when 5,000 men of the 33d [Illinois] division, participate in the annual Armistice day parade down Michigan avenue. The parade will get under way at 11:05 a. m., and take three hours to pass.

Another giant parade, inaugurating Civilian Defense week, will take over flare-lined Michigan avenue tomorrow night. Leslie J. Sorenson, chief city traffic engineer, estimated yesterday that upward of 75,000 persons would be in the line of march. The night parade starts at 7 p. m.

On Two Programs

Anita Louise and Owen Davis Jr., who opened Saturday at the Harris theater as the stars of "Mr. and Mrs. North," were both guests yesterday on W-G-N programs. Miss Louise was interviewed on the "Academy Award" program at 4 p. m., and Davis made an appearance an hour earlier on the variety show, "An Hour with Elson and Anson." During her interview, Miss Louise thanked the men of the 33d division for naming her the "Sweetheart of the 33d" and outlined plans for the Armistice day program at the service center, where she will take part in the activities with Mayor Edward J. Kelly, Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear and Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton.

TRAINING SCHOOL GRID LINEMAN ESCAPES ON TRIP

The football squad of the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles was short a lineman yesterday after a game away from home against the Wisconsin Industrial school at Waukesha, Wis. He is Lee Polk, 16 years old, colored, 1253 Hastings street, who was sent to the school as a burglar in August, 1939, paroled last December, and returned five months later after his auto hit a police car.

The 25 football players from the Illinois school rode in a bus under the gaze of three recreational supervisors. Arriving back at the 1,200 acre institution it was discovered that Polk was missing.

"It was the last game of the season, but we want Polk back here for other reasons," said Russell W. Ballard, who became superintendent Nov. 1. Despite Polk's good play in the line, St. Charles lost, 20 to 0.

WATCHES WOMAN PLUNGE IN LAKE; RESCUE TOO LATE

Looking out over Lake Michigan from his apartment window, J. A. Smith, 1051 Columbia avenue, yesterday saw a woman stumbling out on Pratt boulevard breakwater breasting the chill breeze. He watched thru his binoculars as she hung her coat over the railing. When she plunged suddenly into the water he telephoned the police.

Seymour Winston, 7659 Bosworth avenue, who was standing on the beach, tried to swim to the rescue, but was turned back by the cold. Carl Otto, 30 years old, reached the woman as she sank and, seizing her by the hair, held her face above water until the arrival of coast guardsmen brought by Smith's call.

Smith's warning and the rescue efforts were in vain, however. The woman was dead by the time the coast guard and city and park district police got her out of the lake. She was Mrs. Mary Horner, 41, manager of an apartment hotel at 1200 Pratt boulevard. Her husband, Wayne, told police she was despondent because she was to lose her position Nov. 15.

GIVE!—WAR VETS URGE IN 'SMOKES FOR YANKS' DRIVE

Good for Both Troops and Citizens: Gen. Lawton.

Men who know the joy that gifts from home bring the lonely soldiers and sailors in foreign lands and on the sea urged Chicagoans yesterday to contribute to the "Smokes for Yanks!" movement of Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

The fighting spirit that presents from home give the gallant men of America's armed forces was recalled by those who attended the Armistice commemoration of the Cook County council of the American Legion. Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars recalled the days when their darkest moments were brightened by a present that said the folks at home were thinking of them.

Lawton Praises Drive.

Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, World war veteran and commander of Illinois' own 33d division at Camp Forrest, Tenn., who is here for his division's Armistice day parade, said:

"I think THE TRIBUNE'S 'Smokes for Yanks!' campaign is a fine thing. It will be good for the soldiers and good for all of us."

Comments of other military men were:

William J. Grace, former Illinois commander, Veterans of Foreign Wars—The "Smokes for Yanks!" program will show the sympathy and loyalty of the folks back home. It's giving little things that counts.

Ferre C. Watkins, past commander Illinois Legion, and president of the Union League club—It's excellent. We should all do our part to let these soldiers know they are being remembered.

Sidney T. Holzman, past commander, Cook County Legion council—Every civilian should be glad to make a little sacrifice for the men in the service. This is a splendid way to show our gratitude to these men.

Mortimer J. Swafford, commander, Board of Trade Legion post—Our post will be foremost in indorsing and activating the idea. Our outstanding member, Gov. Green, has already spoken heartily of the plan.

Edward McGinnis, past Cook County Legion commander—THE TRIBUNE, now as always, is standing for things that mean something when the country is in danger. The idea provides the best means to build morale, which is necessary in building an army. I indorse the movement and congratulate THE TRIBUNE for its initiative and patriotism.

Anthony L. Rich, commander, 3d Illinois Legion district—To get behind such a splendid plan is the very least the public might do to show our thanks to these boys.

Arthur C. Schroeder, 6th district commander—It's a splendid idea and one in which every American should coöperate 100 per cent.

Walter G. Stansel, 8th district commander—I'm very much in favor of it.

E. D. Nelson, commander, Cuneo Legion post—I'm in favor of anything to make the boys happy, and smokes will certainly do it.

William Devine, past commander, voiture 220 of the 40 and 8—Every vetern will do his part to further such a grand plan.

Col. H. H. Weimer, past commander, Chipilly Legion post—It's a plan any army man would be glad to get behind. There just isn't anything to take the place of a smoke. Ask any soldier.

Chris Miller, commander, Morton Grove Legion post—Our post already has such a plan for the men serving from our community. So we know what it will mean to the men who will benefit from such a plan carried out on a large scale.

Alonzo L. Paytes, commander, McDuffie Freeman post—There is nothing nicer than to receive a gift from back home. Our post will certainly contribute.

Art Institute to Be Open Free on Armistice Day

The Art institute will be open free to the public from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Armistice day, Charles H. Burkholder, director of finance and operation, said yesterday. The institute is now featuring the 52d annual exhibition of American paintings and sculpture and an exhibit of Chinese art of the Han dynasty.

CATHOLIC LEADER HITS WHISPERING OF PRO-NAZIISM

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—A Catholic educator today denounced what he described as "the whispering campaign" designed to label the Catholic church as a secret friend of Nazism and Fascism, because it opposed communism.

Rev. Edmund A. Walsh

Speaking at the annual Armistice mass attended by 3,000 Catholic war veterans of America at St. Patrick's cathedral, the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., vice president of Georgetown university, declared that Naziism had "invaded the sanctuary of faith and morals as wantonly, as grossly, and as obscenely as its Muscovite predecessor."

Father Walsh expressed belief that "impartial history will record that it was in Moscow that the disintegration of modern Europe was first plotted, planned, and organized."

He declared that "every modern Cæsar will first seek to annihilate the Christian church if he will annihilate democracy."

LABOR SHORTAGE CUTS FLOCK TO 14,000 TURKEYS

Scarcity of labor kept George W. Ault's flock of turkeys down to a mere 14,000 this year. Without any idea of a destination the turkeys seem to want to flutter over the five foot fence on Ault's Kishwaukee Valley farm near Kirkland in De Kalb county. Men running around with gunny sacks at the end of sticks are required to scare the birds back into line.

Turkeys also are liable to go berserk, mob style, every time they see a drop of blood on one of their number. More men are needed to take care of that. Ault raised 20,000 birds last year.

President of the Kirkland State bank, Ault raises pure bred turkeys as a hobby. He feeds them vitamins and doesn't let them eat such turkey delicacies as grasshoppers. Visitors must disinfect their feet before going near the turkeys because they are very delicate as well as very silly birds.

"HOW CAN I GET A LOAN?"

What to do to borrow $20 to $300 quickly and simply—How you may repay in convenient monthly installments

WOULD A $100 or $200 loan come in handy this month? Have you old bills you would like to clean up with a loan?

If you have a job, you may borrow up to $300 at Household Finance in a simple, private transaction. Then you may repay your loan in monthly installments arranged to fit your own income and paydays.

3 ways to borrow

Suppose that you need $100. The table shows that 12 monthly installments of $9.77 each will repay a $100 loan in full. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.99 a month will repay a $100 loan in 18 months.

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay. Household Finance loans are made in three ways. First way: On your personal note. No security required. This type of loan is made, when circumstances warrant, to both single persons and married couples. Second way: On your car. This plan may best fit your needs. Third way: On your furniture. This plan is used by thousands. Here character and income are far more important than the value of your security. Your loan will be made the way which best fits your own situation.

Other important points: It is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get your loan quickly and simply.

Get your loan for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge more. We publish our rates and payments to help you shop for your loan.

If you need money for an emergency, bring your problem to Household. Or just phone and say that you need a loan. We are here to serve you. Phone or visit us without obligation.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

PUZZLE OF SATURDAY, NOV. 8, SOLVED

Unite Against Scrapping Neutrality Act.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9 (AP).—A majority of Iowa's representatives in the house today called proposed removal of the restrictions on American shipping a step toward war.

Rep. Fred C. Gilchrist [R.] opening a forum by Iowa legislators on modification of the neutrality act which was broadcast, declared:

"In sending our merchant vessels into the war zones it is certain that we will create the very incident which the President spoke of one year ago as being an 'episode beyond our borders' that would bring us into entanglements and armed conflicts."

Other views expressed included these by representatives:

Vincent F. Harrington [D.]: "I am convinced that we are following the road to war by the repeal and revision of the neutrality act." He added he would vote against the changes in keeping with his position "against war and against any steps which lead to it."

Sees Nothing to Gain.

Ben F. Jensen [R.]: "It is my firm conviction now that America has everything to lose and nothing to gain by risking this almost certain step toward participation in another foreign war. We have plenty of unsolved domestic troubles and ills that we should be trying to remedy, in fact will be forced to remedy soon, rather than to endeavor to cure the ills of those peoples all over the world, a majority of whom do not want to be cured."

Henry O. Talle [R.]: "The administration is attempting to lead our people where they do not want to go. Step by step we have been moving down the road to war. In my opinion the proposal now before us is another step on that road."

Wants Clear Cut Issue.

John W. Gwynne [R.]: "Most of the shooting in the Atlantic has been due to the unauthorized and unnecessary acts of the President. The question now is, shall we give congressional approval to these acts? My answer is 'No.' If it is thought that the interests of America demand full participation in the war, let a resolution for war be offered in congress."

Thomas E. Martin [R.]: The amendment is "a step closer to shooting war. . . . The United States is just now within sight of becoming the most powerful nation on earth, provided we do not commit suicide in our lust for world mastery and the subjugation of all countries who may cross our path."

Paul Cunningham [R.]: "If the aggressor nations win it ought to be obvious to any one that sooner or later our boys will have to fight at home or abroad. It seems to me that the modification or repeal of the neutrality act will not get us into war any sooner, but it will be another step toward keeping us out, and preventing our blood being shed on foreign soil, which we must do everything possible to prevent."

POLICE SHOOT BANDIT; CATCH HIS COMPANION

Woodlawn police last night shot and seriously wounded a colored bandit and captured his partner shortly after they had committed five robberies on the south side. They admitted committing 25 other robberies in the last month, police said.

Oscar Bell, 33 years old, whose address was not learned, was shot four times by Policeman Patrick Bermingham of the Woodlawn station when he came out of the drug store at 200 East 69th street with his gun in his hand after robbing the store. Leon Frierson, 28, colored, 6637 Evans avenue, his partner, surrendered.

Frierson said that earlier last night they had obtained $50 in a drug store at 726 East 63d street; $75 in a liquor store at 458 East 61st street; an undetermined amount at the drug store at 557 East 67th street, and $25 at the drug store at 236 East 69th street. Police said both men have minor police records. Bell was shot over the heart and had three minor wounds. He was taken to the Bridewell hospital.

BURGLAR LOOTS APARTMENT NEXT TO LA GUARDIA'S

New York, Nov. 9 [Special].—While residents of upper New York City were indignantly demanding authorities break up the crime wave sweeping the Central park area, a burglar early today robbed an apartment adjoining that of recently re-elected Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, civilian defense director. The apartment building is under 24 hour police guard.

From the ransacked apartment of Mrs. Celia Moskowitz $10 was taken from a purse. The burglar escaped.

Two Admit Theft

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Nadine Kaufman, alias Betty Lane.

Two young women who have admitted looting the loop hotel room of an out of town visitor and the two men with whom they were living appeared yesterday at the detective bureau showup but were not identified in any other crimes.

They are Miss Nadine Kaufman, 20 years old, Louisville, Ky., alias Betty Lane; Miss Margie Hintz, 26, New York City, alias Margie Odum; John Fowler, 33, Louisville, and Herman Pack, 34. The women were arrested on the basis of a description given by Hyman Barrar, 40, of Dayton, O., who told police he met them in a loop bar, took them to his room and then after a few drinks fell asleep. When he awoke, they had gone and jewelry worth $1,610 and $35 in cash were missing.

QUICK THINKING LEAVES ROBBER HOLDING A BAG

A blond young man, with his hand in his pocket as tho he had a gun, strode into the candy shop at 7861 South Ashland avenue last night. He confronted Mrs. Pauline Stefanos, and Miss Mary Contes, 5424 South Damen avenue, a clerk. "I want your money," he said gruffly. "Put it in a paper bag. Quick!"

Mrs. Stefanos, who with her husband Paul owns the shop, hurried to obey. She filled the paper bag, and handed it to the bandit who departed. Police said he's probably Chicago's unhappiest bandit because—

It wasn't money that Mrs. Stefanos had put into the bag. It was a handful of miniature Easter chicks. It's not Easter and the bandit can't use them, and the chicks are made out of plush and not candy—and he can't even eat them.

ADVISING PUBLIC ON JUDGES OUR DUTY, SAYS BAR

Association Accepts the Resignations of Three.

The Chicago Bar association, thru its board of governors, told Judge M. L. McKinley of the Superior court yesterday that it could not agree with his contention that judges should not belong to the organization.

The message was in the form of a letter from President Lloyd D. Heth notifying Judge McKinley that the board has accepted his resignation. The resignation of Judge Oscar Hebel and Judge E. I. Frankhauser also were accepted.

A part of the Heth letter to Judge McKinley follows:

"The members of the board disagree with the position taken in your letter of resignation that it is inadvisable for a judge to continue membership in our association because of a feeling of distrust it may create in the minds of nonmember lawyers as to his impartiality.

Member for 28 Years.

"We do not believe that any such feeling has been created by your own membership of more than 28 years in our association, during virtually all of which time you have been on the bench. Nor do we believe such a feeling exists toward other judges who are members of our association.

"It has not been our conception of the proper relation between the bench and bar that judges must hold themselves aloof from all contact with the lawyers who may practice before them.

"Quite to the contrary, we feel that the American tradition of friendly coöperation and understanding between bench and bar, in an effort to improve the administration of law, is sound. Our association has always endeavored to foster and preserve such relationship and we are confident that it will continue to do so.

Duty to Advise Public.

"But this effort to work understandingly with the judiciary in the public interest should not preclude the organized bar from interesting itself in the election of good judges. Accordingly, in common with similar associations thruout the United States, the Chicago Bar association has long recognized that it has a duty to advise the public upon the fitness of candidates for judicial office.

"While we are at all times willing to consider suggestions for the improvement of the details of its procedure, we are firm in the belief that the association is fulfilling an important public duty in making recommendations as to candidates for judicial office and we cannot shirk that responsibility."

GUNMEN PERIL FOUR IN HOLDUP OF TAXI GARAGE

Two gunmen yesterday menaced four employés, gained entrance to a bulletproof compartment, and stole between $1,500 and $1,800 in a robbery at the Checker Taxi company garage at 2713 Van Buren street.

The employés were Anthony Aperie, 2736 Flournoy street, a driver; Sam Ersler, 1451 South Avers avenue, night superintendent; Thomas Kirkland, 2135 Giddings street, day superintendent, and Raymond Meola, 4656 West End avenue, cashier.

One of the gunmen held Aperie a prisoner at the door while the other one forced Ersler to walk up to the bulletproof compartment which is a part of the office. Kirkland and Meola were in the compartment and presumably safe behind the protective glass. Kirkland, however, fearing that Ersler might be shot, acceded to the bandit's demand for entrance. The gunman then scooped the money into a gunnysack which he had with him, walked out, and with his companion, fled.

TWO ESCAPE FROM HOSPITAL.

Chicago police were asked yesterday to search for Joseph Kodlalk, 30 years old, and Albert Skyerce, 35, who escaped Saturday from the state hospital at Manteno, where they were patients.

QUOTING ABRAHAM LINCOLN

The Passion for Distinction.

Towering genius disdains a beaten path. It seeks regions hitherto unexplored. It sees no distinction in adding story to story upon the monuments of fame erected to the memory of others. It denies that it is glory enough to serve under any chief. It scorns to tread in the footsteps of any predecessor, however illustrious. It thirsts and burns for distinction; and if possible, it will have it.

A. Lincoln

Springfield, Jan. 27, 1837.

DIVIDED VOTE; DIVIDED NATION.

The senate has voted to take the nation into an undeclared naval and air war by repealing restrictions of the neutrality act against arming American ships and sending them into the war zones. The vote—50 to 37—was the closest yet recorded on a major administration measure affecting foreign policy.

By its vote the senate turned its back on the past and closed its eyes against the future. On Aug. 25, 1935, this same senate passed the original neutrality act by a vote of 77 to 2. On Jan. 6, 1937, by a vote of 80 to 0, it strengthened the arms embargo provisions. On March 3 of the same year it extended those provisions by a vote of 62 to 6. Thru all this period the neutrality act was acclaimed as a measure that would keep the country out of war.

When Mr. Roosevelt after the outbreak of the European war asked repeal of the arms embargo, the senate acquiesced by a vote of 63 to 30, but the new policy of cash and carry was still extoled as a guarantee against our becoming involved in the war.

By its latest act of submission to Mr. Roosevelt, the senate has all but surrendered the remnants of its prerogatives. As Sen. Tydings said, it is permitting war to be declared by executive fiat, and not by the chosen representatives of the people. The war is an executive war, not a national war. Mr. Roosevelt had not asked the neutrality repealer so that he might be freed to pursue a future course of action. He asked it as ratification of lawless personal acts already committed in defiance of a law still standing on the statute books.

The vote was a confession of the measure of the senate's self-abasement. Sen. Tydings rightly called it the politically expedient, hit-and-run action of a second rate "yes-but" government that will not face up to the consequences of the policy to which it has committed itself.

The administration had appealed for an overwhelming vote as a reflection of national unity. Instead the vote reflected a greater division of national sentiment on the war issue than the country has known in any of its previous wars. It is appalling that a country so divided should be led to the holocaust.

The resolution now goes back to the house of representatives, which must concur in the provisions added in the senate if the repealer is to be effective. This is the last chance that the people of this country have to save their sons from murder and the nation from suicide. If they value their liberties and the lives of those near to them who are being nominated for the sacrificial offerings, they will not lose a minute in conveying their views to their representatives in the house.

THE EDITOR NEEDN'T EXPLAIN.

James E. Mills, editor of the struck Birmingham Post, was asked by his counsel at a National Labor Relations board hearing whether he had ever said anything derogatory about the American Newspaper guild or other labor leaders. He replied, "I might have written things in editorials that could be construed as derogatory——"

Before he could continue James C. Batten, the trial examiner, interposed "That is a right which cannot be questioned here."

Mr. Batten was not only correct in affirming the right of freedom of the press but, for a labor board examiner, was enlightened. Under the Wagner act employers may not use argument or persuasion with employés who might want to join a union. They are denied freedom of speech, which is also in the bill of rights. And so far no one has come forward to restore them a right that is just as inalienable as is the right of the press to express itself freely.

MR. PROCOPE ASKS A QUESTION.

The state department has been trying to make the Finns quit fighting the Russians. Mr. Hull has made public a summary of several conversations with Finland's minister to Washington, Hjalmar Procope.

Undersecretary Sumner Welles says that on Aug. 18 he told Mr. Procope that the Russians would agree to cede some territory to Finland as the price of peace. The Finnish government says that no such offer was received but the question of veracity may be passed over for the present. From Mr. Welles' own account of the conversation it appears that Mr. Procope said the suggestion was very interesting but Finland had had some very unpleasant experiences with Russia in recent months. What guarantee would Mr. Welles give on behalf of the United States and Great Britain that if Russia is victorious in the war the Finns will be allowed to keep what Russia might concede in its present plight?

To that pertinent inquiry Mr. Welles replied with the greatest dignity that these were questions he was not prepared to discuss. That being so, it seems well within the probabilities that Mr. Procope didn't think the offer of enough importance to transmit.

Here, at any rate, is an incident which illuminates the folly of the foreign policy which our government is pursuing. It is marching toward war. Its purpose is to establish or perhaps to reëstablish a balance of power the world over but that balance, if achieved, will not last more than a few years unless we throw our whole weight into it. Even Mr. Welles did not dare commit the United States to anything like that because he knew that the American people do not hanker for such a rôle. Instinct and reason tell them that the job of world policeman will be immensely costly and will yield no compensating return. At the first opportunity they may be expected—as in 1919—to repudiate the deal.

PILING TAXES ON TAXES.

The revenue act of 1941 made taxpayers out of people who heretofore have been regarded as too poor to be assessed. It radically raised the rates applicable to persons who were already paying—and for many not just a little bit. Some people whose incomes have not been increased will pay 10 per cent more in taxes in 1942 than they paid in 1941, some will pay 25 per cent more, some 50 per cent more, some 100 per cent more, and some even 200 per cent more. Besides all this, new excise taxes were imposed and some old ones raised.

On corporations the previous law had been so severe that no further raise was conceivable. But the revenue act of 1941 boosted the excess profits tax and imposed a brand new 7 per cent surtax. The result is that the maximum rate on the top bracket of corporate earnings has been advanced from 62 per cent under the 1940 act to 72.4 per cent next year.

When Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau proposed the added 3½ billions which were later voted he said it was the biggest tax measure in all world history. Just as the human body can stand a lot of punishment, so can the business structure withstand a great amount of abuse. But there is a limit in the ability of man or business to take it. Whether these crushing taxes can be paid by individuals and corporations without impairing the ability of people to meet past obligations only the future can tell. The record breaking tax law was an experiment which would determine the ability of our economic system to withstand attrition.

The 1941 tax law levies taxes to be paid next year on the basis of incomes earned this year. With the ability of business to stand up under such a load still undetermined, Secretary Morgenthau on Wednesday asked that further taxes be imposed, amounting to nearly 5 billion dollars. If the top financial man in the Roosevelt administration has his way, employés will have to pay two years' income tax next year. Payment based on 1941 incomes will be made as before at quarterly intervals, and in addition the employer will be required to withhold enough out of each pay day in 1942 to pay substantially the tax on 1942 income. Besides all this the secretary wants the rates raised. He also wants higher social security taxes raised on both employer and employé.

The secretary of the treasury seems to think it is his duty to think up schemes to scare people once a month. Two months ago he said he would ask for a 100 per cent tax on profits over 6 per cent. A month ago he told the bankers he was for raising a lot more money by soaking those companies making goods for civilians. Now he wants social security taxes raised and 1943 income taxes collected one year early. What will it be in December, Mr. Secretary?

It is unthinkable that congress will have anything to do with any of Morgenthau's monthly money madness. Our legislative representatives must understand that it is good sense to see if the burden only recently imposed can be carried before piling on more weight.

STRIKE THREAT.

Executives of the Big Five railroad operating brotherhoods have announced that there will be a strike of approximately 350,000 operating employés of the railroads to enforce a demand for a 30 per cent wage increase and as a protest against the 7½ per cent pay increase recommended by the Presidential fact finding board.

The 900,000 nonoperating employés of the roads postponed until this week their answer to the fact finding board's offer of a 13½ per cent raise in wages. It is believed they too will reject the offer. It is estimated that the added costs involved in these wage raises will be $270,000,000 annually to the railroads.

The wage increase recommended by the board was to be a temporary or emergency increase. The public would pay it thru an increase in freight rates. On account of the boom in war business, there will probably be enough traffic for all forms of transportation, including rail, water, and highway, so that the railroads will not necessarily lose any considerable amount of freight to their competitors on account of the increase in freight charges. However, if normal competitive conditions ever return, the rail carriers will again be faced with the same threat of bankruptcy and government ownership that they encountered after World war No. 1.

The country is facing active participation in war, a burden of debt that may mean repudiation or bankruptcy, and the prospect of personal sacrifices of blood and treasure affecting every family in the nation. A complete paralysis of the country's chief transportation facility cannot be tolerated at this time. If such a strike is made effective, the "economic planners" of the New Deal will welcome the opportunity of taking over one of the nation's largest industries and fitting it into the new order of socialism. That would be the end of the brotherhoods.

HERALDRY AND SIR HAROLD.

A federal grand jury has refused to share in Harold L. Ickes' latest tantrum. Mr. Ickes asked the indictment of two men who sent him a letter saying they would look up his family tree. He sent them $2 and they sent him the Ickes coat of arms. Mr. Ickes knew full well that there was no Ickes coat of arms, and in the usual manner of those who have been taken for a sucker he blew the police whistle. But the grand jury refused to act. The jurors evidently felt that if Mr. Ickes wanted to know something about his ancestors all he had to do was ask some one—in fact, any one.

THE NAZI PRESS.

[Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.]

Herr Amann, head of the Nazi party's press and publishing section, announced in Berlin that the party now owns or controls newspapers which have two-thirds of the total circulation in the reich.

The total circulation, however, has fallen greatly during the period in which the party was assuming "both technically and economically" the control of the press, and the number of papers is now less than half what it was before the Nazis came into power. That, however, is also credited to the Nazi system for, according to Herr Amann, the earlier "multitude of daily papers merely reflected the political disunity of the German people."

RAINY DAY RESEARCH.

We were in a lofty and empty turret of the Tribune Tower, whiling away a rainy evening by scanning the ancient files. It was a melancholy prowl thru a dim, gray past, but finally, after monotonous plodding across the desert of faded printer's ink, like a lucky prospector we stumbled upon a nugget.

The first by-line! It rose above the landscape like a freak of nature—say, like the Devil's Tower in Wyoming. "By Dr. Syntax." A pseudonym, of course, but a proper by-line, and not one of your bashful signatures at the bottom of a column.

The subject of Dr. Syntax's discourse, four or five columns in length, was the Henry Ward Beecher lawsuit against Theodore Tilton—the hottest news since the Civil war. Said Tilton had alleged that his wife was not above suspicion so far as Beecher was concerned, and the famous clergyman had indiscreetly taken the matter into court. So it happened that a certain Dr. Syntax, whose real name may never be known, filed thousands of words of juicy testimony in a dispatch from Brooklyn, dated Feb. 2, 1875. The later reports of the case, however, did not carry the by-line.

Then we remembered that in 1894 De Wolf Hopper had appeared in a comic opera entitled "Dr. Syntax." We decided to trace the fabulous gentleman back to his origin, and here are our findings:

In 1809 William Combe, an English satirist, achieved popularity with verses accompanying a series of caricatures by Thomas Rowlandson. The adventures of a grotesque clergyman and schoolteacher on a holiday tour were the subject of this work, entitled "Dr. Syntax in Search of the Picturesque." Sequels were published in 1820 and 1821—"The Second Tour of Dr. Syntax in Search of Consolation" and "The Third Tour of Dr. Syntax in Search of a Wife." These works were staples of Anglo-American humor for several generations. Dickens' "Pickwick Papers" was patterned more or less to their model.

It is entirely possible that Dr. Syntax was something more to journalism than the first by-line in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Maybe he was the first comic strip.

IN TIMES LIKE THESE.

'Tis heavy work, you say, in times like these,
To turn up reading matter, frothy, light—
The sort meant to divert, amuse, and please—
But how much harder it is now to write!
For when the heart is filled with doubt and fear,
How can the lips be made to sing and laugh?
See, all the world's afire, both far and near!
The day is fair, the day is foul; what then?
Why bother if birds sing or flowers bloom?
What tho the moon be full? Beneath it men
Still slay each other, helpless dupes of doom.
You must have humor? This will split your sides:
You know that old bellwether, smug, well-fed,
Out at the "yards," how cunningly he guides
The stupid sheep straight to the killing-shed?
He's like a grinning demagog, I think,
Would lead a trusting nation to the brink

The Life History of a Little Pitcher.

The other members of the family had their cream served in the family pitcher, but not little me. My cream was served in a small, individual pitcher which stood beside my plate. It was an old English crystal pitcher which had been brought to us by a friend who was employed in the home of English people in Chicago.

The little pitcher gleamed like a friendly smile, but it was sometimes resented, for I wanted to be grown up like my brothers and have my cream served in the big pitcher. My chin reached only a short distance above the table when I was seated, but I would not sit on anything to be higher, and longed for the day when I should be grown up and "could do as I pleased."

The years went slowly by and it was my 16th birthday, which was a special occasion and the pitcher was present. I remonstrated that it would seem when one was several years in his teens he should have the dignity of not being reminded of his childhood days, but she smiled and said, "If you don't mind . . ." and so it remained.

O, those interminable teens, would they never end? Yes, they would, and it was my 21st birthday, but the little pitcher was, as usual, beside my plate. Its presence was not resented so much, now. One could smile tolerantly and use it, and it did make one feel important.

The teens were long, but not the twenties. They were gone; they were gone before I knew, and my birthday came around again, and I was one and thirty, and the little pitcher was standing beside my plate. I looked at her and she at me, but neither of us spoke.

That was not yesterday, and the little English cream pitcher now reposes on the top of our bookcase, a symbol of love and human kindness.

THE BOOM IN BABIES.

(A Brookfield Ballad.)

We all have noticed, I presume,
The zoo is having quite a boom;
The creatures, two by two in spring,
Have multiplied like everything,
And in a vast parental pride
They strut with junior by their side;
While I, amid such happiness,
Find one misgiving, nonetheless,
For maybe every added birth
Means they've inherited the earth
And mankind's lost its ancient lease
Because we haven't kept the peace.

MUZZLE THAT SNEEZE.

SNEEZING is a common sign of an oncoming cold. A single episode, however, may occur whenever any irritant disturbs the lining membrane of the air passages. Then it is that vigorous cleaning out of the nasal channels becomes imperative. A powerful paroxysm is induced which is ushered in by two or three short inspirations as the "charge" gathers momentum. Then ensues the hurricanelike explosion [whoiss-sheee] which can propel fragments of bacteria carrying mucus across an ordinary living room.

How do we know that this custom is an excellent disease disseminator? Flashlight and high speed photography have enabled research workers to record the pattern of the discharge of the germ laden particles of which thousands are expelled with each seizure. And how they do go! Tests have shown that each bit of spray possesses an initial velocity, as it leaves the nose or the mouth, of 150 feet per second.

Where does the shower come from? The bulk proceeds from the mouth and nose; a mixture of saliva and nasal mucus. If the head is held in the ordinary position—not bent forward—the stream will travel 5 or 6 feet in a horizontal direction. Much, of course, will depend upon the size of the globules. Culture plates set at various distances—from 3 to 10 feet—will show contamination. The concentration is higher the closer one is to the source of supply.

But what about infection? All kinds of bacteria are dispersed. In one experiment, a dish of gelatine was placed 2 feet away from a healthy person. One outburst planted 19,000 colonies of organisms. We must recall that each one came from a separate drop. The number of "bugs" per batch defies estimation. Every atom of discharge which is sent forth is a potential hazard for you and me. This is emphasized by a careful investigation which showed that a culture bowl open on a table, five feet from an individual, who was induced to sneeze twice, acquired 493 germ colonies. All this was in a clean room.

But what can we do about it? We can instruct every one not to smother the outburst but to cover the face [nostrils and mouth] with a large handkerchief or a generous amount of paper tissue. The latter is preferred because it can be burned, thus destroying the invaders. Small, gossamerlike, beautifully embroidered "hankies" will not suffice. Ample folds will be required to catch and hold the dangerous exudate.

Lest some one may say "I watch my sneezing and I don't spread microbes," it should be stated that an instantaneous photograph of the speaker, caught in the act, would tell quite a different story. The reason why this procedure is so powerful as a sower of organisms is because the force is so great—far more than a cough.

The slogan must be not only "cover up a cough" but—more important—"filter each sneeze." The excuse may be offered that it comes so quickly and with so little warning that there is no time to locate a pocket kerchief and use it. Practice makes perfect. "Wipes" should be parked in favorable spots so that they may be available instantly.

Perhaps we need to establish training classes for the acquisition of dexterity in catching the horde of droplets that may make trouble for our friends. The bare hands will not do. In addition, we must remember that the mouth as well as the nose must be thoroly protected. Movies taken of a well corralled performance show no spread of noxious bacteria.

Wet, secretion soaked squares of cloth will be useless. The "enthusiasm" of the blast will allow bacilli to pass. We need several folds of dry gauze to safeguard our associates.

An old time medical adage tells us to take something icy when a cold is present. Ice cream is an excellent food and is easily digested. Each morsel should be allowed to melt completely within the mouth before swallowing so as not to shock the stomach.

CONTRASTS NATURE AND MAN.

U. S. Weather Station, Olney, Ill., Nov. 6.—Altho our crop growing season of 1941 was officially ended 10 days ago by the first freezing temperature of the coming winter, mother nature is continuing to sponsor the growth of late gardens, flowers, and our grass and wheat crops.

War mongers, too, are busy in promoting strife among friendly peoples, bringing war, famine, pestilence, and the blasts of winter to millions of homeless and fuelless inhabitants of the earch who otherwise would be dwelling in a paradise of peace and plenty, such as our Creator intended this earth to be.

Let us say again and again: "What fools we mortals be!"

ADAMS' WARNING.

New York, Nov. 6.—In a little known address on July 4, 1821, John Quincy Adams declared that probably for centuries all the contests of the European world would be those of "inveterate power and emerging right." Averring that it was not the policy of this nation to go abroad "in search of monsters to destroy," he added that tho America "might become the dictatress of the world, she would be no longer the ruler of her own soul"; and, if inextricably involved, "the fundamental maxims of her policy insensibly must change from liberty to force." [Ford Pamphlets.]

Crisis of war confronts America; it goes to the soul of America; it touches vitally that equal liberty, equal justice, and equal right upon which the joint and several sovereignty of the American people is based, and all that is vital and legitimate in government or its policy.

Except these foundation principles be preserved and maintained, force must supplant our liberties. That is Adams' plain warning. J. WHITLA STINSON.

THE MONEY GOES TO RUSSIA.

Chicago, Nov. 7—Several men of the age that is not easy to get employment have received four hours notice that the WPA project they were on would close and that it might be several weeks before they could be put on again. Their records show they are of the type that did work and also lost no time thru drinking, late hours, etc. Rather strange this happened the day after election or is it because it is costing Uncle Sam so much to help Red Russia? THE MOVABLE HOLIDAY.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—I learned today thru your office that Thanksgiving would be held in Illinois on the 20th. I am planning a vacation in Pennsylvania over that holiday if I can find out when it is to be held there. There must be many more people in the same fix as myself. Could you find space in your paper to print a list of the states and when they have the holiday? Hope we will get back to normal some day. W. H. A.

BACKS AWAY FROM LABOR.

Quincy, Ill., Nov. 5.—As readers of THE TRIBUNE for 25 years or more we wish to commend your courageous stand against the war mongers and this country's entrance into the European war. How can any intelligent man or woman take seriously Roosevelt's emergencies when he is manifestly more concerned about retaining the allegiance of the CIO and other labor unions [presumably having a fourth term in mind] than he is about national defense?

If he is really sincere about our need of national defense and the great danger that faces us, why is he continually backing down and away from any showdown with labor?

No one can possibly detest Hitler and Hitlerism any more than I do, but if we allow ourselves to be duped into Europe's wars and send our boys over there, especially after our experience in the last World war, it will prove us as "easy marks" and foolish as those countries think we are.

FROM MIDDLE WEST VINES.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Here's your answer about the absence of the native grapes this year, Mr. Z. T. Rosson. The facts show that Michigan vines were not loaded to the guards this year, but that the combined crop in Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana was estimated at only 75,300 tons against 96,100 last year. Only 103 cars of grapes from those states were marketed in Chicago this year, compared with 382 last year. Surprising as it may sound to you, we did not get a single car of grapes from Ohio this year, and only two last year.

Altho the local crop was more than 20 per cent lighter than a year ago, the California crop this year was 4 per cent larger and was estimated at 2,347,000 tons.

High prices paid to growers by commercial canners this year was another reason for the light supply on the local markets. LANCE HOOKS.

BOYS DRESS DOLLS.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—The boys in the eighth grade at Belding school, Tripp avenue and Berteau, have been instructed to dress four dolls. In addition they are to take a course in cooking. The girls are making aprons. One of the boys in open forum objected to dressing dolls and was told by the teacher these were orders from the board of education.

I just wonder if the board is growing soft or what is behind such apparent nonsense. Can you help out a bewildered taxpayer? WM. E. MEYER.

SEEING THINGS ON THE SEA.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Just listened to a radio newscaster who said "a German submarine had been sighted off the coast of Newfoundland."

My! My! My! To identify it as a German submarine it would have had to be on the surface and, if I recall correctly, it was sighted from land. So what!

Why the heck didn't they blow it up? Don't they have any guns along the coast? Newfoundland belongs to Britain, if I remember my geography correctly.

Maybe they thought our Washington officials would hear the call and send the United States navy up there [maybe they will; who knows what is next?]. What did they do with the 50 destroyers we gave them? Where is the great British fleet? All in our dry docks for repair?

Common sense tells us that if it were a German submarine it wouldn't be on the surface there, and if it were on the surface it wouldn't be German. Such propaganda! They must think there is no limit to the extent they can bunk us.

TOO MUCH.

ONE VIEW OF THE VOTE.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Chairman Dempsey's opinion to the contrary, Tuesday's judicial election netted the following results:

1. It weakened the Republican party, by reason of the defeat.
2. It strengthened the Democratic party, by reason of the victory.
3. It victimized the Republican candidates, who were led to believe they had a chance to win.
4. It cost the already overburdened taxpayers more than $250,000—a tremendous waste of public monies. J. W. M.

PROTESTS CROWDING.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Why don't they do something about the crowding of street cars to their full capacities? By they I mean the heads of the Chicago Surface Lines. Would it be too much to install more street cars and hire a few more men? It would be more convenient for the people and give Chicago's street car transportation a better reputation.

DIVORCE.

Three Lakes, Wis., Nov. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A man, legal resident of Chicago, wanted a divorce. Not having any grounds he forced the wife—a legal resident of Wisconsin—upon advice of an attorney in Wisconsin, to go to Chicago and apply for a divorce. All attorneys in proceedings knew the wife was a legal resident of Wisconsin and was only in Chicago three months when divorce was granted, but the attorneys agreed to forget the fact she was not a resident. Now as the wife has learned she should have been there a year, she would like to find out if this divorce is legal. She has written the attorney several times but he refuses to answer. Z. M.

If the facts are such that the court did not have jurisdiction, then the decree would be invalid. The attorney who handled the case is in a better position to advise you than we are. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

He wants to know do we have to use The Bulletin

OVER THE YEARS, many advertisers have got the idea they must use The Evening Bulletin—that it is the only newspaper to reach Philadelphia. That is very flattering—but not quite true.

Before any question about advertising in The Bulletin can be answered—you must decide what you expect of a newspaper in Philadelphia.

DO YOU WANT CONCENTRATED COVERAGE? The Bulletin is strictly a local newspaper. 95% of its circulation is in the area that buys 95% of Philadelphia merchandise.

For 36 years The Bulletin has held the lead in circulation—without gadgets, tricks or stunts. But it does not pretend to cover families outside the Philadelphia marketing area.

DO YOU WANT THOROUGH READERSHIP? Surveys show that the average reader spends 43% more time on The Evening Bulletin than on any other daily newspaper in Philadelphia. They show that more people expect to find advertising of products they buy in The Bulletin.

Such readership is a precious thing for a newspaper and its advertisers. That is why news is so carefully edited in The Bulletin. Readers have built The Bulletin—because The Bulletin is built for its readers.

ARE YOU INFLUENCED BY THE COMPANY YOU KEEP? Advertisers know there are certain classifications of advertising which The Bulletin will not accept. Here again, it is part of the policy which puts the reader first.

The Bulletin publishes nearly twice as much general display advertising (excepting those classifications which The Bulletin does not accept) as the "second" newspaper in the market—greater leadership than you'll find in any of the ten largest cities of the country.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

Chicago opera stole a leaf from the book of the Egyptians, the Romans, and the Elizabethans Saturday night, when fine perfume was sprayed thru the auditorium to heighten the atmosphere of beauty and glamor that surrounds an opening. A twentieth century ventilating system was the vehicle for revival of an ancient custom.

A twentieth century perfume, too, was used in this streamlining of an old ritual. It happens to be one of the most intriguing of all modern perfumes, with an unusual history since it came to this country. It was tremendously distinguished in France. It made its entry here quietly and then zoomed into the soundest kind of popularity.

The perfume—and the cologne that echoes its unusual fragrance—is one that develops on acquaintance. It has the rare quality of depth—by which we do NOT mean that it is heavy. What we do mean is that as you wear it and know it you find new, more interesting notes in it. It has glamor and glitter and stirring tones as well, and it's the kind of fragrance that you enjoy by day or by night and with simple as well as dressy clothes.

Its use at the opera on Saturday—and again tonight—reminded us that we hadn't reminded you of it in rather a long time. It's a perfume that shouldn't be overlooked. The cologne is a delight, too, that packs a great deal of the same charm.

Dog Fanciers Groom Entries for Club Show

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGO dog fanciers are grooming their champions in preparation for the Western Specialty Clubs' association show on Nov. 29 and 30. The event, which will be held at the Coliseum, is the midwest's largest dog show [last year there were 1,234 entries].

Among those making the longest journeys to Chicago for the show will be Mrs. Albert G. Simms' Irish terriers, which will be brought from her Los Poblanos kennels in Albuquerque, N. M. Mrs. George Putnam has entered French poodles from her Puttencove kennels in Manchester, Mass.

Champion Cefnmabley Queen will be seeking new prizes for the Conway H. Olmsteds' trophy room. Mr. Olmsted is president of the Chicago Bulldog club, which is adding three new show classes to its specialty showing.

Chihuahua Club Names Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody.

The classes for dachshunds will attract the C. Daggett Harveys' interest, as Mr. Harvey is vice president of the Central States Dachshund club. Albert E. Van Court will come from Encino, Cal., to judge the dachshunds. The Chihuahua Club of America has delegated Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody as its delegate to the American Kennel club, and as such she is helping other officials of the club to prepare an entry list.

Mrs. Simms has been in New Mexico since early fall, when the Sandia school opened, and she probably is not coming east until later in the winter or early in the spring. She is headmistress at the school and instructs the girls in horsemanship and dramatics. On Thanksgiving she will have all the students for dinner and supper at her home. Among her holiday guests from Chicago will be Mrs. Egbert Spencer's Susan, Mrs. T. W. Badger's Anne, and Lindsay, daughter of the Paul Harpers of Evanston.

Many of those who attended the opening performance of the opera Saturday night will be in the Civic Opera house again tonight when the first subscription performance is given. As a rule, the first Monday is as gala an occasion as the opening. Among those who will have dinner and opera box parties are Robert H. McCormick and his sister, Miss Elizabeth; the James G. McMillans, Fred A. Poor, Mrs. Ernest R. Graham, the Nathaniel Leverones, the Weymouth Kirklands, and Mrs. Jacob Baur.

Mrs. James Ward Thorne to Show Wrapping Art.

Mrs. James Ward Thorne is as noted among her friends for her Christmas packages as she is for her miniature rooms, which have been admired by hundreds of thousands since the first one was displayed. Today at luncheon time at The Little Traveler in Geneva Mrs. Thorne will show 27 different ways of wrapping and boxing a Christmas package. This is not the first year that this talented woman has had a "Boxing day" at The Little Traveler; in fact, it has become a tradition and there are many who look forward to it each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McWilliams, who recently arrived from France after a long residence there, will be entertained at luncheon Saturday at the Arts club by the Alliance Française. Before luncheon Mr. McWilliams will address the alliance.

The Chicago Vassar club is forgoing a benefit this year in favor of a series of three exhibits to show Vassar women "At Home," "At Work," and "At Large." The first of the meetings, "At Home," will be an exhibition luncheon today at the Chicago Athletic association. "Home from the Bride's Point of View" will be described by Mrs. Renslow Sherer; "Grandmother's Point of View," by Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, and "Learning to Live in the Country," by Mrs. Paul Jenkins. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock, but the picture gallery of Vassar children and grandchildren, as well as table settings, flower arrangements, and needlepoint exhibits will be open from 11 to 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Arthur Cole will introduce the speakers. Mrs. Peter Brandsness is chairman of the program committ-

Bid Adieu to Chicago for Season

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Joan Reid and Miss Louise Strawn (right) will be missing from Chicago most of this winter. Miss Reid is to be married on Saturday to Lieut. Elliott Detchon, and they will live in Alexandria, Va. The wedding will take place in Wilmington, Del., because Lieut. Detchon cannot obtain a long enough leave to come home for the ceremony. Miss Strawn, a debutante, and her mother, Mrs. Taylor Strawn, left recently to spend the early winter in Arizona. They will return to their Lake Forest home for Christmas.

Front Views and Profiles By June Provines

Privately Recorded.

A hobby whose results now assume historical importance is represented in the collection of informal motion pictures of great French contemporary artists, writers, and musicians, in the possession of Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed. The pictures were taken by Mrs. Goodspeed herself—an amateur photographer of long standing—during various trips to Paris, many of them when she was assembling exhibitions or planning programs for the Arts club during her eight years as president. They offer a record of many of the personalities in contemporary French cultural history. Taken only because of their interest to her personally thru friendships involved, they are doubly important now since the breaking up of the great artistic groups in Paris as a result of the German invasion.

* *

Among Mrs. Goodspeed's pictures:

André Maurois and his wife. Intimate pictures taken in his library at Neuilly, which since has been rifled by the Germans, who left him nothing, not even his own manuscripts. Maurois, a liaison officer with the British when Belgium collapsed, succeeded in getting to Paris after the Dunkirk evacuation, and later went to London, then Canada. He taught at Mills college in California last summer.

Pedro Pruna, Spanish painter who worked for the ballet in Diaghileff's time, and many of whose paintings are in art collections of Chicagoans. He is said to be in an asylum in Spain, half crazed by the Spanish civil war and the world situation.

Braque in his studio, with one of his magnificent paintings on the easel behind him. He is said to be still in Paris, according to Mrs. Goodspeed, since his country place at Varengeville on the coast of Normandy has been wrecked by constant bombings and it is now forbidden territory.

Derain at the door of his studio in Paris. His country home with many of his paintings and his fine collection of musical instruments has been entirely destroyed by fire.

"The Germans call him Grand Maitre," said Mrs. Goodspeed in an informal talk as she showed her pictures during a club program. "It may be because they wish to flatter the French, for Derain paints in the purest French tradition of any of the artists. This praise infuriates him, and he refuses to paint any more."

Brancusi, with one of his sculptures called "The Duck." [His Bird in Flight is at the Arts club.] The bearded Rumanian sculptor is still in Paris, but he locks himself in his studio and sees no one. He dislikes being photographed, and Mrs. Goodspeed's movies probably are the only ones of him in existence.

Dunoyer de Segonzac, photographed in Corot's little garden where many of his paintings were done. The pictures, in color, show the flower gardens and the monument to Corot in the garden. Segonzac, who has been ill, is now living at San Tropez on the Riviera.

Despiau, in his studio. It is probably the only movie in existence of the sculptor who, with Maillol, is probably the greatest of living French sculptors. He was working on a head of Segonzac when Segonzac took Mrs. Goodspeed to see him, and the pictures taken in his studio show the head of the artist.

There are dozens of others, of Picasso and Matisse, Colette, and Stravisky and Christian Berard, in color with his pink beard showing up magnificently; of Marcel Duchamp, and Poulenc and Bernard Fay and Marie Laurencin, and Lifar. Their whereabouts and the news about them will be told another day in this space.

Stock to Observe 69th Birthday by Concert for Sailors

Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, will celebrate his 69th birthday tomorrow by taking his men to the Great Lakes Naval Training station to present a concert before 4,000 men in uniform. This is the type of birthday observance he requested after noting the number of service men who attended the first two popular concerts of the season in Orchestra hall. Both he and the men of the orchestra are giving their services for this special Armistice day concert.

Tomorrow will be one of the busiest days in the orchestra's 50 year history, for the second of the season's Tuesday subscription concerts in Orchestra hall must be played in the afternoon. At its conclusion the orchestra will quickly change to evening dress, board a special train, and arrive at Great Lakes in time for a buffet dinner with the service men in their mess hall. The concert will begin at 8:15 in the main drill hall.

Ilse Maren, resident pianist, gave a recital in Kimball hall yesterday afternoon, offering a program of classical, romantic and modern music.

BY CECIL SMITH.

Last evening it seemed a little as if Claudia and David Naughton, the principal characters of "Claudia" at the Selwyn theater, had moved next door to the Harris, changed their surname to North, discovered a couple of corpses in the closets of their new home, and become embroiled in a police investigation.

Mrs. North, like Claudia and like Eileen of "My Sister Eileen" and like Mrs. Tommy Turner of "The Male Animal," is a blithe heroine in the current New Yorker fashion, endowed by nature with a rare gift of illogic and a conspicuous habit of opening a conversational switch in order to send a discussion or debate onto a sidetrack. And Mr. North, like David Naughton, is one of those sturdy and winning fellows who loves his wife in spite of it all.

It is the daft but cozy marital relationship of the Norths rather than the conventional murder riddles that makes "Mr. and Mrs. North" such a thoroly agreeable little piece of fluff. No playgoer in 1941 is likely to work up much concern over the identity of Stanley Brent's murderer or to give a second thought to the unfortunate mailman who is disposed of later.

But only a spectator hardened by undue sophistication will fail to enjoy the Norths, as Anita Louise and Owen Davis Jr. represent them. Miss Louise is a witty and volatile little actress, direct and effective in the delivery of her lines, and winsome and gracious of bearing. And unlike some Hollywood beauties, she is so lovely to look at that her most glamorous photographs do not set one's expectation too high. If I had not been held back by a deplorable sense of decorum, I should have liked to second the acclaim of the navy boys in the audience who rewarded her appearance in the last act in a green ensemble with a chorus of soft, admiring whistles.

Mr. Davis, who first made himself known in Chicago some 15 years ago in "The Barker," has retained all his buoyancy and pleasant extroversion. Eager to help his slender play along, he worked too hard at first, but by the second act he found the right key and substituted animation for stridency.

In dwelling upon the friendly high spirits and the oblique humor of the play and upon the amiable qualities of the two featured players, I have deliberately emphasized the aspects of "Mr. and Mrs. North" which will, I am sure, win it a host of friends. There is no overlooking the fact that the "whodunit" plot is old hat, and at times a little laboriously developed. Nor, despite creditable work by Coburn Goodwin, Blair Davies, and some others, does the cast strike the highest Theater Guild or Playwrights company level. But the play is good fun, and worth an evening.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY.

Which makes the better employer, a man or a woman? Here are a few answers, served à la mode at lunch:

A visiting nurse—In any kind of social or humanitarian work, I'd prefer a woman employer. To a man, "rules is rules." But a woman will cut red tape, dig into her pocketbook, disregard official procedure, and act on the principle of human kindness when the need is urgent.

A radio script writer—I'd rather work for a man. Few women can get away from the old "What's she got that I haven't got?" query. You can't do good work for some one who is competing with you, and the majority of women executives compete with their own employés.

An office supervisor—I like to work with women for a man. Our business runs most smoothly when I am functioning most efficiently as a go-between between the "boss" and the "girls."

A salesgirl—I'd rather work for a man any day. When I work for a woman I'm sure to draw the never tire, stalwart soul who is still on her feet when I'm flat on my back. Women are slave drivers. They're "killer-dillers" in business.

And there it is! Something to munch on along with a candy bar.

If you are a mature person you sleep well, so a famous psychiatrist observes. Restlessness in sleep derives, he says, mostly from a feeling of insecurity and pessimism. If life were really as insecure as the pessimists believe, according to the psychiatrist, who has a sense of humor, then we could not trust ourselves to the unknown darkness of sleep at all. In other words, mere falling asleep implies a faith in the orderliness and plan of life.

Remembering this, after a trying day in business, does more for the tired pillow crumpler than counting white . . . or black . . . sheep.

The eternal problem, good for a two hour wrangle at any women's party, as to whether a girl can tackle a career and a family is neatly covered in a new book, "And Beat Him When He Sneezes."

The author proves delightfully that mothering is less a matter of unlimited time than of unlimited understanding. Of the pieces reflecting the home life of her family—a husband and three boys—I liked best the one on Puppy Love, in which she tells of a "magnificent bunch of keys to nowhere" being presented to an alluring maiden by a love bitten lad of 4. Or the reference to the cherished gift of a live grasshopper. "It can hop like heck," the youthful gallant confided to the very young lady of his heart.

It all brings out of the dusty file the memory of Walter George who, in second grade, dashed into the cloakroom and donned my navy blue cap. Filled with girlish glee over the antics of this man of 7, I tipped over the teacher's sprinkling can, which fell to the floor with a terrible clatter. [Walter, dear Walter, where are you now? Don't write . . . wire.]

Clinging Crepe Dinner Gowns Tops in Glamor

BY REA SEEGER.

There are new dinner gowns in town that are the very last word in glamor, supersophistication, and streamlining. Clinging crêpe, and it really does cling, is the material. The colors are flattering, subtle, and some are spellbinders . . . creations that are worth every penny you spend to own them. There are breath-taking all-white models that swing provocatively with fringe, fringe in double rows on the needle straight skirt, and fringe in rows on the bodice top to outline the vee shaped décolletage.

There are slinky all-black finds with huge decorative buttons as the only contrast; but the gown itself a miracle of fluid grace and intricate drapery. And there are stunning costumes made of two or three color combines that are symphonies of color accent. There are harem skirt adaptations with the swinging fullness in the center front held in place with a hip swathed band and there are wide, straight, loose sleeved creations handsomely alight with gold braid, kidskin bows, applique and elaborate gold braided motifs.

Wide belts that flash with barbaric splendor define the hand-span waistlines of other new arrivals, as for instance, a vivid cerise crêpe gown with an eye blinding gold belt at least six inches deep.

Copper colored crêpes, plenty of neutral beige tones, and some extreme romantic pale grays, shimmering with silver embroidery, and the popular tailored types gleaming with metal nail head trim, complete one of the most outstanding collections of dinner clothes yet unpacked this season.

This collection specializes in the jacketless dinner gowns. All the sleeves are either bracelet length or the fascinating new just below the elbow length or else the wide, loose, simply cut sleeves ending in shallow turnover cuffs.

"Justice Deferred"

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1941: By William MacLeod Raine)

Darkness began to flow over the desert before Jack Waugh reached Santa Rita. Since morning he had driven 400 miles, most of the distance over dusty roads, and he knew he must be getting near the city. To come to his journey's end would be a relief.

First, a hot tub where he could relax stiff muscles, and then a leisurely dinner at the best restaurant available. A planked steak, hashed brown potatoes, and a pot of good coffee would contribute to the sense of indolent well being that ought to mark the close of a working day. He would stroll thru the principal downtown streets to orient himself before turning in for nine hours of sound sleep.

A full moon came up over the horizon and bathed the desert in a subdued light that softened magically the dessicated dryness of the parched terrain. No detail of the country looked familiar to Waugh. It had been more than 20 years since he had seen it last, on the unhappy night when his father had been ambushed and murdered. They had ridden along this very road to his death.

In those days the surface had been rough and ungraded. Both of them had worn bandanna handkerchiefs over their mouths to keep from swallowing too much dust. The silk scarf was still covering the lower part of Peter Waugh's face when his small son had knelt down beside him in the longhorn corral after the guns had stopped roaring.

The car topped a dozen hills before Jack Waugh looked down on the city huddled below him. The street lights were strung out like rows of stars hung on invisible threads. He dropped from the hill prong and ran along a road bordered by a hedge back of which was a golf course. This must be the country club, he guessed. Every growing young city had to have one these days. They were springing up like mushrooms.

Now that the war was over everybody was beginning to play golf. He had never had a club in his hands. There were a lot of things he had missed. One of them was schooling. He had been forced to scramble too hard for a living for himself and his mother. Later he read a lot. There had been plenty of time in the trenches on the Flanders front. The captain of his company had been a Princeton man and he had lent him a good many books. Since leaving the army he had kept up the habit.

From the gateway of the club a car turned into the highway just ahead of Waugh. He followed it for half a mile, and when it deflected to run into a filling station he also drew up there. His gasoline was low. No need to take the risk of an empty tank.

While one of the attendants gave him gas Waugh looked across at the sport coupe standing at the other pump. The driver was a woman. As she leaned toward the window to pay he noticed the poised grace of the fine young head. She took the road a moment before he did. It was the dinner hour and there was a lull in the traffic.

They had the boulevard to themselves until a black sedan came out of a side street and swung in between the two. Speeding up, the sedan drew abreast of the coupe and crowded it to the curb. Both drivers ammed down their brakes and halted. A man in a police uniform jumped from the black car and ran to the other. His companion remained at the wheel. He let the engine idle while he waited.

Waugh pulled up behind the coupe. It was none of his business and he would have resented any suggestion that he was a knight errant. But this cavalier way of stopping an alleged traffic offender annoyed him. The officers were evidently going to charge the young woman with speeding, and he knew that she had been going at a moderate pace. The girl was only a kid, not much over 20. He thought he might enjoy going to bat for her against the cops. He intended to ask the blue coat first whether it was a Santa Rita police custom to try to wreck cars before they handed tickets to the owners.

Jack slid out from behind the wheel and moved forward to take a hand.

The man in the uniform was talking roughly to the young woman. "Get outa that car," he ordered. "We're taking you to headquarters."

"What for?" she demanded sharply.

"For speeding. Slide outa there, miss. Pronto. Cut the gab."

"No!" she retorted, anger in her voice. "I'm not going to headquarters. I wasn't speeding. If you claim I was, take my number and give me a ticket."

"Don't talk back to me," the man snarled, menace in his heavy voice. "Get outa there before I drag you from the seat. You're going in my car."

Something was wrong with this setup. Waugh knew it before he had taken three steps, before the quiet of the night erupted into a volcanic action.

A voice from the sedan shouted warning. "Look out, Clem! A guy's butting in!"

As Jack ran toward the coupe a gun roared. He heard the pinging of lead against the door of his car. The driver of the black automobile was leaning out of the window firing at him.

The fellow in uniform swung abruptly, revolver in hand. Swiftly his arm came up. The shot went wild, plowed into the gravel beside the paving. For in that split second before the finger pressed the trigger the fist of the young woman, stretched out of the window, came down sharply on the wrist back of the weapon.

Waugh plunged, head down, his shoulder driving into the gunman's stomach. The impact of the tackle flung the man from his feet. He went backward, doubled up, and struck the concrete heavily. Jack landed on top of him, and before his foe had recovered from the shock was astride of the prone torso. One knee pinned down the right forearm as it started to lift for another shot. Catching the head by both ears, Waugh jerked it up and hammered it down against the pavement. The breath came out of the man in a sobbing groan. The tense muscles of the ribs relaxed. Limbs and body collapsed inertly. From the slack fingers the man on top tore the revolver.

A bullet struck the paving and ricocheted into space. Jack clambered to his feet and dodged in between his own car and the coupe. The attacker was by this time out of the sedan, on the farther side of it. Waugh saw him peering around the radiator and flung a shot at him. Because the throw of the gun was strange to Jack, the bullet went wild. It shattered the front window.

From the shadows where he crouched, for by some fortunate chance he had turned off his lights, Waugh called to the young woman.

"Lie low in the car, miss."

The answer came to him in a low, throaty contralto. He was surprised at the coolness of the voice. "I'm doing fine," she said. "Look out for yourself."

The man Waugh had knocked out was coming back to life. He got to his hands and knees, pushed himself to his feet, and staggered to the sedan, weaving drunkenly. His companion jumped in and helped pull the fellow into the car. Without waiting to close the door, he released the brake and started down the road. The engine raced as it gathered momentum.

Out of the cover that had sheltered him Jack emerged and looked at the diminishing tail lights. The battle had ended as suddenly as it had begun.

"Fourth of July all over," he murmured. "No more fireworks a-tall."

He stepped to the window of the coupe just as the young woman was coming up from the floor. She glanced down the road at the disappearing sedan before she asked her question.

"You all right?"

"Couldn't be better. How about you?"

"Nothing wrong but my nerves. It was sort of breath-taking." She smiled at him, gay banter in her brown eyes. "You've won the battle of Waterloo Boulevard."

He liked her spirit. It matched his own. He guessed that a pulse of excitement was beating in her throat. That was the way to take danger, as a tonic for the dullness of living.

Universal Day—Clear the air by letting bygones be bygones. Don't carry over any grudges.

The Cycle of Numbers — An easy way to remember what the numbers mean in the cycle o' nine is to think of the first number, one, as the beginning of the cycle, the initial opening of the cycle. Let one stand in your mind for the individual making that first contact, taking the first step forward. One stands alone, so you have to stand on your own feet in a one year, make your own decisions, and take one course of action finally toward the goal which you think of as comiig at the end of the cycle. You start out with single minded purpose, and take the initial step in a one year. Certainly with the number one in your mind you can see why you musn't have a lot of side issues and why you need a clear path to be free to take that first step.

Campaigners Seek Last Million for the Community Fund

Chicago's 11th annual Community fund campaign will enter its sixth week today still needing approximately one million dollars to reach its $3,583,000 goal. Progress of the campaign, however, is considerably ahead of the 1940 campaign, according to Robert A. Gardner, president.

Thus far 72 per cent of the total sought has been received in 12,314 subscriptions. In a similar period in 1940 only 66 per cent had been received in 9,378 subscriptions. Apparently every division has worked faster this year.

Only 1,752 of the 7,775 business and industrial firms thruout the city having pledge cards have reported employé subscriptions. The 50,000 volunteer workers for Chicago's needy will concentrate this week on getting in as many pledge cards as possible. A report meeting will be held in the Palmer House Wednesday noon.

Film of Vatican City Beautiful and Engrossing

"THE STORY OF THE VATICAN."

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"The Story of the Vatican," with "exclusive pictures of His Holiness Pope Pius XII." cannot fail to prove most interesting to every one.

It is a feature length film, and the first complete motion picture ever filmed inside Vatican City. "The only spot in Europe today," says the press sheet, "where peace still reigns. . ."

Just before the start of World war No. 2, March of Time received permission to photograph in its entirety Vatican City. . . . Cameramen immediately got busy and before they were thru had "shot" more than 30,000 feet of film on ground where before no photographer had taken stand.

In February of 1940 part of the film was used by "March of Time" as a "short." . . . The first feature length edition, which was produced in Spanish and released in South America, won such favorable response that the present one was sent on its travels with Msgr. Sheen officiating as narrator. . . .

His commentary is quiet and at the same time vividly enlightening. Until you have heard him—and seen the picture—you can have no possible idea of the scope—in so many ways—of this smallest sovereign state in the world, of the great architecture and treasures it contains, of the activities that go on within its walls. . . .

Among the unforgettable sights brought to you via screen are the Sistine chapel, the masterpieces in the Vatican galleries, the Basilica of St. Peter's, the murals of Michelangelo, and the crypts under the cathedral where the popes are buried. . . . Also there are the pictures I mentioned of the present pope, including a study of him talking on international peace before his advisory board in the Academy of Science. . . .

The film is comparatively short, consistently engrossing, and beautifully photographed.

See you soon.

Bishop Speaks at Service in Christ Church, Winnetka

The Rt. Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, was guest speaker yesterday at a service commemorating the 65th anniversary of Christ church, Winnetka, and the silver anniversary of the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard's rectorship. The commemoration will be continued on Wednesday night when a parish dinner will be held and more than 100 members of the parish will present an historical pageant.

LOOKING AT HOLLYWOOD—By JOHN CHAPMAN

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 9.—Sunday—A morning of work and then to G. La Cava's, and Leo McCarey is there—a pool shark, but not as good or grasping as Adolphe Menjou. Universal studio has built La Cava a bungalow on the lot in which Dorothy Parker has been laboring on a script, and the party is a housewarming for the bungalow. But it isn't at the bungalow. It's at Greg's beach house. . . . I hear with disbelief and horror that W. C. Fields is on the wagon for life and already has done six weeks of that term. I am informed that it isn't because some doctor told him it would be a good idea, for his loathing of doctors is equaled only by his revulsion at lawyers. He simply decided he'd quit drinking because he spent a fortune trying to get stiff for 30 years and never got stiff. So he has written off the project as a total loss and instituted a new plan of money conservation. . . . I have learned, further, something of the episode Fields has written and will enact in "Tales of Manhattan," 20th-Fox's star-loaded episodic story of a full dress suit. The suit starts in high society on Charles Boyer, degenerates to an item in a second hand store after another of its owners, a gangster, has thoughtlessly got bullet holes in it. Fields, a juggler, needs some tails for his act, buys and dons it. Some foreign agents have a plot. A battleship is being launched by a dignitary, and the fifth columnists have arranged to give him a bottle of nitroglycerin instead of a bottle of champagne. They see Bill in his tails, mistake him for the dignitary, and slip him their supermickey. . . . Fields hates doctors and lawyers, but he gets really venomous about anybody who even dreams of tampering with one of his scripts. He was telling the other day about a conference concerning his scenario. "The damned fools," he exploded, "said, 'Now all we need is an ending.'!"

Ann Sothern and back [see below].

Monday—To Republic for a long talk with Boss Herbert Yates, who's enthusiastic about Joan Blondell's "Lady for a Day." The budget on this one is upward of $500,000, and Yates says, "I'll guarantee no other studio in town could make it for a million." . . . To Lakeside, and dinner with Alan Hale.

Tuesday—Back to Republic, where Miss Blondell is working on the back lot. Her movie involves the marriage of a gambling boat lady into a decadent aristocratic family of the old south. In this scene she's to drive a carriage down a shady road, have a runaway, collide with another carriage. A stunt girl will dub for her in the hard part. There's an old fellow with a white goatee around and he's having fits. His job is to see to it that the flavor of the old south is preserved, and he is yelping that this is the first roadside scene down there he ever saw that didn't have a eucalyptus tree in it. Yesterday he had fits because Joan, in a dance sequence, was wearing open toed slippers. Open toes, he vows, weren't known then. It's nice that the movies always have somebody around to check up on things like that. Gives you confidence in them. . . . Dinner at Perino's, and with the Elliston Vinsons to hear Lily Pons, Irra Petina, and Salvatore Baccaloni in "Daughter of the Regiment."

Wednesday—A day at desk and dial. . . . I learn that RKO has bought "Cheyenne" as a vehicle for Eddie Albert, who hasn't made any movies lately and once was reported to be on a blacklist. The story first was owned by Howard Hawks, who sold it to Walter Wanger. It's about a frontier days rodeo cowboy and cowgirl, but it's mostly a love story with the rodeo background incidental. . . . I hear, too, that Universal has engaged Alfred Hitchcock to direct his own story—or his and Joan Harrison's—called "The Saboteurs." Robert Cummings and Priscilla Lane to star, and Frank Lloyd to produce. . . . In the evening to see Paramount's "Birth of the Blues," in which Bing Crosby and Mary Martin are swell indeed.

Thursday—Wearing the typewriter to the bone all day, and in the evening with the R. Sisks to the opera again. This time the best "Rosenkavalier" since the days of Michael Bohnen and Marie Jeritza. I've heard Rise Stevens sing it many times, but tonight she's at her peak. I hope Metro's "Chocolate Soldier" goes over big so we'll have more of Miss Stevens in the movies. . . . The seat in front of me is occupied by a lady with lovely blonde hair and a beautiful back. Pretty soon she turns her head and I discover it's Ann Sothern. Her escort is Cesar Romero. . . . Gosh, it really is a nice back, and the black gown is cut low. . . . With half an hour of the last act to go I can see that Miss Sothern has developed a back itch. She wriggles slightly, hoping that the seat back will help, but it's no go. Gently she edges a hand over shoulder, but it's obvious the fingers won't reach. Romero doesn't even know she's in trouble. I want very much to help the lady out and give the back a good scratch, maybe whispering "Hiya, Maisie, old kid," but I don't. It would be a nice thing to do, but at the opry everybody has to behave so darn well—so Ann has to sit there and be a lady and take it.

Friday—To Columbia for a gander at the tentative version of the Fredric March-Loretta Young "Bedtime Story." And it's my guess that B. P. Schulberg and Al Hall, who made "He Stayed for Breakfast," will have another very happy hit. . . . Late in the afternoon to the RKO ranch with David Hempstead for an all night watch on the finishing nocturnal shots of "Joan of Paris." About which, more in the next column.

Saturday—To the United Artists lot, where Ernst Lubitsch is directing Carole Lombard and Jack Benny in "To Be or Not To Be," a comedy about a Polish Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt. As usual, Lubitsch acts everybody's line, and Carole thinks he's the funniest man ever. Lubitsch used to be an actor in Germany.

"No Light Came On"

By Alice Ormond Campbell

FINAL INSTALMENT.
A PROPOSAL.

"Did I tell you what De Chabenil tried to get out of me? First he wanted to know if Horace had recently been away, and second if he'd been here when Alixe called for her box."

"Oh? Yes, a brief absence on Rentrew's part might have meant a snooping visit from down south. Vitally important, of course, to learn not so much if Rentrew had learned of the marriage as when. De Chabenil all along had the correct idea. A bit ironic, don't you think, that his entire police statement was true?"

"It was true, was it? I don't doubt he had heaps of debts he didn't exactly want his wife to know about. His sort would. I suppose it didn't suit his book to begin bang off making exaggerated demands."

"Whereas it would have suited Rentrew's book, which is far more to the point. I say!" Miles got up and walked over to the Riesener table. "I suppose it hasn't dawned on you this piece of furniture is just a beautiful fake?"

"Fake. Sez you."

"Perfectly true, my dear. Made in Rentrew's workshop. The original table has been sold."

My head spun in circles. Red in the face I cried. "Now that I won't swallow! Tell me Horace would have dared——"

"Wait. When did the other table go to be repaired?"

"Directly Cousin Lou went into the nursing home; but——"

"Right! Now see here."

He was back, holding out an empty drawer.

"Well? I don't notice a thing."

"Manx noticed. Deep down in this corner there should be an old oily stain that wouldn't come out. As you see, the lining is perfectly clean. What you argue is true. Rentrew would never have dared dispose of his sister-in-law's property during her lifetime. If he couldn't resist a tempting deal it was conclusive proof, in Manx's eyes, that he knew the owner would die before she returned home."

I lay winded a moment; and then—

"Holy Moses!" I shouted. "Hand me a pen!"

"A pen?" But what for?"

"You poor mutt! To write a cable, of course, tell Pete Peters he's handling stolen goods! I'm going to earn my raise. This'll make them sit up and——"

"So that's all it means to you." Miles' eyes were bleak.

"Wh-what ought it to mean?" I was starting to cry.

"Yes, I see. Your job is all that matters. I may as well save my breath."

I'd found my handkerchief. "What were you meaning to say? Go ahead. I guess I can take it."

"A proposal of marriage? I daresay—and throw it back in my teeth!"

"A . . . did you say proposal?" I stared unbelieving. "But that's just being silly! You don't love me."

"No? Possibly not. You haven't given me much chance. Yet why do you suppose I set aside important business and took a long uncomfortable journey simply and solely to extricate you from a rather unpleasant fix?"

I couldn't speak. Not possibly, with his face all swollen looking and his voice so cast-iron.

"No other girl," he said, "has ever blistered me as you've done. Day after day. And there was no comeback for me. That was the crab. It did occur to me there might be just one way of climbing back into my ridiculous self-esteem; but no, even there I'm wrong. I'm just remembering you come in for a thousand pounds."

He had swung brusquely away and was refitting the drawer into its delicate grooves.

"Miles—" I stopped. "Miles, you've been so terribly good to me. With poor Catherine in quarantine and not another soul to—to send off cables to my family and keep them from—"

"Rot! Don't you see I understand?"

"—and coming here, even at your lunch hour—sitting by me way into the night when I was just a half-dead mess of sticky bandages, not worth bothering to save—" I put out my hand. "C-can't you at least let me apologize for—for getting you wrong?"

He was turning. He was back at my side. My fingers grazed his. He gripped them till they hurt. Then, still mistrustingly, he bent down. . . .

His mouth wasn't hard. What a breathtaking thrill! In the trembling midst of it I told myself I was learning things about Englishmen—learning them fast.

"Miles," I panted. "O, Miles . . . And that for quite a considerable time was about all.

It won't be long until you'll be roasting that turkey for Thanksgiving dinner, so isn't it about time to choose the right stuffing for the bird? Of course, you can roast the gobbler with no stuffing at all, as many women do who wish to streamline their menus in the interests of cutting down calories.

Any stuffing should be fluffy and light in texture, rather than moist, soggy and indigestible. That means toss the ingredients lightly, with only a little moistening. The old practice of soaking bread crumbs in water or milk, and then squeezing them out with the hands, produces soggy dressing every time. I realize that some families have learned to like this heavy type of filling, just because it is what always has been served to them on Thanksgiving, but I beg all good cooks to think of the after effects of a meal containing such indigestibility, and to encourage a liking for a light textured filling.

We have recipes for dressing which omit moistening entirely. Lots of butter, bread crumbs, and seasonings are the ingredients. But, while many women delight in its fluffiness, others report that their families prefer a moister dressing. This is one which I like very much, a fluffy, moist, flavorful dressing for turkey, duck, or chicken.

FLUFFY DRESSING.
[Will fill 12-16 pound turkey.]

1½ pound loaf stale bread
1 cup melted butter
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
¾ cup minced onion
1½ cups chopped celery
About ¾ cup broth from giblets
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning

Remove crusts from bread and cut it into inch cubes. Toss ingredients lightly together, sprinkling the butter and broth over the crumbs a little at a time.

CHESTNUT STUFFING FOR TURKEY.
[14-16 pound turkey.]

1½ pounds chestnuts
1¼ pound loaf of bread, crumbled
1 small onion, chopped
½ cup chopped celery tops
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 cup melted butter
Hot broth, milk or water to moisten

Slit each chestnut shell and place chestnuts in a shallow pan in a hot oven. Pour a tablespoon and a half of hot oil over them. It should be possible to remove shells and inner skin after five minutes in the oven. Boil chestnuts in salted water until tender, drain, and chop. Brown onion lightly in a little of the butter. Combine all ingredients and toss with forks.

Your Good Recipe May Win Prize; Submit It Now

BY MARY MEADE.

The world is full of recipes, but not all of them are good ones. Perhaps only five per cent are the kind which may be used with success by an amateur cook. But in the files of almost every good cook there will be a few of these usable, practical recipes.

If you have a favorite recipe which is easy to follow, and gives perfect results almost every time, why don't you enter it in the recipe contest which begins officially on Nov. 17, with the publication of a favorite recipe and an award of $5 to its contributor?

Send your good recipe to the Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and let us consider it for one of the daily prizes. Type or write it legibly, in standard recipe form, and be certain that directions are complete. Number of servings or approximate amount of food which the recipe will make should be stated.

Foreign Relations Council to Hear Eugene J. Houdry.

Members of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations and of France Forever will join hands today in welcoming Eugene J. Houdry, founder and president of the latter organization, to the Grand ballroom of the Palmer House, where he will make a luncheon address before the council. During the 12:30 o'clock luncheon Mr. Houdry will sit at the speaker's table with Richard Bentley, president of the council, and Chicago oil executives and business men who will find the speaker's subject of "Oil and the War" of especial interest. Mrs. Bentley will entertain Mrs. Houdry at a smaller table.

From Ann Arbor, Mich., comes word of the engagement of Miss Miriam Westerman to Lieut. Rowland Hazard McLaughlin of Chicago and Fort Monmouth, N. J., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Rowland H. McLaughlin. After the death of his parents, Lieut. McLaughlin made his home with his grandparents, Dr. Andrew C. McLaughlin, formerly of the University of Chicago faculty, and the late Mrs. McLaughlin.

The engagement was announced at a luncheon by Miss Westerman's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth N. Westerman of Ann Arbor. Miss Westerman is a junior at the University of Michigan. Her fiancé received his degree last June from the electrical engineering department of the university, where his great-grandfather, the late Dr. James Burrell Angell, was president. Lieut. McLaughlin now is stationed at Fort Monmouth with the United States army signal corps.

From Palestine, Tex., comes word of the marriage on Saturday of Miss Jeannette Hickox, daughter of Norman B. Hickox of Evanston and the late Mrs. Hickox, to John Franklin Bradford. The former Miss Hickox has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Winfield Prior of Palestine. The ceremony took place in Dallas, Tex., and was performed by the Rev. Frank W. Longham, an old friend of the bridegroom's. Included in the small circle of wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur James Lindsley of Chicago. After a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., Mr. and Mrs. Bradford will be at home after Nov. 15 in Palestine.

Nicholas Pooles' First Child Born at Passavant.

The Nicholas Pooles' first child, a ten and a half pound son, was born on Friday in the Passavant hospital. Mrs. Poole's parents [she is the former Peggy Porter], Mr. and Mrs. Fitz John Porter of New York and New Canaan, Conn., are here to make the new baby's acquaintance. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Poole.

A busy two days are in store this week for Chicagoans who have met the Archduke Otto of Austria on his privious visits here, for the young nobleman is passing thru the city on his way west and will be entertained at receptions on Thursday evening and Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. William D. Saltiel and Mr. and Mrs. Fredrik A. Chramer have issued cards for a reception at 4 o'clock on Friday in the Kungsholm restaurant, in the old Leander McCormick home.

Thursday's party, to which exiled countrymen of the archduke will be invited, is to be given by the Friends of Austria, a nonpolitical group organized last spring to preserve the cultural phases of Austria. The reception will be at the Stevens hotel.

Don't Force a Child to Stay at the Table

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

They were entertaining John's best girl at dinner for the first time. Every one had finished the delicious cream of mushroom soup except John's girl, but, perhaps, thought John's mother, it's taking her this interminable time because we've been talking so much.

Then the roast came on. Again every one had long finished. And I used to believe Aunt Louise to be the slowest eater in the world, thought mother; but still the young guest was scarcely more than half thru. Seemingly, she grew more and more at home in the easy atmosphere of the Brown family, for at last she said:

"I suppose you're all frantic, waiting for me. I don't believe I could eat faster if I had to, because I've always tried to use up time by eating slowly. You see, my grandfather, who was brought up in Europe, believed in spending hours at the table, and he never would let his sons and daughters leave until all the grownups had finished. My father did the same thing with us. He said it was good practice in self-control. I've spent thousands of hours, it seems to me, sitting at the table when I just thought I'd go crazy if I couldn't get down and play and read, or at least change my position. And now, when I go out, I'm so embarrassed because I keep every one waiting."

This "true story" doesn't depict a situation that is often as extreme as this, but there are many parents who will not allow their children, regardless of age, to leave the table, no matter how long the meal or how prolonged the talk may become. They consider it a definite discourtesy for a child to do so.

Nine times out of 10 this is expecting too much of a child, altho of course, one has to use judgment and take the age of the child and the kind of social occasion into consideration. At family dinners one way of management may be followed; at party dinners, another. When the service is to be formal or slow, or a child can't be included in the conversation, or some other factor will make it a trial for him, a child may be fed first and appear later, or be excused for a time during the progress of the meal. One has to consider a child's comfort and also his sense of courtesy, as well as the pleasure and comfort of the guests and family. Each mother must work it out for herself. I believe no hard and fast rule can be laid down for these things. Common sense should supply the answer.

Shun the Boyish Togs and Return to Femininity

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

It is rumored that at least one outstanding designer on the west coast is up in arms against the sloppy sweaters, "beanies," bobby socks, and heavy shoes. Howard Shoup considers the boyish togs an abomination, and particularly so now that boys in the armed services come home on leave and wish to take back a mental picture of their girl friends in attractive garb.

"So," says Shoup, "we must get the girls out of the habit of stealing styles from the men, and back to the feeling for truly feminine clothes."

Dressing the cute and very young Joan Leslie as of school girl age, he puts her into smart, one-piece frocks topped by full-length coats. For a football rally, he has her wear a full-skirted, brown wool dress which would be appropriate for almost any occasion. The coat is a honey biege corduroy. And her shoes are dainty and her stockings of sheerest chiffon.

Boutonnieres of the Season

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Poinsettias and grapes are ideal boutonnieres for this time of year. Crocheted ones are especially desirable, since they do not wilt and withstand the elements well. This group of three offers variety which is hard to beat, is easy to make, and is, above all, inexpensive.

For instructions in crocheting the poinsettias and grapes, No. 1004, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

LAST MONDAY'S QUESTION.

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 heart	2 spades
Pass	?

You are South, and hold:

♠Q 7 5 ♥A 6 5 2 ♦A 10 9 ♣Q 10 8

Answer: Three hearts. You passed originally with this hand, which is just short of an opening bid. North, by making a single jump overcall, vulnerable, has shown a powerful hand. It now is up to you to make the strongest safe bid at your command, and that is a cue bid in the opponents' suit. You have first round control of that suit, a fit in partner's spades, and considerable other strength. No other bid can be so revealing. [No demerit for incorrect answer, but 15 points credit for the proper answer.]

TODAY'S QUESTIONS.

Question 26: Both sides vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	3 diamonds	Pass

You are South, and hold:

♠A Q 6 3 ♥K 5 4 2 ♦A Q ♣K 8 5

What call do you make?

Question 27: North-South vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

West	North	East	South

You are South, and hold:

♠7 5 ♥5 3 2 ♦A K J 4 ♣A 9 7 6

What call do you make?

TODAY'S HAND.

♣7 5

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 heart	2 clubs	Pass	5 diamonds
Pass	Pass	Pass

North's two club overcall was pretty sketchy.

West opened the heart king and, when the singleton appeared in dummy, shifted to a low spade. Declarer took East's queen with the ace, ruffed a heart, and drew one round of trumps. Then, apparently feeling that he should leave one trump in dummy [for what purpose I cannot say], declarer led a club and, when West ducked [improperly], he finessed the nine spot, East winning with the queen.

If East, with superficial analysis, had returned a spade in the hope that West had the king, declarer could not have missed. He would have won with the king, drawn trumps, and then led another club. East, however, did not miss the opportunity so kindly extended to him by the declarer. He returned a club and declarer, too late, realized how foolish he had been to leave any trumps outstanding. West's club king forced the ace, and now there was nothing declarer could do to avert defeat. Another club lead, with the discard of a spade, would lose to a ruff, whereas to draw the outstanding trumps would leave South with a losing spade.

Tomorrow's Hand.

Bringing Up Gifted Child Is a Problem

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The problem of bringing up a talented child of 8 is a headache for any mother. It is even more complicated when your offspring is a star in a Broadway show, we gathered from a talk with the mother of Lorna Lynn.

The mothers of all bright children, in Mrs. Lynn's judgment, have a special problem in inducting their youngsters into the important phase of living—namely: teamwork and coöperation. The tendency for the superbright youngster is to shy away from youngsters her own age, or be shied away from, preventing the association from which the principles of teamwork and coöperation are most quickly and painlessly learned, and at the age when its teaching is most vital.

To consider other people, to coöperate with other people, are, in Mrs. Lynn's judgment, important lessons to be taught early. These youngsters are going to be working and playing with others for the rest of their lives.

Notre Dame Proves It's Plenty Good.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

By its victory over Navy in Baltimore on Saturday, Notre Dame has leaped to the van of the nation's great football teams. Few will deny that Minnesota, Texas, and Notre Dame are first flight squads and on the outcome of this week's battle between the Irish and Northwestern, with an opportunity for comparison with Minnesota by the common denominator of Northwestern, largely rests the final position of the Irish team.

In some phases of football this 1941 Notre Dame team ranks with any in the history of the university. Its excellence was conclusively demonstrated against a Navy squad that had power, two fine open field runners, and an advantage in reserves.

Bertelli Not the Least.

Notre Dame's victory over Navy was based on these factors: [1] Condition, [2] team speed, [3] Dippy Evans' punting, and [4] Angelo Bertelli's forward passing.

These factors are so related that loss of one of them easily could reduce Notre Dame to the level of mediocrity. The question of playing condition can be covered in one sentence. The team now is at a peak physically so that any one man can be a 60 minute player. Evans played without relief against Navy. Bertelli and Bob Maddock, left guard, missed only a few plays, while Bob Walsh was in the game for kickoff assignments. Playing condition also has warded off serious injury. Nineteen Notre Dame players participated in the Navy game. Navy used 28 and to some extent was penalized for the belief that its second line was as efficient as the first team line.

They Have Speed to Burn.

Notre Dame's starting eleven Saturday was the fastest group we have seen this year. The team speed was so great that such players as Evans and Steve Juzwik did not run over their interference. Wally Ziemba, center who backs up the right side of the Notre Dame line, is unusually speedy for a big man. So are Capt. Paul Lillis and Jim Brutz, the tackles. Bernie Crimmins' speed for blocking and his back field defensive experience have made him a great guard.

Pass catching ability is so widely distributed that Saturday six Notre Dame men handled the 12 passes Bertelli completed. These six men played four of the five eligible pass positions, left end, quarter back, full back, and right half back. Bill Earley caught two passes while he was substituting for Juzwik at right half. Juzwik caught one. Evans, full back, caught three passes. Harry Wright, quarter back, caught two, and Matt Bolger and Bob Dove, left ends, also caught two passes each.

Great Punting by Evans.

Notre Dame might have been whipped by Navy if it had been unable to match the Midshipmen's great punting. Evans punted nine times and recapitulation shows these kicks carried 420 yards, an average of more than 46 yards a kick. Equally important, Navy never came close to blocking a punt and Navy receivers returned only fifty yards for an average of a bit more than five yards.

All of which brings this account to Bertelli. Veteran newspaper men in Baltimore unanimously agreed that Bertelli's passing was the best they had seen by a sophomore. It was pointed out that Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian, Benny Friedman and Harry Newman of Michigan, Cecil Isbell of Purdue, and others in the last two decades never established comparable records as sophomores. We immediately add that the performance should be the envy of a senior.

Here Is Bertelli's Record.

Bertelli now has attempted 89 passes in seven games. He has completed 52 for a net gain of 713 yards. Eight have been intercepted, and the interception Saturday by Alan Cam-

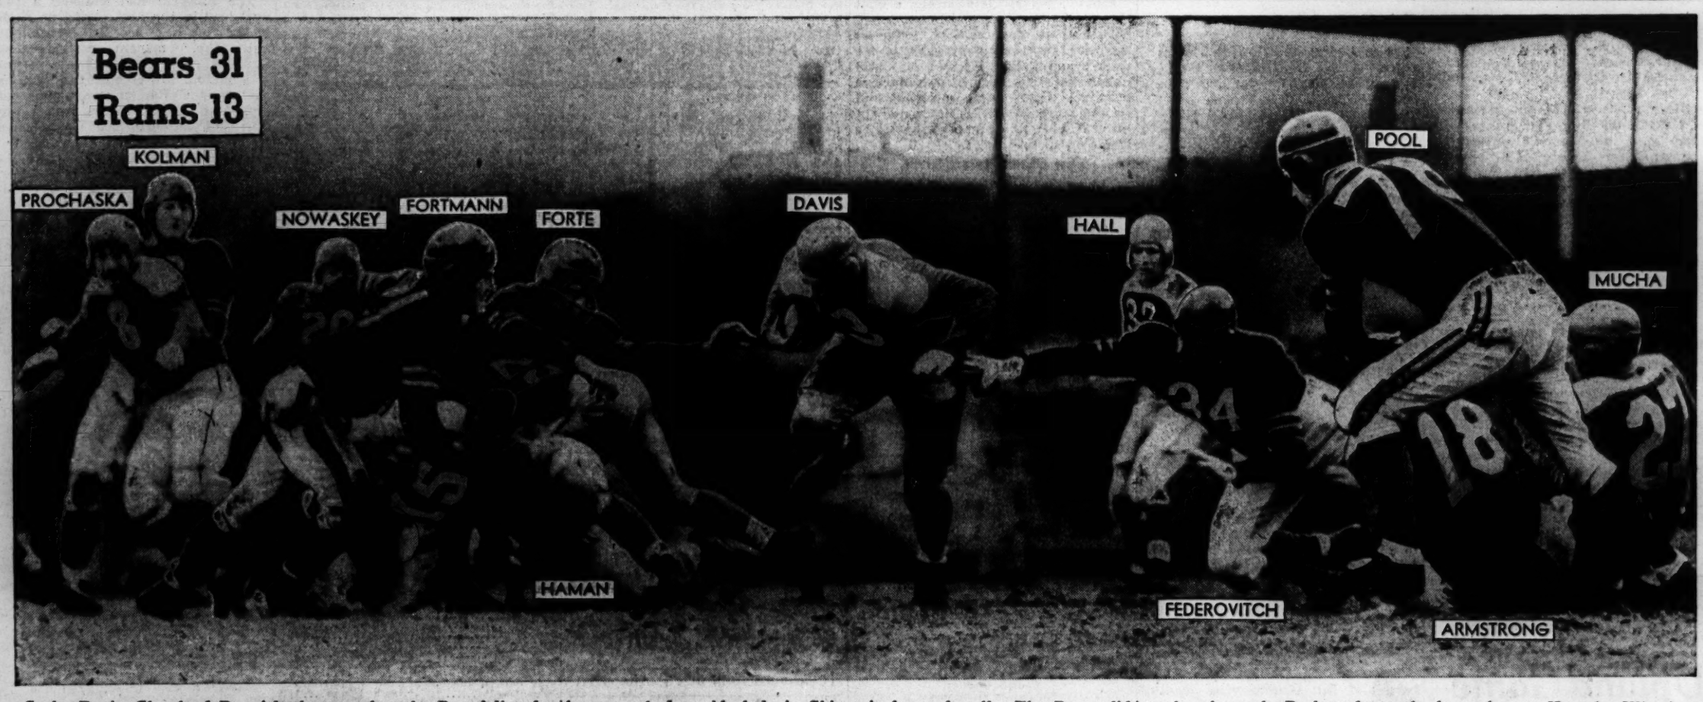
A RAM BACK HAS NO TROUBLE RAMMING BEARS' LINE THIS TRIP



Corby Davis, Cleveland Rams' back, goes thru the Bears' line for five yards in first quarter of yesterday's National Football league game in Wrigley field. Davis gets excellent assistance from teammates who have punched a wide hole in Chicago's forward wall. The Bears did not get rolling until the second quarter, and found the passing of Parker Hall a threat thruout the game. Victory enabled the Bears to close in on the Packers, league leaders, who met Kenosha, Wis., in an exhibition game yesterday. A crowd of 18,102 saw the Bears set a league offensive record of 24 first downs. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The Bears, in their foreign rôle of chasing the leader, gained a lap on Green Bay's Packers in the frigid atmosphere of Wrigley field yesterday. Tho the Cleveland Rams, deep in the National Football league cellar, were more than somewhat annoying, the champions rolled on to a 31 to 13 victory.

This triumph had some of the component parts which earlier in the year put the Bears on the pedestal off which they were tumbled last week by Curley Lambeau's men of the north. The 18,102 chilled customers were warmed a couple of times by two of George [One Play] McAfee's hair raising runs. The first one set up the champions' second touchdown and the other ended the day's scoring.

Redskins Out of Eastern Lead.

It was the Bears' sixth victory in seven games, and they still have scored one less triumph than the Packers, who have won seven out of eight. This brings the Bears face to face with their last home game of the season next Sunday against Washington, which yesterday was knocked out of the eastern division lead by Brooklyn. The Packers warmed up in an exhibition game in Kenosha yesterday for next week's contest with the Cardinals.

The Bears, in victory, did not play with their early season dash and were given a much harder battle than in their first game with the Rams in Cleveland. In fact, the first two times the Bears had the ball they fumbled. It wasn't until late in the first quarter they finally found themselves, three straight passes by Sid Luckman putting them in a position to start the scoring early in the second quarter.

The Bears scored in two plays in the second period, picked up another touchdown after the succeeding kickoff, and tossed in a field goal by Lee Artoe, his first of the season, for 16 points in the period. The Rams, with Parker Hall in his best pitching form of the season, had 7 points when the half ended.

Rams Cut Into Lead.

The Bears built up their lead to 22 to 7 early in the third quarter, then again fell before Hall's passing magic, and it was 22 to 13 when the period ended with the Rams still making threatening gestures on passing and Corby Davis' powerful runs. The Ohioans caused more apprehension when they drove to the champions' 5 yard line shortly after the last period opened. But the Bears withstood a passing attack, then took command with an extra touchdown and a field goal.

For the third time this season the Bears set a league offensive record. They made 24 first downs—14 by rush-

QUAIL, PHEASANT, RABBIT SEASONS START AT SUN-UP

BY BOB BECKER.

A distinct odor of burned [but not noiseless] shotgun powder will be wafted across the fields of Illinois shortly after sunup this morning when thousands of pheasant, rabbit and quail hunters let go with their shotguns on the annual opening day hunt of the 1941 upland game season. Starting this morning the hunters who like to go after pheasants will have 10 days for their sport.

The sportsmen should find plenty of ringnecks in most of the hunting areas, but the birds in some northern Illinois localities may not be in their usual haunts because thousands of acres of weedy sloughs and cornfields have been flooded by recent heavy rains.

Water, Water Everywhere.

When we traveled thru some of the pheasant country in northern Illinois a few days ago, we found fields in which a hunter needed waterwings or a boat to navigate. In fact, many fields were more desirable for duck hunting than upland game shooting because of the presence of so much water which even has put some harvesting equipment in the low fields out of commission.

The presence of water in many sloughs and fields will put a different slant on hunting tactics this morning. Hunters and their dogs will be forced to look for birds and rabbits on higher ground. But the hunting army that is scheduled to swing thru northern Illinois fields for this big opening day shotgun party hardly will be able to escape the water because, after the opening barrages, the ringnecks are apt to head for the wettest sloughs to hide from the gunners.

Wardens Will Be on Job.

Coincidentally with the opening of the upland game season this morning, the Illinois conservation department's plan to deputize 1,500 sportsmen as volunteer game wardens will be put into effect.

Conservation Director Livingston E. Osborne said Saturday that about 200 of the part-time wardens, each of whom will receive $1.00 per year, already had been appointed and would be in the field today carrying out their duties. The special deputies, with all the police powers of regular wardens, will make it possible to keep a much closer check on compliance

Iowa's Farmer Is Quite a Baseball Player, Too

Master Thomas Farmer, the University of Iowa half back who can throw a baseball, Saturday afternoon got around to throwing a football equally as well. Thomas' pitching was interwoven with all of the 21 points with which the Hawkeyes overpowered an Illini eleven in Champaign by just that total.

Tom Farmer.

The folks in Iowa City are well aware that Thomas can flip a baseball about. Otto Vogel, the Iowans' baseball coach, states he hasn't seen a collegian around second base who can set up double plays like the 20 year old Cedar Rapids blond can, and it doesn't matter whether he's working at second or at shortstop.

As a football sophomore, Tom looked like the greatest football player that ever lived—in practice. At least that's the story you could hear any Friday evening practice session at Iowa field. Then there came a suspicion that a real ball game was something else again. He couldn't seem to connect on his throws, not quite attaining the knack of "hanging" a pass. It appeared that Tom was still throwing a football in baseball fashion—that is, too hard.

Carideo Explains It.

If this would indicate that Thomas is a morning glory or gymnasium fighter, you are sadly mistaken. Let Frank Carideo, one time Notre Dame great, who is now an assistant at Iowa, explain the situation:

"Don't let any one tell you that Tom got stage fright when he entered a real ball game. The boy isn't afraid of anything. It often happens, and quite naturally, that a passer can look good in practice, but will look none too good in actual contest. The great thing about Farmer is that he thinks. He's been willing to conquer his weakness on passing by learning and, as far as I'm concerned, this Illinois game proved it. He's a fine punter, and as far as running is concerned, he showed his stuff against Illinois on that last touchdown."

Farmer himself, a quiet young man, ascribed much of his success at passing to the instruction given him by Carideo and Nile Kinnick, hero of Iowa's 1939 wonder team.

A Cedar Rapids Boy.

Tom's baseball talents are such that he has been eyed by such major league teams as the Cubs, the Tigers, and the Indians. He is majoring in physical education, and, altho he has not been approached by any baseball team, he would like to play the game professionally after he is graduated in 1943.

Tom starred at football and basketball at Cedar Rapids' Wilson high and, while Wilson didn't have baseball in its sport schedule, he found plenty of diamond activity on the Cedar Rapids American Legion nine which won the state title and was doing nicely in the national regionals until it ran into Pitcher Johnny Drish, who shut out the Iowans for Berwyn, Ill., and then went on to further athletic fame at Illinois.

DUQUESNE BEATS ST. MARY'S, 9 TO 0; STAYS UNBEATEN

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 9 (AP).—Duquesne's Fighting Dukes battered a bulkier St. Mary's football team into submission today to score a 9 to 0 victory and retain their status as one of the four remaining unbeaten, untied major college teams of the country.

It increased the victory string of the eastern squad to 12 straight, a record that had its beginning after the third game of last season, when Mississippi came out on the long end of a 14 to 6 count.

The Dukes, outweighed but decidedly not outplayed, settled down to business as they came out for the start of the third period. They received the kickoff, and in eight plays scored a touchdown. John Rokisky, left end who usually kicks accurately with the aid of a special kicking toe, had his effort blocked. After an exchange of punts Rokisky kicked from thirty-two yards out. The ball sailed thru the uprights for a field goal, and the Dukes had nine points.

PGA MEETS TODAY TO SELECT 1942 RYDER CUP TEAM

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The 25th annual national convention of the Professional Golfers' Association of America, an organization which has contributed to sports interest from one of the world's great match play events, thru stimulus of competition, and on to benefit matches, will open today in the Medinah club, 505 North Michigan avenue.

The annual assembly of the men who teach you and you and you how to play golf will continue thru Thursday. The highlights of the four day gathering are expected to include the following:

1. Selection of the 1942 Ryder cup team by the executive committee. This action will transpire today, the committee working on the recommendations made by a committee consisting of Ed Dudley of Philadelphia, chairman; Billy Burke of Cleveland, O.; Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, and Leo Diegel of Philadelphia. The American Ryder cup team hasn't had any competition with Great Britain since 1937 because of the war, but it has been one of sport's best supporters in special competition for the Red Cross and USO funds.

Walsh Doesn't Choose to Run.

2. Election of a new president. Tom Walsh of Chicago's Westgate Valley club, who served three years as national secretary before fulfilling the presidency for the 1940 and 1941 terms, has declared that he will not be a candidate for reëlection, in spite of a heavy pressure directed in favor of his continuance in office. The presidential race appears to be wide open, with Frank Sprogell of Grand Rapids, Mich., the present secretary; Dudley, the PGA tournament chairman; Willie Maguire of Houston, Tex., national treasurer, and Alex Cunningham of North Shore, Illinois president, ticketed as leading candidates. The election will be decided Wednesday morning.

3. The annual educational conference tomorrow afternoon and the annual dinner in the Medinah club tomorrow night. The public, incidentally, is invited to attend the latter function. The educational conference will include a number of talks relative to golf factors beyond the playing side, climaxed by the report which Joe Novak, chairman of the teaching committee, compiled during the national tournament in Denver in

SMILIN' JACK—DROWNED OUT

Christie Meets Joyce Tonight at Marigold

Willie Joyce will resume his bid for recognition as Illinois' No. 1 lightweight contender in a 10 round bout against Ted Christie of New York in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight. Willie will be making his first appearance since Sept. 24, when he beat Quentin [Babe] Breese. This achievement kept the Negro boxer's 1941 record clear and marked his fourth triumph of the year.

Christie, who demonstrated hitting power in knocking out Joe Law and defeating Bobby Root in previous Chicago starts, weighs only 131 pounds. For that reason Joyce agreed to make 135 pounds this evening.

Tony Motisi, 1938 Catholic Youth organization welterweight champion, will make his first appearance in a year in a six round semi-windup against George Silvasey of Pittsburgh. A five round event will pit Vince Calzaretta, west side light heavyweight, against Henry Jones, Detroit Negro. Four round contests will bring together George Mericka, middleweight, also of Detroit, and Luther Brent and Johnny O'Brien, Calumet City 165 pound fighter, and Stanley Murczek.

Due to an error in transmission Jimmy Crow, Danville welterweight, was reported to have beaten Bud Ryan in a five round amateur bout in Madison A. C. last Friday. Ryan won the match. . . . A wrestling show will be offered this evening in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Additional mat cards will be presented in Ashland auditorium tomorrow and Rainbo Fronton Wednesday. Engagements in the Ashland arena will be between Maurice [The Angel] Tillet and Joe Savoldi, Ed [Strangler] Lewis and Ole Olson, Emil Dusek and Billy Bartush, Hans Steinke and Dick Stahl, and Steve Savage and Jack Zarovich. Myron Cox and Karol Krauser are principals in a windup encounter in the Fronton.

Indiana Season Opens, Too.

Another restriction that hunters are being asked to keep in mind has to do with the number of shells permitted in a shotgun used for rabbit and pheasant hunting. Only three-shell shotguns are permitted—the same as for waterfowl hunting.

In addition to the 150,000 to 200,000 hunters who are expected in the fields this week in Illinois, Indiana is ready for an army of 250,000 opening day hunters. The Indiana season on pheasants also gets under way this morning and continues for 10 days.

Rabbits—Nov. 10 to Jan. 15; daily bag limit 10, possession limit 20.

Jazbo's Journal.

I see where Mrs. Roosevelt is thinking of taking up bicycling just for the exercise. Well, maybe a little twirl around the block on a bike wouldn't do a bit of harm to a homebody like her who hardly ever gets to stick her nose out the front door.

When the picture showed here recently I asked a friend if he intended to see "A Yank in the R. A. F." "I can't afford it," he replied. "I'm just a jerk in the P. W. A."

Irish Step Up in Rank; N. U. Test Is Next

eron was the first that has resulted in a touchdown for the enemy.

Bertelli has been given unusually fine blocking. He has several fine receivers, as we pointed out, and Evans and Juzwik can take passes in the flat territory or at the line of scrimmage and pile up yardage by their running.

Finally, Bertelli is accurate, a skill that permits him to throw much harder than most passers, since an accurate pass can be caught under these conditions. Bertelli is cool under fire. His failure to lead Dove permitted Cameron to intercept and tie the score. But this error did not prevent Bertelli from pitching Notre Dame to victory later.

This Hardly Is an Error.

The other interception charged against Bertelli Saturday was a break in luck since the pass hit the receiver and then bounded high in the air. Bertelli also was charged with a fumble in the third period when he was tackled and the ball knocked from his hand just before he threw.

Against Navy Bertelli completed 12 passes for 232 yards in 18 attempts. There were two interceptions and four passes were ruled incomplete. One of these was caught just out of bounds on the west sideline.

Spartas Held to 2 to 2 Tie by Nickeloids

BY OFFSIDE.

The American Nickeloids of Dalzell, Ill., held the Sparta Ogden Dairy team to a 2 to 2 tie yesterday in a major league soccer match in the Sparta stadium before 1,000 chilled spectators. The Nickeloids scored in the first half minute when Joey Werler, in making a faulty clearing, allowed William Guerrini to hook the ball into the net from three yards.

The Spartas rallied and tied the score at the 18 minute mark when Baba Vicek sent a forward pass to Jimmy MacDermott who scored from 5 yards. The Nickeloids came back to take the lead four minutes later when A. Bernabei ran past the Sparta backs to shoot past Joe Clivosky from 10 yards.

There was no further scoring until 20 minutes of the second half when Werler of the Spartas redeemed his early bad play by placing nicely for MacDermott to kick into the net to tie the score. The tie puts the Nickeloids only one point behind the leading Spartas. Next week the Spartas meet the Weston United of Winnipeg, Canada, in a war relief match in the Sparta stadium. Lineups:

PGA to Name '42 Ryder Cup Squad Today

Announce Winter Schedule.

Two important resolutions expected to be taken up during the course of the meeting are those directed at unseemly behavior, if any, by competitors in PGA sponsored tournaments, and several changes in tournament patterns. Of these latter, the vital transformations would involve minimum purses of $5,000, complete supervision of events by Fred J. Corcoran, PGA tournament manager who has been reappointed on a three year contract basis, reduction of tournament fields to 150 players in the interest of speeding up play, and a playoff setup for 50 per cent of the gate, in addition to the regular prize money.

Corcoran yesterday announced the complete schedule for the winter tour, opening with the Mid-South in Pinehurst, N. C., tomorrow. The aggregate purse for the four month winter and spring swing, concluding with the Masters' in Augusta, Ga., will total more than $100,000. The schedule follows:

Nov. 11-14, Mid-South Open, Pinehurst, N. C.
Dec. 11-14, Miami Open	$10,000

Last Night's Results.

N. Y. Rangers, 3; Detroit, 1.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 9 (AP).—The New York Rangers seized the National Hockey league lead tonight before a sellout crowd of 12,286 by defeating the Detroit Red Wings, 3 to 1. Lynn Patrick scored two goals in the second straight Ranger victory.

Jim Henry, making his second major league start in the Ranger nets, operatoed spectacularly behind a stalwart defense and missed a shutout early in the third period when Center Don Grosso lifted a rebound over his shoulder for Detroit's lone score.

Patrick Adds Clincher.

The Rangers had grasped a two goal lead in the first period on shots by Patrick and big Ott Heller but, with their margin perlied after Grosso's goal, Patrick again swung into action. Intercepting a pass at midice, the Ranger manager's son outskated Eddie Wares across the blue line and deftly beat Goalie Johnny Mowers.

Patrick's clincher came while the Rangers had Babe Pratt in the penalty box, and the Blue Shirts ably protected their margin to the finish.

Rookie Makes 30 Saves.

The 21 year old Henry performed with the poise of a veteran in kicking 30 shots, many of them difficult, out of the cage. Mowers, prize rookie goalie of last year, meantime made only eight saves while permitting three shots to trickle thru him.

In the first period a free-for-all broke out in front of the Detroit cage with Mowers coming out with stick flying to participate, but officials restored order and handed out minor penalties to Jack Stewart and Heller. Lineup:

Leo advanced a step closer to its fifth appearance in Mayor Kelly's Christmas charity game Nov. 29 against the Chicago Public High School league title winners by defeating Catholic High of Joliet, 20 to 0, on the Joliet field yesterday for the south section crown in the Catholic league.

Fenwick and St. Ignatius both won their games in the north section, and will meet next Sunday afternoon for the right to play Leo in the championship game Nov. 23. In chalking up their fifth straight victories, Fenwick routed St. Patrick, 25 to 0, and St. Ignatius turned back Weber, 18 to 0.

In other league encounters, De La Salle shut out Mount Carmel, 20 to 0, and St. Rita won by the same margin from St. Philip.

Baranowski—20 Points.

Henry [Babe] Baranowski paced Leo to victory by scoring all 20 points, three touchdowns and two points after touchdowns, to bring his total for the league season to 81. A crowd of 2,500 watched him race the opening kickoff back seventy yards for his first tally. A short time later a forty-six yard drive was terminated when Baranowski skirted left end from the 5 yard stripe. After the intermission he scored on a plunge from the 1 yard line.

St. Patrick held Fenwick scoreless during the first period, but Fenwick scored two touchdowns in the second period to take a 12 to 0 lead at half time. Angelo Provenzano ran twenty yards, and then laterated to Don Dillon, who crossed over from the 7 yard stripe. Maurie White was on the receiving end of a twenty yard pass thrown by Dillon, and ran forty-five yards down to the 2 before he was brought down. He went over on a quarter back sneak for the second marker.

Blocked Kick Sets Up Score.

A blocked kick set up the third touchdown. Fenwick took over on the 25, moved the ball down to the 2, and Provenzano plunged over. In the final period Right Half Back Higgins gained thirty yards in five attempts and Dillon went over from the 5.

St. Ignatius made two touchdowns in the first and added another in the third to win from Weber. Joe Wenskus, Frank Spina, and Ed Fiorella registered the points. Spina made a twenty-five yard run and Wenskus tossed a twenty yard pass to Fiorella, who ran twenty more yards for another of the touchdowns. Lineups:

Football Player Breaks Leg; Doesn't Know It

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 9 (AP).—Charles L. Willoughby of Flint, Mich., who started as full back for Yale against Cornell Saturday, suffered a broken right leg in the game, but the injury was not discovered until today when an X-ray examination was made. The break was just below the knee and the bone remained "in perfect position," Dr. Robert B. Seabury said, and the only treatment needed was to apply a cast.

DODGERS DEFEAT REDSKINS; KEEP UP TITLE HOPES

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers threw the eastern division race of the National Football league into a scramble today as they kept alive their own hopes with a 13 to 7 victory over the Washington Redskins.

The largest crowd of the Ebbets field season, 31,713, saw the Dodgers hand the Redskins their second setback while chalking up their third straight triumph to leave them with a record of five victories and three defeats. The setback shoved the Redskins into second place, half a game back of the New York Giants, who beat Detroit.

Ace Parker Leads Way.

The Dodgers, with Ace Parker dominating the play, completely outplayed the Redskins but had their backs to the walls in the closing minutes as Sammy Baugh cut loose with a powerful passing attack that carried almost the length of the field. Bill Leckonby stopped the threat by intercepting one of Sammy's aerials on the 12 yard line in the final seconds.

STEELERS TIE EAGLES

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 9 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Steelers, losers of seven games in the National Football league, put on a second half rally today to tie the Philadelphia Eagles, 7 to 7, before 15,601 at Shibe park. The Steelers scored on Art Jones' 25 yard end run in the third period after Jim Castiglia's 47 yard run gave the Eagles their touchdown in the opening quarter.

Two penalties nullified two long Pittsburgh gains in the last quarter and cost the Steelers an opportunity for victory. Alan Donelli's 30 yard run to the Eagles' 35 yard line was called back because of holding and in the closing minutes a 50 yard gain to the Eagles' 12 yard line on Jones' interception of Tommy Thompson's aerial and a lateral to Dick Bassi was erased for interference.

Under New Coach.

Playing their first game under their new head coach, Walt Kiesling, who will coach the team thru the 1942 season, the Steelers threw back three Eagle threats in the first half on their 24, 27 and 36 yard lines. Midway in the final period a fourth Eagle threat ended on the Steelers 30 where James Castiglia failed to make first down by inches.

Pittsburgh threatened only once in the first half. Boyd Brumbaugh ran back the opening kickoff fifty-five yards to the Eagles' 40, where he was caught from behind by Bob Krieger. But the Eagles held for downs on their 34. Lineup:

ing, 8 by passing, and 2 by penalty. Earlier in the season the Packers had made 22 first downs against the Rams to break the old mark. The Bears set ground and pass gaining records in their 53 to 7 rout of the Cardinals. The Bears divided their 448 yards yesterday by getting 247 on rushing and 201 on passing.

After the first kickoff the Bears got possession on their own 45 yard line when Harry Clark tipped a pass by Owen Goodnight into Luckman's hands. Gary Famiglietti, who started the game at full back, fumbled on the first play and Riley Matheson, Cleveland guard, recovered. After Goodnight's kick rolled to the Bears' 13 yard line, the champions started their first drive and it ended dismally on the 1 yard line.

Stopped a Yard Away.

Famiglietti made the first two of the four first downs during the march on power plays, with the help of Hugh Gallarneau and Harry Clark. Then Clark raced down the middle twelve yards to the Rams' 23. Gallarneau turned his own right end for eight yards, then made five over his own right guard. After Clark was held, Gallarneau drove to the 5 yard line. Famiglietti could move it up only a yard and Gallarneau was stopped a yard from the goal line.

The Bears allowed the Rams to work their way out when they were offside on a punt, and a quick kick later gave the Bears possession on their 45. Here the first scoring drive started. Luckman passed to Dick Plasman to the Rams' 37 and the big end fought his way to the 29. Another pass to Plasman was ruled complete on interference on Cleveland's 14 yard line. Hampton Pool took a pitch for four yards as the quarter ended.

Bob Snyder, who replaced Luckman at the start of the second quarter, gave the ball to Bill Osmanski, who plunged for six yards thru center. On the next play Osmanski took a lateral and went over his own right side standing up. Snyder's kick was blocked.

Swisher Starts Next Surge.

The Rams' great full back, Johnny Drake, was hurt returning the kickoff and was forced to leave the game after participating in only one play. Bob Swisher took a punt back to the Bears' 33 yard line to start the next scoring surge.

After short gains by Osmanski, Swisher broke thru his own left guard for seventeen yards. Then McAfee, carrying the ball for the first time, bolted thru the Bears' right side, outsped Henry Rockwell, a guard, and slanted toward the west side line. At the 5 yard line he was trapped, put on the brakes, and tried to roll the rest of the distance. He finally was stopped two yards away. Osmanski went over standing up and Snyder kicked the extra point.

The Bears' offensive stalled the next time they had the ball and Davis recovered after Hall fumbled McAfee's punt on the Rams' 31. Then the Ohioans started going. Davis drove for one yard and Hall passed to Howard Hickey to the Bears' 46. After Davis took a pass from Hall to the 34, Hickey caught another aerial on the 5 yard line, jerked away from Swisher and went over. Chet Adams' kick made it 13 to 7.

Bears Settle for Field Goal.

After McAfee took the kickoff back of his goal line and came up the middle to the 23, the Bears went on the prowl again, but with the half almost over, settled for a field goal by Artoe from the 25 yard line.

The Bears scored after the third quarter kickoff without relinquishing the ball. Clark caught the kickoff on the bounce and ran forty-seven yards to the Rams' 47. A pass by Luckman to Plasman netted fifteen yards, Clark made seven on a quick opening and Famiglietti powered thru for nine yards to the Rams' 16. Clark again made seven, but the Bears just managed a first down on the 6 yard line. Gallarneau came in for Ray McLean, hit right guard and squirmed over for the score.

Plasman's kick was blocked and Clark finally captured the ball on the Rams' 40. He passed the ball into the end zone and Famiglietti almost got it.

The Rams still were stubborn about it all and scored after George Morris toted the kickoff from his 4 to the 11. Davis bolted thru center for nineteen yards and Hall raced around right end for twenty-five yards. After two line thrusts, Hall passed to Hickey, who was knocked off balance on the 5 yard line by Bulldog Turner. Hall, on second down, raced around his right end for the score and Adams' kick was blocked. The score still was 22 to 13 when the period ended.

Lahar Kicks Field Goal.

Early in the fourth quarter, after Young Bussey's passes missed connections, Harold Lahar stepped back on Cleveland's 20 yard line and made it 25 to 13 with a field goal. After the kickoff the Rams took to the air, and this is where McAfee came in again.

Osmanski intercepted Hall's pass on the Bears' 40 yard line, and pounded down the field, cutting toward the right. At the Rams' 42, Bill was hemmed in and finally spotted McAfee, who took a lateral. McAfee, tho completely surrounded by Rams, came out of the encirclement as tho he were shot out of a cannon. Running low, he soon was in the open for a forty-two yard touchdown run. This time Lahar's kick was low.

There was no more scoring, but Hall finishing off his fine performance ran sixty yards from deep in his own territory. McLean stopped this threat by intercepting Hall's pass on the Bears' goal line and speeding to his 34 yard line.

M'Millin Speaks at Wailing Wall Session Today

A thousand or more college football fans, most of them alumni of midwest schools, are expected to attend the weekly session of the Wailing Wall in the Sherman hotel at 12:30 today.

The film of the Indiana-Northwestern game will be shown. The commentator will be Coach Alvin N. [Bo] McMillin, whose Hoosiers were beaten, 20 to 14, by the Wildcats. Members of the Northwestern staff also are expected to be present.

Bears Are Finding It's a Long, Long Trail from Title to Title

Tho the Bears walked off the field yesterday with a tidy 31 to 13 decision over the Cleveland Rams, their triumph still left something to be desired, many observers thought. The Bears gave the impression of being a bit weary, which isn't at all surprising, inasmuch as they've adhered to a strict physical and mental schedule since early last August.

Acceptable as was their ability to bounce back after losing the preceding Sunday to Green Bay, 16 to 14, it was apparent that the champions have lost the finesse which characterized their early games. Their slump first was noticed in the 34 to 7 victory over Pittsburgh, in which they had many sluggish periods, despite the decisive score. This slump was accentuated when they met the strong Packers.

And yesterday, the Bears fumbled the first two times they had the ball. They were caught napping, too, on Parker Hall's well executed passes.

In the Pink Poodle room in Wrigley field, a recreational spot where the professional football folk and the sports writers gather each Sunday to replay the game which has just finished on the gridiron, conversation flowed more freely than usual last evening.

George Halas, who with James Gallagher, the Cubs' business manager, presides as an informal host, was tapping every sports writer in sight on the shoulder.

"See, I told you long ago you were building us up too much," said the Bears' owner in his most accusatory fashion. "I wish you'd stop making our players think they were supermen."

Fred Gillies, who used to play a lot of tackle for Cornell university and who later mingled with the pros as a star tackle for the Cardinals, projected his huge person into the free-for-all.

"I would like to come out and talk to three or four of the boys this week," said Fred, whose title with the Bears is that of advisory coach. Halas considers it a compliment when Fred offers to lend his aid. The latter now is a steel executive.

"All right, Fred, 9 o'clock Wednesday," barked George, as if he were giving instructions to a substitute, "and if you're late it'll cost you $50."

Taking in all the talk was Alvin [Bo] McMillin, coach of the Indiana university football team. He found the informal meeting so engrossing that he departed without taking his Crimson blanket.

Halas still insists, as he has all season, that the Bears were lucky in their early games when they rolled up such impressive scores. The victory over Cleveland raised his spirits, tho he still is worried about the long road ahead, which includes games with Washington, Detroit, Philadelphia and the Cardinals.

"Isn't that McAfee great?" Halas said that when the boys got around to talking about One-Play George's two spectacular dashes. "If we kept feeding him the ball he'd have a dozen touchdowns by now."

McAfee has scored seven touchdowns in league games.

Three of the Bears' first flight players—Norm Standlee, Ray Nolting, and Joe Stydahar, suffering from minor leg injuries, were held out of the game. Standlee, who usually is a quiet individual, pleaded to get action.

"How do you feel, Norm?" asked Halas.

"I feel great," he replied.

"That's swell," returned Halas. "You'll feel that much better next Sunday."

One of the best plays of the game was made by Homer Cole, one of the Bears' trainers. There was time for one play in the first half after the Bears had made a field goal. Lee Artoe purposely kicked out of bounds to forestall a possible touchdown return by the Rams. The ball went straight into Cole's arms as the pistol sounded ending play.

GIANTS DEFEAT LIONS, 20-13, AND RECAPTURE LEAD

Mud and Rain Fail to Halt Attack.

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—The New York Giants defeated the Detroit Lions, 20 to 13, in the mud and rain of the Polo Grounds today to climb back into first place in the eastern division of the National Football league.

With a chilled crowd of 27,875 customers cheering them on, the Giants snapped out of a two game slump by clicking for a touchdown in the first period, adding a pair of field goals and then another touchdown at the start of the final period.

The Lions looked like a good team only in spasms. While Whizzer White was in there galloping, the Lions were able to move. When White was on the bench, they just couldn't untrack, particularly in the first half, when the Giants pushed them all over the field.

The victory, coupled with the defeat of the Washington Redskins in Brooklyn, boosted the Giants to the top of the list in the east after one week in second place.

Mr. Schwenk of Washington U. Goes to Town!

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9 (AP).—There have been one man gangs in football before. But Wilson [Bud] Schwenk, Washington university's triple threat half back, is more than that. He's a gang of one man gangs.

Washington, with few other stars in the lineup and not given much of a chance in the Missouri Valley conference at the start of the season, has scored 109 points in six games so far this year. Every one of the scores has been tallied individually by Schwenk or made possible by his remarkable play.

Here's the record:

Kansas—Schwenk passed steadily down the field to the 8 yard line and then smashed off tackle for a touchdown.

Oklahoma Aggies—He ran sixty-four yards for one touchdown and passed to Al Lindow for another.

Creighton—He ran twenty-seven yards for one touchdown; passed into scoring position, then plunged four yards for the second.

Centenary—He ran eighty-two yards for the first touchdown, then passed to Lindow for the second.

Drake—In a driving rain at night, Schwenk passed twenty-five yards to Lindow for a touchdown, then recovered a Drake fumble and passed to Lindow, who scored.

Illinois college—He passed to six touchdowns; ran sixty-seven yards for the seventh; set up the eighth by running and passing to the 1 yard line and completed 31 of 48 passes for 356 yards.

Of the 17 Washington touchdowns, Schwenk personally scored six; passed to Lindow for seven; to Turley for two and to Dick Pufalt for one.

And, just to make the record complete: Three of Washington's seven extra points were kicked by Schwenk; three more were scored on his short passes to Lindow and Turley, and Schwenk held the ball for Dick Lutz, who kicked the other one.

Koenig Brau squelched Schlitz' attempt to regain the lead by winning two games and increasing their margin over Schlitz to two games, tho both teams had low totals.

ONE BROKEN LEG WORST INJURY IN HEAD ON CRASH

Tomlinson's car flipped on its side while passing a truck west of Des Moines yesterday, rolled over, bounced down the highway, and finally collided with a car driven by H. K. Steadman of Los Angeles. NATION TO LEARN OF ILLINOIS AS A GIANT FACTORY

Green Picks Group to Advertise State.

To acquaint Illinoisans and the rest of the nation with the great industrial achievement of the state, Gov. Dwight H. Green yesterday announced the appointment of the Illinois Industrial Progress commission.

Composed of industrial and financial leaders, the commission will develop a plan which long has been under consideration by Gov. Green. The chairman, Perry John Ten Hoor, Chicago attorney, said he soon will announce the commission's program. When the campaign is ready, pioneer industries will be invited to participate.

Third in Manufactures.

"Few residents of Illinois and even fewer citizens in other states realize fully this state's important contributions to the nation's development, historically and industrially," Gov. Green said.

"Illinois ranks third among the states in the value of its manufactured products, with an annual output of more than 5 billion dollars. It ranks third in agriculture products and income, with an annual cash return to farmers of nearly $600,000,000. The total value of the mineral materials produced in Illinois exceeds $350,000,000 annually. We have more miles of railroad than any state except Texas, and we lead the nation in the number of miles of hard surfaced highways."

Charles S. Davis, president of the Borg-Warner corporation, Chicago.

John L. Beven, president of the Illinois Central railroad.

E. N. Hurley Jr., president of Electric Household Utilities corporation, Chicago.

Sam Bartlett, vice president of the McJunkin Advertising company, Chicago.

Ten Hoor said that while some states boast of being the playground of the nation, Illinois is the workshop and breadbasket of the United States.

Modest Bit of Boasting.

"We are proud of our record and we intend to do a modest bit of boasting about it," he said.

The commission's program will supplement activities of the Illinois Development council, which has been publicizing the recreational facilities and scenic attractions of the state.

Morgan L. Fitch, who was president of the Chicago Real Estate board in 1940, will speak at a meeting Wednesday of the Chicago Coal Merchants association in the banquet hall of the Chicago Athletic club.

Morgan L. Fitch.

Fitch, who is vice president of the Charles Ringer company, real estate firm, has denounced excessive taxation in past addresses, centering criticism particularly on the type of taxation that penalizes one group at the expense of another. Charles P. Thompson, president of the coal merchants association, will preside at the meeting.

Ralph Budd, transportation commissioner of the advisory commission to the council of national defense, and Joseph B. Eastman, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission, will address the National Association of Shippers' Advisory Boards at the Stevens hotel tomorrow.

The National Coöperative Milk Producers' federation will open a three day convention this morning at the Congress hotel. Among speakers are Rep. August H. Ansresen, Red Wing, Minn., Howard Tolley, chief of the department of agriculture's bureau of agricultural economics, and Clifford Townsend of the department of agriculture.

T. I. Phillips, who was appointed last February as assistant to the president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, has been elected a vice president of the company.

ARNOLD TELLS HOW BIG FIRMS GET ARMS ORDERS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—Small businesses have been the chief sufferers from the effects of the rearmament program because they lack the influence with the government of the larger, more powerful concerns, Thurman Arnold, assistant United States attorney general, declared today. Arnold, who is in charge of government anti-trust prosecutions, participated in the University of Chicago Round Table discussion, broadcast from the capital.

"The government has failed to take care of the small business man during this program because of the dominance of the powerful interests," he said. "The big concerns have their Washington offices, and records show they are the ones getting most of the business."

Arnold charged that monopolistic practices on the part of various industries, aided by labor unions, has restricted production and raised prices.

Other participants on the program were Assistant Professor Neil H. Jacoby of the University of Chicago and Leo M. Cherne of the Research Institute of America.

292 Millions Are Loaned on Wheat Thru Nov. 1

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9 [Special].—Thru Nov. 1 the Commodity Credit corporation made loans on 295,156,676 bushels of 1941 wheat in a total amount of $292,212,598, the department of agriculture announced today.

Air Line Nets $599,628 for Third Quarter

Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., earned $599,628 in the third quarter, the company announced yesterday. Profit of $627,867 was indicated for the September quarter last year. The corporation's net loss for the first nine months of this year was reduced to $156,538. In the corresponding period last year TWA had a net profit of $333,601.

Jack Frye, TWA president, reported that in the first three quarters passenger revenue increased $1,865,844 over the 1940 period and that air express and freight revenue rose about 60 per cent. Air mail revenue declined $187,621, despite an increase of 1,111,993 pounds in volume because the Civil Aeronautics board revised the schedule of air mail payments.

Aided by Arms Program.

Revenue passenger miles flown in the first nine months increased to 151,341,601 miles from 114,626,186 last year. Frye attributed most of the increase in traffic to the rearmament program.

The corporation's working capital on Sept. 30 was $2,119,708. Bank loans were reduced from $1,250,000 to $750,000 during the third quarter.

American Airlines, Inc., announced yesterday it had become the first air transport company in the world to carry a million revenue passengers in less than a year. Line officials said more than a million passengers were carried between Jan. 1 and Nov. 1, compared with 870,930 during all of 1940. The line required 10 years—1927 to 1937—to carry its first million passengers.

Sterling Products Gains.

Sterling Products and subsidiaries reported net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30, was $7,261,132, after all charges, including normal income tax at rate of 30 per cent, but before provision for excess profits tax. This is equivalent to $4.17 a share on the common stock. In the corresponding nine months of 1940, earnings, also without provision for excess profits tax, were $7,230,584, or $4.15 a share.

For the quarter ended Sept. 30, net earnings were $1,907,090, or $1.10 a share.

U. S. GETS MORE GOODS ONCE SOLD TO GO ABROAD

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9 (AP).—New additions to the accumulation of war goods once consigned to foreign countries, but taken over by the United States for its armament program, were disclosed today by the treasury department.

Several weeks ago the government announced that a check of funds and assets frozen by the treasury's division of foreign fund control after nations had come under axis domination disclosed stocks of steel and several other items held in ports awaiting shipment abroad.

Morgenthau said today that investigations growing out of the first discoveries had located similar materials "valued at many millions of dollars," including copper, aluminum, ship building materials, airplane spruce, and machine tools.

653 MORE LATINS ADDED TO HULL'S TRADE BLACKLIST

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9 (AP).—The United States today extended its trade blacklist to 653 additional firms and individuals in Latin American nations. Fifty-nine names were removed from earlier lists. With today's changes there now are 1,523 firms and individuals on the list.

The list is made up of persons the government deems to be acting for the benefit of Germany or Italy and persons to whom the exportation of various materials is deemed detrimental to national defense. Exports to those on the list may be made only under government license.

Guatemala headed today's additions with 232 firms, most of them coffee or other plantations. Secretary of State Hull said limited amounts of coffee produced on these plantations would be permitted to enter the United States so that Guatemala may fill its coffee agreements.

Chicago & Eastern Illinois Bonds Are Offered for Sale

Cleveland, O., Nov. 9 (AP).—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company today invited bids on Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad company general mortgage income bonds of a face value of $495,000. The deadline is Nov. 18.

TENANTS TO BUY NOT HOME, BUT EQUITY IN TOWN

Plan Will Be Tested in New Jersey.

Audubon, N. J., Nov. 9 [Special].—A new mutual method of home buying, whereby the tenant purchases not his own dwelling, but an equity in a whole town, was nearly ready today for its first test at Audubon Park under the sponsorship of the government. Already the plan has been proposed for application to eight other preparedness housing projects in seven states.

It is known as the Westbrook plan. It was devised chiefly by Col. Lawrence Westbrook, special assistant to the federal works administrator.

Final conferences are now being conducted, after which the scheme will be tested among 500 families, mostly of shipyard workers, who moved into the units last summer. The agency thru which the community will act is the Audubon Mutual Housing corporation, incorporated under the laws of New Jersey.

Rental Agent for Government.

At present the corporation is acting as a rental agent for the government. When the mutual plan goes into operation it will act as purchasing agent for the 500 tenants.

The corporation will amortize a $1,500,000 mortgage, held on the whole village by the government, thru monthly payments from rentals paid by the tenants. The rentals range from $24 to $36 a month.

The rent each tenant pays, therefore, will not be a payment against his own property except as that is part of the whole village. What the 500 families will have at the end of the 33 year amortization schedule will be mutual ownership of the town.

When the government mortgage has been eliminated, the rentals which the owners of the town will pay will be in amounts sufficient to cover taxes, maintenance, administration, insurance, etc. The procedure, it is explained, is not like buying a home so much as like buying stock in a mutual, nonprofit corporation.

The plan calls for a crew of seven men to maintain the community. They will do outside work, such as street repairs, lawn repairs, house painting, and snow removal. They will be paid by the corporation.

Home Care Up to Tenant.

Inside the home, maintenance will be the responsibility of the tenant. Moreover, to guard against laxity in this detail, the resident manager will be given the right to inspect the properties at any time. If he should find that one family was remiss in its duties, he will have the power to order the work done at the expense of the tenant.

From their number the occupants have elected five members to the board of trustees that will manage the affairs of the mutual corporation. Four of the members will be persons not living in Audubon Park. Henry Andreas, an employé of the New York Shipbuilding corporation, is president of the board.

The government expects to use the plan in a project at South Bend, Ind.

Warns U. S. to Stop Thinking in Terms of 'Strikes as Usual'

New York, Nov. 9 (AP).—Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management, declared tonight the nation must stop thinking in terms of "strikes as usual." Hillman made it clear, however, that he did not mean abolition of the right to strike, but that the right should be held in abeyance until all government facilities of conciliation and mediation had been exhausted.

"We must be willing to concede certain privileges to the needs of defense now in order to preserve our fundamental rights for all times," he asserted.

Both Labor Factions Present.

Representatives of both factions in labor's divided camp attended the dinner meeting which was arranged to honor Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's endeavors in behalf of the underprivileged.

Upon the skills, energies, and ingenuity of free American labor, Hillman said, rested largely the hopes of free peoples "that the forces of Hitlerism will be turned back."

"American labor will not fail and dare not fail," he said. "Today it recognizes, more than ever before, that labor's bill of rights must be balanced by labor's bill of duties."

Hillman praised labor's contributions to defense which he said included coöperation with management in the problem of priorities unemployment, suggestion of new production methods and plans to convert nondefense machinery to defense uses, and its emphasizing of a need to utilize local labor and to spread armament contracts to the small business man.

OUTPUT LOSS LARGE.

Continuation of labor's policy of "strikes as usual" caused a loss of 318,940 man hours of production in armament industries last week, the National Association of Manufacturers reported yesterday. In the week ended Oct. 31 the association's figures showed a strike loss of 3,408,160 man hours.

KEENAN SERVES STOCK EXCHANGE FOR FIFTY YEARS

Thomas F. Keenan, special police officer and receptionist at the Chicago Stock exchange, expressed the belief yesterday on the eve of his 50th anniversary as an employé of the exchange that he was "good for another 10 years, at least."

Thomas F. Keenan.

Fifty years ago today Keenan, who has known nearly all of Chicago's financial leaders, started work for the exchange as a runner when 11 years old. Later he marked the New York stock quotations board for a number of years before he became ill and was given a two years' leave of absence with pay. When he returned, about 1925, he took his present job, in which he greets all persons as they enter the exchange.

Among financial leaders with whom Keenan became well acquainted was J. Pierpont Morgan, who at one time was a frequent caller at the exchange building.

NOV. 18 DEADLINE ON GOVERNMENT JOB TAX CREDIT

Employers who owe the state unemployment compensation contributions for 1937, 1939, or 1940 have only until Nov. 18 to get offset credit on federal taxes, Francis B. Murphy, state director of labor, announced yesterday.

The offset credit amounts to 81 per cent, according to Murphy. Employers who fail to pay the state by Nov. 18 will have to pay the full amount to both the state and federal governments, he said.

Murphy said that a previous announcement had incorrectly set the deadline as Nov. 19.

MARKET HOLIDAY.

United States and Canadian securities and commodity exchanges, with the exception of live stock markets, will be closed tomorrow, Armistice day. Banks also will observe the holiday. Liverpool and London exchanges will remain open.

'BIG FIVE' UNIONS ARE DETERMINED ON RAIL STRIKE

Unless President Roosevelt can effect a compromise in the wage dispute between the big five operating railroad brotherhoods and the carriers, the workers will strike about Dec. 5, labor leaders said yesterday.

They declared the outcome of the conference of the 14 non-operating unions Wednesday and Thursday on what action to take on the strike will have no effect on the big five's decision.

UNIONS STAND FIRM FOR WEST COAST STRIKE

Defy Navy Demand for Return to Jobs.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 9 [Special].—AFL building tradesmen announced tonight they would not recede from their ultimatum to walk out in a general strike tomorrow on 35 million dollars of defense projects unless wage demands were met.

The statement came in the face of a new warning that the navy could "tolerate no delay in its vital San Diego program."

A recapitulation prepared by a navy spokesman indicated that the strike would involve a dozen or more projects. It was emphasized that the work was of unusual importance because much of it was essential to the training of men in the nation's armed forces.

No Change in Navy Order.

Rear Adm. Charles A. Blakely, commandant of the 11th naval district, declared tonight there had been no change in his instructions to the strikers last Friday "to resume work on all construction at 8 a. m. tomorrow."

In reply to these instructions, authorized by the navy department, K. C. Bitter, secretary of the Building Trades council, said last night that if the navy continued to refuse the council's demand for general wage increases of $1 a day, there would be a general walkout of carpenters, electricians, tilesetters, cement finishers, iron workers, and laborers.

Would Use Civil Service Men.

City and county law enforcement officials prepared to station sheriff's deputies and police at most of the projects to try to prevent any violence.

In line with Adm. Blakely's previous announcement the navy was planning to throw civil service employés into the jobs left by the striking AFL men unless the Building Trades council ordered them back to work.

UNIONS STAND FIRM FOR WEST COAST STRIKE

Defy Navy's Demand They Return to Work.

The commandant charged that it was "apparent that labor in San Diego is being denied a full report from its leaders in the same manner in which the navy's proposal to create wage scales comparable to those in Los Angeles was withheld from publican."

According to navy sources an increase of 5 cents an hour in the wages of carpenters would bring building tradesmen in all categories to a scale equal to Los Angeles craftsmen. Moreover, the same sources declared, the navy's stand had won the approval of the AFL building trades department at a meeting in July in Washington, with the department and the Office of Production Management agreeing on a "no work stoppage program" calling for mediation of differences.

Teamsters Await Orders.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 9 (AP).—Striking members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters [AFL] awaited word from international officers today on what course to pursue in their dispute with the railway express agency here. In a sharp exchange with Daniel J. Tobin, international teamsters' president, President Roosevelt had asked that the labor leader order about 60 strikers to return to work within 48 hours and submit the dispute to an emergency board.

Tobin's reply that he would be unable to place the President's request before the union's executive board until tomorrow brought a second demand from the chief executive that the strike cease.

In the absence of any definite word from Tobin, whose headquarters are in Indianapolis, R. J. Bennett, a union organizer, said picket lines would be resumed in the morning.

Air and rail shipments at the agency, some reported to be vital to armament plants, have been tied up since Oct. 4 when the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks [AFL] struck for recognition. A collective bargaining election conducted by the National Railway Mediation board was won by the clerks and the teamsters, contending it was invalid, also struck.

Investors' Guide

MAGAZINE PUBLISHER.

I would appreciate a general review of the McCall corporation showing circulation and earnings figures. Does the company have sources of revenue other than its magazines? Does it do its own printing? Is there any foreign distribution?—M. L. R.

Answer: About 80 per cent of the McCall corporation's revenue is from magazine publication and 20 per cent is from the sale of dressmaking patterns. The principal publication is McCall's magazine. Others include the Red Book, Blue Book, and three style magazines. Dress patterns are sold thru about 4,500 department and dry goods stores in the United States on contracts. Publications are sold in Canada, Great Britain, Ireland, and Australia, subsidiaries handling distribution in the latter three countries.

The company's printing plant is in Dayton, O. Pattern factories are located in Toronto, Canada, and Sydney, Australia. McCall also has contracts to print magazines for others.

Net paid circulation of McCall's magazine has increased steadily in recent years. Sales and net income also have gained since 1937 on a yearly basis, but net income declined moderately the first six months this year. Operations have been consistently profitable.

McCall's only capitalization is 527,998 outstanding shares of no par capital stock. The initial dividend was paid in 1913, the year of incorporation, but payments were omitted from 1915 thru 1925. Dividends have been paid regularly since. Circulation of McCall's magazine, earnings, and dividends for years ended Dec. 31 follow:

1940	37,583,349	$13,515,739
1939	35,542,488	12,563,064
1938	33,992,353	11,781,290
1937	32,233,097	12,242,434
1936	30,532,351	11,788,321

	Net income.	Per share.	Dividends.
1940	$ 839,304	$1.59	$1.40
1939	739,606	1.40	1.00
1938	561,842	1.06	1.12½
1937	673,480	1.26	1.87½
1936	1,186,943	2.20	2.25

Net income for the first half of 1941 was $457,302, equal to 87 cents a share, compared with $489,665, or 93 cents, in the corresponding 1940 period. Four 35 cent quarterly distributions have been made on the capital stock this year. At the end of last year the company reported total assets of nearly $17,000,000.

SCARCE SCRAP STILL RETARDS STEEL MAKING

Cleveland, O., Nov. 9 (AP).—Only the necessity for periodical open hearth furnace repair and inability to obtain sufficient scrap stand in the way of steel output above 100 per cent of rated capacity, the magazine Steel said today:

"New records are being set in iron ore and pig iron, thus providing a broad basis for steel production if the scrap situation can be bettered," the review reported. "The latter is the major factor and looms ominously as a threat to production during the next few months. As a whole, the industry has little more than enough scrap for about 30 days' production and receipts are far short of consumption."

16 STATES EARN 58 MILLIONS PER YEAR ON ALCOHOL

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9 [Special].—The 16 states which own and operate alcoholic beverage monopolies take in an annual gross revenue of more than $264,500,000, and a profit of more than 58 million, the census bureau announced today.

The anaylsis showed that the average expenditure for spirituous liquors in the 16 states is $26.22 per family per year. Since the average family consists of 3.8 persons, according to the 1940 census, this would mean a per capita expenditure of $6.90.
